

nor in time of war, except in the manner prescribed by law.

Art. 32. That no persons except regular soldiers, mariners and marines in the service of this State, or militia when in actual service, ought in any case to be subject to or punishable by martial law.

Art. 33. That the independency and uprightness of judges are essential to the impartial administration of justice, and a great security to the rights and liberties of the people; therefore, the judges shall not be removed, except for misbehavior, or conviction in a court of law, or by the Governor upon the address of the General Assembly. Provided, That two-thirds of all the members of each House concur in such address. No judge shall hold any other office, civil or military, or political trust, or employment of any kind whatsoever, under the constitution or laws of this State, or of the United States, or any of them, or receive fees or perquisites of any kind for the discharge of his official duties.

Art. 34. That a long continuance in the executive departments of power or trust is dangerous to liberty; a rotation, therefore, in those departments is one of the best securities of permanent freedom.

Art. 35. That no person ought to hold at the same time more than one office of profit created by the constitution or laws of this State, nor ought any person in public trust to receive any present from any foreign prince or State, or from the United States, or any of them, without the approbation of this State.

Art. 36. That, as it is the duty of every man to worship God in such manner as he thinks most acceptable to Him, all persons are equally entitled to protection in their religious liberty, wherefore no person ought, by any law, to be molested in his person or estate on account of his religious persuasion or profession, or for his religious practice, unless, under the color of religion, any man shall disturb the good order, peace or safety of the State, or shall infringe the laws of morality, or injure others in their natural, civil or religious rights; nor ought any person to be compelled to frequent or maintain or contribute, unless on contract, to maintain, any place
