FOOTBALL

Morgan won over the Maryland State Hawks, 36 to 26 in the first home game of the season. The Bears won their 20th consecutive game and it was no push over.

The Hawks scored, it seemed, more points against the Bears than anyone has in a long time. (So they have to be good too).

The first T.D. for Morgan was by Edward Hayes who ran 94 yards from a kickoff return. Seeing that the Hawks had a strong defense, the Bears were forced to go to the air.

That wasn't such a bad thing because the Bears are rated as one of the best running teams in college football, so after the ball is caught you've got to run. How about that bit of logic?

• • •

GENE PULLEY and Jimmy Duncan both of the Maryland State team had a time on the field. Gene fell on the ball in Morgan's end zone after a blocked punt. Now if that wasn't a quick thinc, Duncan, quarterback for the Hawks, had his hand in almost everyone of the Hawks' TD's.

Making the last for the Hawks was Raymond Banks off a pass from Duncan. Most will remember the B-more by-way-of-Chicago home boy as being one of the most outstanding players on City College's team.

Darryl Johnson, quarterback for MSC, had his day too. Way so remarkable? The senior wonderboy was a flanker and defensive half back two years ago.

Last year he made his appearance as a quarterback and had kept the job ever since.

He made 13 out of 17 passes for 220 yards and made four conversions. He also made a 22 yard run for a TD.

All this to say what? Morgan will face the A and T Aggies in Memorial Stadium on the 28th.

This Homecoming will be the celebration of the 100 years that Morgan has been in existance.

• • •

MORE ON THAT

There will not only be a game but other activities as well. A parade from Morgan to the stadium before the game featuring the college queens, organizations, bands, and alumni.

It would be easier if you brought your tickets earlier instead of waiting to stand in long lines.

After we win the game (here's hoping) activities will be like that traditional homecoming. The Greeks and independent organizations will sing.

Then the long trek home to dinner and make preparations for the night festivities.

There will be dances and parties too. So Morgan's homecoming promises a weekend of fun for everyone.

Howard's and Maryland State's Homecoming is on the same day too. (drat)

PARTY

Keeping in the spirit of the weekend, the men of Alpha Iota chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi really turned the town out.

On Friday night they gave what was called a preliminary party at Elsworth (Slick) Brooks' house. It was one of the nicest call parties you ever could imagenine. Sure it was crowded, but it was together.

On Saturday night, the brothers repeated the same action at the same place. Only this time the brothers of Gamma Xi Chapter (Maryland State) had their hands in it.

Talking about partying, it didn't look as if it would end.

Those see around included Brenda Cassell, LeRoy Commegys, Richard Scott, Rodney McCloud, Bob White, James Scott, Richard Duehl, Miles Goodson;

Ed Surrell, Ernest Thompson, Jimmy Clark, Gary Coleman, Marie Phillips, Linda Bryant, Sharon Smith, Barbara Bedford, James Pollock, Lou and Ann Williams, Gail Sayers;

CUFF NOTES

Ray Banks had a chance to stop by the ole homestead this weekend and bought along roommate, William Thomas.

Birthday wishes to James (Rat) Scott who will celebrate his this weekend.

The Contours will be featured at the Black Jack Club this week.

Van Eaton came home for the weekend. He is a Morgan grad and member of Alpha Iota Chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi. He is currently attending Penn doing grad work.

Next week the Bears will play Virginia in Washington. The D.C. Classic is one of the few times when MSC, Howard, Virginia, Maryland and Delaware can get together.

ALPHA

Miss Yvette McNair was crowned queen of Beta Alpha chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity on Sunday at Morgan's Student Lounge.

Miss McNair is a junior and a sonor of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

Beginning her reign on Sunday, Miss McNair succeeds Miss Teresa Kelly as queen. Miss Kelly is a senior and a member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

• • •

EBONY

As every year since its incention, the Baltimore Alumni Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority will present the Ebony Fashion Fair on Oct. 20 in the Murphy Fine Arts Building at Morgan.

The theme this year is "Fashion Rebellion '67" and Ebony will bring all the latest fashions from America and Europe.

The show will begin at 8:00 p.m. and all proceeds will go to the scholarship fund.

• • •

VIETNAM

Received this week two letters from Vietnam. It's surprising. They write more often than you. Anyway its nice to know that they way over there, at least they get to a mail.

The first one is from a home boy. Most will remember Greeley Tyler at Morgan and a member of Alpha Phi Omega Service Fraternity.

In his letter he sends his regards to all his frat brothers and inquires about the state of affairs in B-more and the nation.

He said it was rough over there but "of well". He also said every time they had the chance to pickup the paper, there is a lot to do about rocking. He said "What gives, what are we over here for?"

Don't we all wish we could answer that question? Greg seems to be okay as much can expected. Take care home boy and hurry back.

• • •

THE NEXT letter wasn't so "happy or inquisitive." Sp/4 Bruce Wright of Darley Avenue has been in the Nam for six months now.

He writes: "I can't wait to get home again. With the grace of God, I should be home sometime in March, if not sooner.

"So many of my buddies have been killed and it really makes me think about when I am going to get it.

"I try not to think about it, but you know how it is when you get some free time and begin to think, well, that's life.

"There is no need to say more. See you in March or sooner, Bruce."

Dr. Tuerk quitting Mental Hygiene post

Governor Agnew Wednesday announced with "deep regret" the retirement of Dr. Isadore Tuerk, as commissioner of the Department of Mental Hygiene effective, July 1, 1968.

The governor stated that Dr. Tuerk has served as commissioner with "great distinction" since May, 1960.

"Under his leadership, the Department has made great strides in the care of the mentally ill and retarded," Governor Agnew said. "He has been a source of inspiration and leadership as the Maryland Mental Hygiene program expanded and improved."

One of the most significant of the new concepts is the Department's entrance into the field of community mental health. In addition to this, programs have been expanded in the area of services to alcoholics, the aging and to adolescents.

A number of major physical structures are either in the construction or planning stage.

These include the Maryland Psychiatric Research Center in Catonsville, the intensive treatment and diagnostic center at Eastern Shore State Hospital in Cambridge, both under construction; and a Washington area center for the mentally retarded and the Baltimore Inner City Mental Health Center, now in the final planning stages.

In addition, State funds have been made available for grants for community mental health projects and for small residential centers for the mentally retarded.

Under the administration of Dr. Tuerk, the four major mental hospitals of the Department of Mental Hygiene — Crownsville, Eastern Shore, Springfield and Spring Grove —were regionalized and all Departmental facilities racially integrated.

There has been a constant upgrading of medical care and treatment since 1960 with all four state regional hospitals now fully accredited by the Joint Commission of Hospital Accreditation.

Numerous new Departmental training programs have been instituted by him which include an expanded residency program psychiatrists, new nursing training courses, as well as new educational opportunities for psychologists and rehabilitation personnel.

With the cooperation of the State Department of Education, vocational rehabilitation services in all hospitals have been increased.

Dr. Tuerk is a native of Maryland, a graduate of the Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland School of Medicine.

He joined the State service in 1937 as assistant psychiatrist of the Eastern Shore State Hospital and has served in State mental hygiene hospitals since that time, with the exception of 1941 to 1945 when he was in military service with the Army Medical Corps.

He served overseas in 1944-1945.

Prior to becoming Commissioner, he was the Superintendent of the Spring Grove State Hospital.

Dr. Tuerk said he was facing retirement with "mixed feelings" "regretful at leaving a job that I have held for many years, that has provided a good deal of fulfillment, but also a lot of stress."

"I am looking forward to private practice, consultation and some leisure," he said.

Burch cautions on speech abuse

At the annual meeting of the Maryland Chiefs of Police Association in Ocean City, Francis Burch, state attorney general, said Saturday that the right to peaceful protest cannot be denied because violence might result.

But he warned that persons violating the right of free speech by advocating arson and violence are not protected by the Constitution.

He explained that while lawful authorities must protect and insure the safety and security of the protestants in the free exercise of their constitutional rights, they must also prosecute, to the fullest extent of the law, those who use inflammatory words and racial epithets to incite violence.

• • •

IN POINTING out the fine line drawn between freedom of speech and the "abuse of that freedom," the attorney general said.

"It is unfortunate that the mantle of public office does not provde each of us with the wisdom of Solmon."

Admittisg this era is a difficult one for law enforcers, Mr Burch said:

"We live in an era of discord and discontent, of protest and counter-protest, of angry white and angry black people.

"Each group feels outraged at the special treatment allegedly given to one group and denied the other."

Students may quit in N.Y. bias row

JOHNSTOWN, N.Y. —Colored students have apparently decided to stick it out at Fulton-Montgomery Community College here where they had threatened to quit en masse after being trated to a Dixie-style 'unwelcoming' during the first days of classes.

The decision to stay came after some church and community leaders met with the students Tuesday and promised them help. Four students voiced complaints on behalf of the 20 or so colored students at the school of nearly 1,000 enrollment.

The students complained of housing and barber shop discrimination, racial slurs from schoolmates, and snubs at social affairs.

The assistance promised the students came more from the area race relations organization and church leaders than from school officials.

Jaycees launching school 'law' series

One of the most exciting programs the Baltimore Jaycees have ever sponsored gets under way this week when student government groups from Garrison Junior High School and Forest Park High School gather in the Forest Park H.S. Auditorium 10 a.m. Wednesday, to hear the first in a seven-step pilot program titled "Youth-Children and the Law."

• • •

THE THREE major areas of concern are:

1. Vandalism;
2. Shoplifting;
3. Truancy.

The speakers who will discuss each of these three areas are, Charles Pennypacker, manager, Mondawmin Shopping Center; Fred ces.

O'Neill, president of the Mondawmin Merchants' Association; and Harry Hodgkins, chief of security, Baltimore City school system.

The students who take part in this presentation will, in turn, make similar presentations to sixth grade students in local elementary schools.

The program will end on Nov. 21, at 10 a.m., with an assembly for sixth grade students at Forest Park High School. The speaker at that time will be Juvenile Court Judge Robert I. Hammerman.

"Youth-Children and the Law" is co-sponsored by the Baltimore Board of Education, Police Department, State's Attorney's Office and Bureau of Recreation. In addition to the Baltimore Jaycees.

College alumni to give Bullet opening gala

The Baltimore Chapter of the Winston-Salem State College Alumni Association is sponsoring a gala evening of dinner and dancing centered around the Baltimore Bullets opening basketball game at the Civic Center, Oct. 18.

The dinner, beginning at 6 p.m. at the Civic Center, will be a "Get Acquainted" dinner in honor of Bullet player Earl Monroe, a Winston-Salem graduate.

Music after the game will be provided by Lionel Hampton and his band.

Subscriptions for the evening are $6.50, including dinner, a reserved-seat ticket to the game and the music by the Hampton band.

Tables are reserved on a first-come-first-served basis. Mr. Graham has tables of 10 can be reserved for churches or organizations.

Elephants star at Shrine Circus

The only trained African elephant in the United States will be one of the attractions at the Shrine Circus to be held in the Fifth Regiment Armory starts today (Tuesday) and goes through Oct. 4.

The act will be a personal triumph for trainers Bill and Barbara Woodcock, who have done almost the impossible in presenting young "Kenya" for her debut in the circus.

• • •

ARRIVING IN America from East Africa in August of 1966 "Kenya" made her first appearance with the Polack Bros. Circus Elephants at the season's opening stand in Flint, Michigan on January 15, 1967.

The other members of the herd, among them "Baby Stella;" the exceptionally brilliant elephant prodigy "Opal;" and the dependable "Anna Mae" who performs the dangerous "leg carry" with Barbara; are all Asiatic elephants.

Channel 11-TV lists hippie, LSD specials

Specialists in the field of drugs and narcotics will participate in the Telephone Forum Special LSD and narcotics, on Friday, Oct. 20, at 9:30 p.m. on WBAL - TV 11, Baltimore.

The live panel discussion will focus on all aspects of drug addiction, including pep pills, marijuana and the use of LSD.

This WBAL-TV Telephone Forum is being presented at a time when Marylanders have become gravely concerned by the growing menace of LSD and Narcotics within their own home community, especially among teenagers.

With recurring frequency, authoritative reports reveal that LSD is a dangerous and, frequently, deadly hallucinatory agent which can cause the user to suffer permanent brain damage or psychosis.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS will give viewers the opportunity to phone in questions and receive answers from experts on the problem of drug addiction. This first in a series of Telephone Forum Specials on WBAL-TV is presented by The Hauswald Bakery. Other upcoming Specials will concentrate on arthritis and heart attack.

Home fire drills start here on Wednesday

Maryland fire services are joining fire departments and other fire prevention agencies throughout the country in urging families to hold home fire drills on Oct. 11 at 7 p.m.

This program has been observed as a part of Fire Prevention Week during the last five years. Sponsoring agencies feel that many of the over 200 people who died in fires in the State last year would have survived if they had planned a means of escape prior to the fire.

Home fire drills were credited with saving the lives of a Cherry Chase family during a fire that seriously damaged a home on Sept 25. The six families' members escaped by the use of a prearranged plan.

• • •

FAMILIES ARE urged to plan means of egress in the event regular exits are blocked by smoke or fire.

Procedures should include the closing of bedroom doors to retard the entrance of smoke and immediate departure by the most direct safe means.

An outside meeting place should be planned to enable the fire department to determine if all persons have escaped.

Organizations sponsoring the drill observance on Oct. 11th include the Maryland State Firemen's Association, local and county fire departments and fire marshal's offices and the State Fire Marshal's Office.

Charity goal $145,000 at

The Social Security Administration kicked off a $145,000 charity drive last week as part of the Combined Federal Campaign for Central Maryland.

Last year, the agency raised $141,360. The goal was $129,317.

The annual campaign joins together the appeals of the International Service Agencies, the United Appeal and the National Health Agencies.

In this manner, there is only one on-the-job Federal campaign for all of the approved voluntary agencies.

'Killing of Sister George' comedy at Mechanic Theatre called 'best'

"The Killing of Sister George," last season's comedy hit on Broadway and London's West End, opened Monday evening (Oct. 9) at the Morris A. Mechanic Theatre where it will remain for three weeks thru Saturday evening, Oct. 28.

Starring Polly Rowles, who was in the original New York production, this prize-winning comedy by Frank Marcus won three awards in London as the "Best Comedy of the Year" and was nominated for a Tony award as "the Best Play on Broadway."

Since the play is English, the piquant title can easily be explained for the term Sister George is the equivalent in American usage of Nurse George, a noble district nurse and the heroine of a daily soap opera.

THE COMEDY tells the titillating tale of what happens when the fictional radio character becomes fushed with the scandalous real-life of the actress who portrays her.

It is a deft parable on the old theme of illusion and reality and how the two get mixed up, particularly in these media-drenched times.

Regarded by the New York and London critics as "One of the most outrageously funny plays of this or any season," "The Killing of Sister George" has played the major summer theatres before settling down in Baltimore for this three weeks' engagement.

Produced in New York and on tour by Helen Bonfils and Morton Gottlieb who have produced such hits as "Cups be the talk of Baltimore.

With Everything", "Enter Laughing", "A Thurber Carnival" and "The Hollow Crown."

"THE KILLING of Sister George" has been directed by Warren Crane and features Paddy Croft, Patricia Sinnott and Sylvia O'Brien in support of Miss Rowles in the starring role.

Decidedly a play that will appeal to women, matinees are on Wednesday and Saturdays at 2 o'clock.

An adult and very funny comedy which was the talk of New York last season, "The Kilihg of Sister George" will
