5 million get school lunches

ATLANTA (UPI) — The federal school lunches program brought free or low-cost school-day meals to more than five million children this month in eight southern states plus Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, officials have reported.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture consumer and marketing service said Wednesday some 71,000 schools across the country are taking part in the program.

Participation for September, by state, included: Alabama, 460,622 in 1,428 schools; Florida, 723,729 children in 1,735 schools;

Georgia, 72,081 children in 1,835 schools; Kentucky, 481,544 children in 1,751 schools; Mississippi, 339,781 children in 987 schools;

North Carolina, 766,686 children in 1,990 schools; Tennessee, 496,323 children in 1,739 schools; Virginia, 520,868 children in 1,746 schools.

Rites set for 'Mr. Perkins'

Funeral services for Alfred Perkins, 1200 block Etting St., were held today at the Hemsley Funeral Home with interment in Baltimore National Cemetery.

Well-known to habitues of the Sphinx Club, "Mr. Perkins," as he was called, was doorman there for many years.

Inspite of advanced age, Mr. Perkins conducted an unofficial 'limousine service' for Sphinx patrons until two weeks before his death.

He was also a veteran of World War I, serving in the 7th Army Ordinance Section

Baltimore-born the septuagenarian was the son of Sarah E. and Alfred Perkins and attended the Biddle Street Elementary School.

A life-long batchelor, Mr. Perkins is survived by a sister, Miss Lucy T. Perkins.

Mrs. Mamie Griffin

Funeral services for Mrs. Mamie Griffin, 1200 block Stricker St., were held today at the George G. Kelson Funeral Home with interment in Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

Mrs. Griffin, 68, died Wednesday in Provident Hospital after a long illness. Baltimore born, she was the daughter of the late Rebecca and Howard Griffin and the widow of Robert Bryant.

She is survived by a niece, Mrs. Dorothy Winston and two god-children, Mrs. Verna Mae Nolan and Mrs. Geraldine Jordan.

Most FSC grads employed in N. C.

According to statistics released by the Fayetteville State College Placement Office, more than 10-percent of the college's 1967 graduates are employed in the Fayetteville community.

The report, released by J. C. Jones, Dean of Students and Placement Officer, revealed that the majority of the 1967 graduates are employed in North Carolina and more than 80-percent of this group are employed within a 50-mile radius of Fayetteville and Cumberland County.

Rev. Dobson to head Union Memorial Church

A native Baltimorean and Baptist minister who says his "interests, commitments and friends" are from all religions, has been designated minister of the Union Baptist Church.

The Rev. Vernon Dobson, who has served the church in various capacities for eight years, will succeed the Rev. Baxter Matthews, now minister emeritus.

The Rev. Mr. Dobson, father of seven children, will be bringing a long and varied background to his ministry of the 115 year old church.

The pastor received his educational Booker T. Washington Junior High School and Douglass High School.

After three years in the Navy, he continued his education and received bachelors' degrees in science (1949) and divinity (1952) from Howard University.

IN 1956, under a program of the Baltimore Urban League, Mr. Dobson worked as a postal employee while attending Howard, and then spent 13 years in the Criminal Division of the Probation Department of the Supreme Bench as a counselor.

The clergymen also spent five years as assistant director in the Knox Presbyterian Church Center, working evenings, followed by a pastorate at the Emmanuel Baptist Church, in Overlea, Md.

THE REV. Mr. Dobson has expressed a deep concern for social ills that go beyond the mere boundaries of his church.

He says he hopes to serve the whole community.

The pastor's family includes children ranging in age from 7 to 20 years. They are Rosalind, Sandra, Michael, Keith, Kevin, Kim and Donna.

He is married to the-for-for social workers in Baltimore he did a study on alcoholism at Yale University.

'Fashion Chemistry' . . .

"Fashion Chemistry" will be presented Oct. 4 at Cherry Hill Junior High School by Miss Eleanor Echo of the Simplicity Pattern's Educational staff.

The auditorium stage will serve as the laboratory for this dynamic 'fashion exploration.'

"Elements for Separates" will include the colorful combination of gold and blue for spontaneous fashion reaction.

"Jumper Analysis" will highlight flip skirts, longer lines and tent shapes.

"The Theory of Classics" will follow the formula of line and design as related to color and texture. Today's teen, the pace setter, will be delighted with the plaids, stripes and solids in the mini-equations for fun-time activities.

"Dress Data" has been computed to move from casual dates to special events.

Through the 'explosion of fashion,' teens will be inspired to create their own equations for fun in fashion.

Five men held on charge of assaulting coed

CHESAPEAKE, Va. (UPI) — A court hearing has been set for Tuesday for five men charged with raping a white 20-year-old college coed Saturday morning.

The five are being held in $75,500 each.

The woman is at a Norfolk area hospital. She and her boy friend were allegedly attacked by the five, while parked on a secluded road near the mouth of the James River late Friday night or early Saturday morning.

The girls' 22-year-old boyfriend was said by police to have been held at knifepoint by two of the men while three others criminally assaulted her.

THE FIVE men arrested by police and charged with the crime were identified as Kalor Lee Saunders, 42, Sammy Trotter, 24 and John Earl Trotter, 22, Thomas Lee Trotter, 18 and James Arthur Hayes, 18, all of Nansemond County.

Each of the men were charged with rape; attempted murder; petit larceny; and armed robbery. The men who attacked the girl were also reported to have taken about $40 dollars in cash and a portable radio.

The five suspects were arrested Saturday morning and bond was set by Commonwealth's Atty. Peter M. Axson Jr.

Morgan to give degrees to Drs. Nabrit, Mays

The Matriculation Convocation which will formally open the 100th Academic Session of Morgan State College will be held 10 a.m., Wednesday, in Hughes Memorial Stadium.

Dr. Samuel Nabrit, former member of the Atomic Energy Commission and president of Texas Southern University, will give the keynote address and receive an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

Dr. Benjamin Mays, president of Morehouse College, Atlanta, Ga., (1940-1967) will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

Students and faculty will have an opportunity to talk with Dr. Mays informally at two luncheons in the Memorial Refectory and around the fireside in the McKeldin Student Union on Wednesday and Thursday.

Dr. Nabrit for 23 years was professor of biology and chairman of the department of biology at Atlanta University. He left Atlanta in 1955 to become the second president of Texas Southern University, Houston.

While there he also served as president of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and was appointed by President Dwight Eisenhower in 1956 to a six-year term on the National Science Board.

President Lyndon Johnson appointed him to the Atomic Energy Commission in 1966. He resigned recently to return to the academic world as executive director of the Southern Fellowship Fund, an operating agency of the Council of Southern Universities.

* * *

DR. MAYS was dean of the School of Religion, Howard University before assuming the presidency of Morehouse College in 1940. He has written numerous articles and books on religion and race relations and has received 19 honorary degrees. The last two were received from Morehouse in May, 1967 and Harvard University in June, 1967.

In 1949 he was named the Alumnus of the Year by the Divinity School of the University of Chicago. He is a member of the National Advisory Council to the Peace Corps and the U.S. National Commission for UNESCO.

During the convocation, the Morgan State College Centennial Hymn, written by John Wesley Sweeney, associate professor of music, will be sung.

President Martin Jenkins will make a report to the students and Dean Edison's Salute to Morgan on its 100th Birthday will be played.

PROGRAM OF MIMICRY

Last year, over a quarter million owners of other low-price cars were won over to Plymouth. It started a movement, a momentum, a beat.
And the Plymouth win-you-over beat goes on.
This is the 1968 Plymouth Fury. It still looks long and low and wide. Only richer. And much more beautiful. And the beat goes on.
Inside, Fury's options don't have that "added on" look. The Auto-Pilot is on the turn signal lever. Air conditioning outlets are part of the instrument panel. And the beat goes on.
Plymouth Fury has the biggest brakes in its class. And the biggest trunk. It's also the heaviest. And the most solid. And the beat goes on.
This is the 1968 GTX. One in a whole new line of mid-size cars for '68: GTX, Sport Satellite, Satellite, Belvedere, Road Runner. We've given them all-new styling for '68. And the beat goes on.
We made our 2-door sedans look like hardtops. And we created a new low-cost, high-performance car called the Road Runner. Its horn goes "Beep-Beep!" And the beat goes on.
There are 64 new Plymouths for '68. Full-size, mid-size, sports cars, wagons and compacts. We could build a car a minute for an entire year. And never build two exactly alike. And the beat goes on.
