Morgan ROTC officers are Korea, Viet vets

Five Army officers, who have seen recent duty in Vietnam or Korea, have been assigned to the Military Science Department (ROTC) at Morgan State College, Col. Merle J. Smith announced this week.

Lt. Col. Grady A. Culpepper, of Atlanta, Ga., will serve as executive officer and instructor for Military Science IV.

He was former chief of the Command Maintenance Management Inspection Team, First Regional Headquarters Army Air Defense Command and from Feb., 1964 to March, 1965 was on active duty in Vietnam.

Maj. Charles J. Birt, of St. Petersburg, Fla., will serve as operations officer and instructor, MS III. Prior to this, Major Birt was with the First Logistics Command in Vietnam.

* * *

MAJ. Robert R. Edmonds of Church Road, Va., is assigned to Morgan as adjutant and instructor, MS II. He comes from Korea where he served as operations officer 7th, 8th, 17th Artillery 2nd Infantry Division.

Capt. Clarence Cheatham, Detroit, Mich., is newly assigned from Vietnam where he served as psychological warfare sector adviser in the 10th Division Advisory Department, Xuan Loc, Vietnam. He will be assistant operations officer and instructor, MS I.

Capt. Nicholas M. Lagatuta, Buffalo, N.Y., is assigned as supply officer and instructor, MS I. He was civilian personnel officer in Vietnam.

Maj. Jack E. Walker is leaving Morgan after serving three years as adjutant and instructor, MS III. Major Walker is being reassigned to Vietnam in November.

State to honor Newfoundland

Governor Spiro T. Agnew has issued a proclamation declaring this Wednesday as "Maryland-Ferryland Day," in a reciprocal gesture recognizing the government and the people of Canada, and the citizens of Ferryland, Newfoundland.

They, in turn, are honoring Maryland and its founder, George Calvert, the first Lord Baltimore, in ceremonies Wednesday, on the peninsula of Avalon, Newfoundland.

A plaque will be unveiled there citing George Calvert as a principal settler of Newfoundland, the site of the first attempt in 1621 by Maryland's founder to establish an American colony.

SEPT. 26

John O. Hopkins, assistant superintendent, school-community relations, Baltimore public schools, will speak at an open meeting at 8 p.m. at Baltimore Fellowship House, 3200 N. Hilton St.

THE BEGINNING Freshmen crowd around Dr. Martin D. Jenkins, Morgan president, to light their candles for the Promethean Procession. Tradition has it that if a freshman can walk around Hughes Stadium without his candle going out, he is assured of graduating.

2 new agencies join CICHA

The Commerce and Industry combined Health Appeal has voted into membership two new health agencies, the Medical Eye Bank of Maryland, Inc. and the Planned Parenthood Association of Maryland, Inc.

The action was taken Sept. 14 in a special meeting of the CICHA Board of Directors called by President Otis E. Smith.

Acceptance of the two new health agencies was recommended by the Admissions Committee following lengthy inquiry establish eligibility as required by the CICHA regulations.

This action brings to twelve the number of member agencies in the Appeal.

As required, all are the leading agencies in their respective health fields and offer to everyone in the community continuous programs of education, patient care and research.

Prayer Conference set for St. Martin's

The Prayer Committee of the Episcopal Diocese of Maryland will sponsor a Second Ecumenical Prayer Conference on Wednesday, Oct. 18 from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Church of St. Martin's in the Field, Severna Park.

The Rev. James J. O'Hara, assistant to the rector of the Cathedral of Mary Our Queen will be the headline speaker. Father O'Hara is known through his forceful speaking at numerous ecumenical gatherings and through his appearance on the TV program "To Promote Good Will."

The afternoon will be devoted to workshops on prayer to be led by members of the prayer committee and leaders of other denominations.

* * *

REGISTRATION WILL begin at 10:30 a.m. A worship service, conducted by David K. Leighton, archdeacon of the Diocese, will open the conference.

Father O'Hara will speak at 11:30. His talk will be followed by a quiet period for prayer and meditation. At 12:30 dessert and coffee will be served by the women of St. Martin's for 25 cents (each one attending is asked to bring his own sandwich).

At 1:30 a litany will be led by the Rev. Charles A. Morrow, OGS to be followed by the workshops at 1:45. The conference will close with a summary by the Rev. John J. Lobell and prayers at 3:15 p.m. led by the Rev. David S. Remington.

Subjects for the workshops are:

* * *

"CONTEMPORARY and Informal Prayer," "Prayer and Action," "Prayer and the Bible," "Prayer Life for Today's Woman," "Quiet Days," "Spiritual Healing," "Starting a Prayer Pilgrimage," "Why a Prayer Group?" and "Written Prayers."

* * *

DIRECTIONS to St. Martin's in the field are:

Take Maryland Route 3 to Benfield Rd. (7 miles S. on Beltway — 10 miles N. on U.S. 50). Go 3 miles E. on Benfield Rd. The church is on the right. St. Martin's Church invites you to its midweek service of Holy Communion at 10 a.m. The Rev. Fred Van der Pool is rector of St. Martin's.

Mrs. John Whitridge Jr. is chairman of the Diocesan Prayer Committee.

Authur Machen at Family Society

Arthur W. Machen Jr., president of Family and Children's Society of Baltimore, a Community Chest-United Appeal Agency, has announced appointment of Ernest H. Smith as executive director of the Society.

Mr. Smith, who took up his duties Sept. 5 has been executive director of the Family Society of Cambridge, Mass., for the past four years. He has also worked with the Community Service Society of New York, Family Service Association of Cleveland and as a caseworker in St. Louis, Missouri.

A native Missourian, he is a graduate of the University of Missouri and of the George Warren Brown School of Social Work, Washington University, St. Louis.

In his capacity as executive director of Family and Children's Society of Baltimore, Mr. Smith will be providing leadership to one of the oldest social welfare agencies in the country.

Chief purpose of the Society now, as it was in its beginning 118 years ago, is to prevent family breakdown, and to give strength to families and individuals under stress.

The agency offers adoption service, including services to unmarried parents, foster family care for emotionally disturbed children, homemaker service, protection of children from abuse and neglect, and family and individual counseling.

A demonstration program is currently under way which provides homemaker service for families in which the mother is receiving psychiatric treatment. This project is financed by the Maryland Department of Mental Hygiene.

SS area to get 2 new post offices

Con. Samuel N. Friedel has announced that the Social Security Administration plans to open two new offices on an experimental basis in northwestern Baltimore and Catonsville.

"These offices will provide daily and improved service to residents of the northwestern Baltimore and Catonsville areas.

"The medicare program and other social security improvements have brought increased need for close-to-home social security," Mr Friedel explained.

"The exact location and opening dates for these offices will depend upon obtaining suitable space," Mr. Friedel reported.

Morgan Centennial Homecoming game set for Memorial Stadium

The next 100 years-Progress Through Purpose' is the theme of the 1967 Homecoming Celebration at Morgan State College.

Friends, undergraduates, old graduates will join in the sentimental spectacle and high school and college bands will spell it out across the football field. Whatever the weather, it will be Homecoming Week-End, the college declares.

Morgan students are working long and hard to make their 100th celebration a success.

They will decorate their floats, choose queens, put on skits, and a rally, parade and perform, and still have plenty energy left to party afterwards with their favorite dates, they contend.

Waxing poetical, students state, "But as always, Homecoming, designed to bring them back to their Alma Mater and to renew their loyalties, really belongs to the Alumni.

"Here suddenly again will be all the sights and sounds of college life so fondly remembered — Falling leaves, Familiar Faces, and Pretty girls, Pennants, loud festive parties lasting late into the night.

Also, the football game with the blur of a player streaking down the sideline, the exhilarating clap of thunder from the crowd after a touchdown.

Finally they continue, after the cold smack of the timekeeper's pistol, there will be the solemn strains of the old school song to remind them wherever they might go, whatever they might do that they would ne'er forget their golden campus days. . . Hallelujah! — spectacle for Homecoming Game against A. and T. University.

Homecoming Spirit of "Go Team, Go, This is It!"

SPECIAL EVENTS for Homecoming Week-End include the Friday, Oct. 27 the day of the "Morgan Bears" will be highlighted by huge Pep Rally, Bonfire, a pre-Homecoming salute to Mr. Touchdown of Morgan State College followed by a Jam Session in Murphy Auditorium.

The Varsity "M" attraction (at the Holiday Inn) schedule is, 3:00-5:00 p.m. Registration and Check-In; 5:00-8:00 p.m., get acquainted-Hospitality Room; 8:00-9:30 p.m., Dinner-Dining Room; 9:00 p.m., Varsity "M" Meeting; 11:30 p.m., Cocktails; Buffet, Game Films and Show.

ON SATURDAY, fun and entertainment begin with the customary assembly for Centennial Homecoming Parade from Morgan's campus to the Baltimore Memorial Stadium.

The gay colorful pageantry of the Centennial Homecoming Parade enlivened by floats, marching bands, high stepping majorettes, 1,000 dapper ROTC Cadets and Officers, parade of 400 Varsity "M" men, a bevy of college and high school queens led by Miss Morgan and Miss A. and T.

The stately strains of "The Stars Spangled Banner," the shrill whistle of the referee, the tense moment of the 2 p.m. kick-off with the big game underway.

Background music will swell to a crescendo: "Fair Morgan", "Beautiful Co-eds in glamorous dresses, the Alumni Coffee Hour and Smorgasbord at the Bath-fore Stadium's Bird Feed Room and Hit and Run Room.

Then dinner at campus refectory, Sororities, Fraternities "At Home" on campus, Varsity "M" Club Centennial Dinner and Homecoming Cabaret at the Holiday Inn.

THE FEATURE of the week-end will be the 130 piece A. and T. Band and the football game between the A. and T. "Aggies" and the Morgan "Bears" (NCAA 1966 Atlantic Region Champions).

General admission is $3.50 and student tickets $2.

On Sunday, Oct. 29, as a part of Centennial Homecoming week-end will present the serious and confrasting side to Homecoming 1967, A sentimental journey past Carnegie Hall, campus buildings and the prosaic store room will end on a path where students used to stroll. Campus sites will revive memories giving a balance to the gay side of Homecoming, by a quiet meditative period at the annual Alumni worship service in the Christian Center on campus, with a speaker and the College choir.

Coppin awarded teacher grant

Coppin State College has received a $15,000 grant to develop a program for training teachers of emotionally disturbed children.

The grant from the U.S. Office of Education was announced last week by Dr. Peter Valletutti, head of Coppin's Special Education Department.

In addition to the development grant, the department earlier received $21,600 in Federal funds for its existing program for training teachers of the mentally retarded.

* * *

PART OF the money provides traineeships for six seniors. Recipients of the traineeships for 1967-1968 — providing for tuition and a $1,600 stipend — are Donna Blackwell, William Hill, Donald Moody, Angela Pack, Janet Thomas and Dorothy Washington.

Planning is also under way to expand the present undergraduate programs in special education at Coppin into the graduate field.

The development grant is in part for this expansion.

Jack Grosman, who has had teaching experience in Baltimore and elsewhere and served as principal of the school at Rosewood State Hospital, has been named to develop the new program.
