FINAL REQUEST: 'NO FUNERAL'

9-year-old discovers aunt hanging from bathroom door

ORANGEBURG, S.C. — Little Morris Keitt, 9, was very fond of his Aunt Lucille with whom he visited just about every day.

Tuesday, Oct. 10, was no exception.

As soon as he had deposited his school books in the place he always kept them, he went looking for Aunt Lucille.

He remembered the sickness she always complained of had made her feel especially bad of late, and over the past two weeks she seemed unusually worried.

Perhaps she would be lying down upstairs; perhaps he could bring her something from the freezer in the kitchen.

As he looked in at her door, he didn't see her. He called out loudly, but there was no answer.

He would try to bathroom. Maybe she was dozing as she had been times before.

• • •

MORRIS KEITT tugged at the knob, but it wouldn't turn.

Scared now, Morris ran downstairs and out into the street to call the next-door neighbor.

On the way, he grabbed a piece of paper from the dining room table. He hadn't noticed it before.

When he got to the neighbor's house he unfolded the paper for the first time and showed it.

Two words comprised the whole message. They were "No Funeral."

When police were summoned they found Miss Lucille Keitt, 45, of 152 Dixon Street, hanging from the inside bathroom door.

• • •

APPARENTLY, THE coroner said, she stood on the bathtub, draped the end of her jersey nightgown over the door, closed and locked the door, then stepped off the bathtub.

Coroner Joe A. Dickey ruled the death "strangulation by hanging."

Morris Keitt still wakes up sometimes from a bad dream in which he relives that awful scene with Aunt. Lucille hanging there on the bathroom door.

6-year-old caught in marital mix-up of death-row father

DETROIT — A six year-old Northwest Detroit boy, caught in the bizarre marital entanglements of his father, who is awaiting execution in the San Quentin (Calif.) gas chamber, is believed to have been kidnaped by his stepmother and returned to his Los Angeles home.

Witnesses told police a little Vincent Bradford was taken away from the home of his father's paramour, Miss Nettie Walker of Santa Monica by a woman resembling his stepmother, Mrs. Mary Bradford.

The fatherless boy's father, James B. Bradford, has been convicted of first degree murder and sentenced to death. Attempts by police to locate the child's natural mother, Mrs. Frances Marie Dunn, have been fruitless.

The youngster had been cared for by his father and stepmother until their estrangement. Police say Bradford then began a relationship with Miss Walker and he and the boy's mother signed papers giving custody to her.

However, said Dectective William Bell of the Detroit Police Special Investigation Bureau, the arrangement was not legal because the proper procedure had not been handled by the court.

Bell said that even if Mrs. Bradford is found with the boy, he is not certain if any criminal charges can be lodged against her because of the controversy over who is the legal guardian of the child.

"It appears to be a civil matter rather than criminal," Bell said. "In addition, we have information from Los Angeles police that the child was originally stolen from Mrs. Bradford's home and brought to Detroit."

Bell said that although the whereabouts of Mr. Bradford and the boy had not been ascertained, he is reasonably sure the child was in no danger.

"We don't feel she intends to do him any harm," he said.

Mother of three loses battle against eviction

RALEIGH, N.C. — Mrs. Joyce Thorpe, mother of three children, has lost her long legal battle against the Durham Housing Authority.

The legal battle started in 1965 when she was served with an eviction notice from a low-rent housing project.

She claimed that the Housing Authority was evicting her because of her activities as president of the Parents' Club. The housing officials denied the charges.

THE ORDER for eviction was issued by Justice of the Peace. Mrs. Thorpe appealed the ruling to Durham Superior Court. The decision was upheld.

Another appeal to the state's supreme court upheld the lower court's decision.

After failing to stop the eviction through lower and higher courts of the state, Mrs. Thorpe made her final appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court last week turned her down, ruling that her eviction by the Durham Housing Authority and the earlier rulings by state court's were legal.

Three Gulf Oil trainees promoted to sales posts

PITTSBURGH — The promotion of three men to sales representative has been announced by the Gulf Oil Corporation. All three are in the company's Eastern Marketing Region, and had been sales trainees.

They are C. A. Hereford of Pittsburgh, assigned to Boston; B. E. Willis of Baltimore, assigned to Baltimore; and K. E. Lockett of Baltimore, assigned to Passaic, N.J.

Mr. Hereford has been a Gulf employee since Oct. 1963, when he was hired as a maintenance representative in the Pittsburgh services area. An outstanding basketball star at Rankin High School near Pittsburgh, he attended Heidelberg College in Tiffin, Ohio, where he studied history and elementary education and was co-captain of the college basketball squad. He is married and the father of four children.

• • •

MR. WILLIS, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., was hired by Gulf as a Sales Trainee last February. He attended Morgan State College in Baltimore where he studied chemistry. He was employed for six years as a correctional officer for the State of Maryland, and had been assistant manager of Hyatt's Men's Shop in Baltimore.

He is married, the father of a son, and is active in sports such as motorcycle and sports car racing and skydiving. He is a member of Iota Phi Theta Fraternity.

• • •

MR. LOCKETT, whom Gulf hired at the same time as Mr. Willis, is a former advertising representative for the AFRO-AMERICAN News papers in Baltimore. He attended Fisk University where he was a member of the Jubilee Singers and Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, and also served as vice president of his freshman and junior classes.

He is a member of the National Association of Market Developers, is married, and the father of one daughter.

Mrs. Marece J. Gibbs dies in Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N.C. — Mrs. Marece Jones Gibbs, 1000 Ross Ave., wife of Dr. Warmoth T. Gibbs, professor emeritus of A and T. State University, died Friday morning at her home.

A resident of Greensboro, since 1926, when her husband came to teach at A and T., Mrs. Gibbs was a native of Boston, Mass. She was a daughter of the late Robert C. A. and Mrs. Rebecca C. Jones. She was a graduate of Cambridge Latin School.

• • •

MRS. GIBBS was an active member of the Church of the Redeemer and the Ladies' Faculty Club of A and T, and several social and civic clubs.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two sons, Warmouth T. Gibbs, Jr., an assistant professor of English at A and T; and Dr. Chandler Gibbs, physician in Poughkeepsie, N.Y.; a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth G. Moore, librarian in Detroit, Mich.; a brother, Alexander Jones, New York City; and a sister, Mrs. Francis Perkins, Boston; and 12 grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are being completed by Brown's Funeral Directors.

12th win moves Lopez closer to Cokes match

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Carlos "Red" Lopez top-ranked welterweight contender, scored his 12th straight victory with a 10th round knockout over Jose Valenzuela Thursday night at the Olympic Auditorium.

Referee Dick Young stopped the bout with only 25 seconds remaining with Valenzuela helplessly out on his feet.

The 24-year-old Lopez, who is seeking a crack at champion Curtis Cokes, and his 25-year-old opponent both were on the canvas from left hooks in the fight, Lopez in the fifth round and Valenzuela in the fourth.

'Kill me please,' begs jailbreaker

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — A Will O' the Wisp jailbreaker who killed a sheriff and eluded a massive posse for more than 50 hours was flushed from a hideaway and captured Friday as he pleaded "shoot me, please, shoot me."

Arthur James Lewis, 29-year-old accused saloon bandit, was surrounded and seized without a shot being fired when he tripped and fell on a playground in a desperate dash for freedom.

Police said Lewis, a Gary, Ind., resident, readily admitted his identity and the killing of Pulaski County Sheriff Milo Lewis, 50, at Winamac, Ind., Wednesday. But he insisted he did not intentionally kill the sheriff, they said.

Church rivals reach accord

MEMPHIS —Settlement of the controversy over control of the Church of God in Christ seemed near this week.

Opposing factions in the church have advised Chancery Court Judge Charles Rond that they have agreed to compromise temporarily.

Under the agreement, both factions will allow the Church General Assembly to decide the question of a constitutional convention at the church Memphis headquarters on Nov. 30, 1968.

Won't give up

ATLANTA — Ocmulgee county prosecutor, George Lawrence, who twice has seen reversal of the conviction of Preston Cobb for murder, announced Friday he will make a third attempt to send Cobb to the electric chair.

Cobb, then 14, was given the death penalty in 1961 in the slaying of Coleman Dumas, a white farmer. The Supreme Court overturned it twice: "As long as I'm convinced he's guilty, I'll keep trying him," said Lawrence.

Howard dean speaks at Atlanta

Dr. Mary Ella Robertson, dean of the School of Social Work, Howard University, will speak at the Annual Forum to be held during the twenty-first annual Institute of Field and Class Instructors at Atlanta University School of Social Work on Wednesday, Oct. 18.

Dr. Robertson's topic will be "Shall the Poor Be Always With Us."
