Flag protection bill is signed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson has signed a bill making it a federal offense for demonstrators to burn or desecrate the American flag.

The President acted more than a year after a series of incidents which saw Vietnam War protestors burn, spit upon and trample the flag.

The measure does not

Every new one comes slightly used.

The road to becoming a Volkswagen is a rough one. The obstacles are many.

Some make it.

Some crack.

Those who make it are scrutinized by 8,397 inspectors. (607 of whom are picky women.)

They're subjected to 16,000 different inspections.

They're driven the equivalent of 3 miles on a special test stand.

Every engine is broken in.

Every transmission.

Many bugs are then plucked from the production line. Their sole function in life is to be tested and not to be sold.

We put them through water to make sure they don't leak.

We put them through mud and salt to make sure they won't rust.

They climb hills to test handbrakes and clutches.

Then comes the dreaded wind tunnel and a trip over 8 different road surfaces to check out the ride.

Torsion bars are twisted 100,000 times to make sure they torsion properly.

Keys are turned on 25,000 times to make sure they don't break off in keylocks.

And so it goes on.

200 Volkswagens are rejected everyday.

It's a tough league.

NL infielders rap site of game, see AL problems

HOUSTON (UPI) — All five members of the National League starting infield in the All-Star game do not like playing conditions in the Astrodome, but the outfielders say it doesn't bother them, as tonight's (Tuesday) classic nears.

First baseman Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants, and third baseman Ron Santo of the Chicago Cubs, were the most outspoken.

"IT'S not a true field," McCovey said. "Fielding ground balls is strictly a luck thing. Just when you think you are in the right spot to grab the ball, it goes off in another direction. I would just as soon not say what I really think about it.

"The only good thing I can say about it is that it eliminates playing in 100-degree heat," McCovey said.

SANTO criticized the dirt as much as the plastic grass.

"It's not a smooth dirt," he said. "It's a clay type. Every time you move your foot, you get a divot. I have to play in closer than I normally do because I would rather get them (grounders) off the turf than off the dirt.

"The grounders to your left and right are through before you can react," Santo said. "They also bounce over your head more often. They don't bounce true. The ground under the turf is not even."

SHORTSTOP Don Kessinger of the Cubs, and second baseman Tommy Helms of the Cincinnati Reds, both said they play back a step or two because the ball comes off the astroturf so fast.

"I think it's going to surprise the American Leaguers who have never been here before," Helms said.

CATCHER Jerry Grote said the white ceiling makes it harder to catch pop flys.

"You have to watch them all the way," he said. "It's harder to pick them up."

PETE ROSE of the Reds, one of the outfielders, said he did not have any trouble because the section of the roof the outfielders look up into has been painted brown and provides a good background.

"I love it here," Rose said. "It is just beautiful . . . it's cool and you can see the ball good.

"It might be a disadvantage to the American League. I know when I was a rookie and first came in here I was amazed. It took a while to adjust.

HANK AARON of the Atlanta Braves, also said he had adjusted.

"I don't have as many problems now as I used to," he said. "And I'm glad the All-Star game is going to be played at night. It is tougher to line up high fly balls in the daytime."

Jesse Owens gets AL post

BOSTON (UPI) — Jesse Owens, who won four gold medals at the 1936 Olympics, was named Tuesday to the public relations staff of the American League.

President Joe Cronin, who announced the appointment of the 55-year-old grandfather, said Owens would work out of a special league office in Chicago, where he lives and operates a public relations firm.

"I AM delighted to have such a wonderful addition to our league," Cronin said. "Jesse is a man of wide experience in many fields and will be of great value."

He said the former Ohio State track star would deal with public relations and promotional work.

Owens won gold medals for winning the 100 and 200 meter dashes, broad jump and leading off the American relay team in the Olympics at Berlin.

SNCC elects 7 deputy chairmen

NEW YORK — (NPI) — The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee has announced the election of several deputy chairmen as part of a restructuring of the organization.

They are George Ware, Tuskegee Institute, Ala.; Johnny Wilson, New York; Donald Stone, Atlanta; James Forman, New York; Bob Smith, Atlanta; Brother Crook, Los Angeles; and former Executive Secretary Stanley Wise of North Carolina and Louisiana.

Oilers ink Bethea, A&T 'Paul Bunyan'

HOUSTON (UPI) — Elvin Bethea of North Carolina A and T, No. 2 draft choice of the Houston Oilers, has signed his American Football League contract.

Bethea, a native of Trenton, N.J., played 60 minutes of every game this past season for A and T, operating at guard, tackle and on defense at defensive end and linebacker. He was named to the NAIA and CIAA all-star teams.

BETHEA, 6-4 and 255 pounds, had been described as a "cross between Paul Bunyan and a streak of lightning." He runs the 40 in 4.9, throws the shot over 60 feet, the discus over 190 feet and has run the hurdles its brief, whether to hear the appeal. If it takes the case, the court will schedule oral arguments later in the term and follow with a written opinion.

Clay appeals draft case to high court

WASHINGTON — Boxer Muhammad Ali (Cassius Clay) asked the Supreme Court Saturday to throw out his conviction for refusing to be drafted, charging that a "lily white" Selective Service system, had unconstitutionally denied him a religious exemption.

"This case should be viewed in the context of our history — a history of racial segregation in the armed forces," the deposed heavyweight champion said in a brief filed with the high court.

"The lily white Selective Service system is but an unconstitutional and statutorily prohibited remnant of our racially discriminatory past," he said.

THE SUPREME COURT probably will decide next fall, after the government files its brief, whether to hear the appeal. If it takes the case, the court will Clay, who prefers the name of Muhammad Ali, sought a conscientious objector classification, which would have exempted him from the draft as a Muslim minister. However, a series of local draft boards and appeal boards within the Selective Service system refused to change his 1A classification.

ON APRIL 28, 1967, he was ordered to report for induction at Houston, Tex. He refused to be inducted. On June 20, 1967, he was convicted for refusal to be drafted in Federal District Court at Houston and was sentenced to five years in prison and fined $10,000.

The Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans affirmed his conviction May 6, 1968.

Sample to play again for Jets

NEW YORK (UPI) — Johnny Sample, the veteran New York Jets defensive back whose retirements never last longer than the off-season, has informed the club that he will play again in 1968.

Weeb Ewbank, coach and general manager of the American Football League club, said Sample, a cornerback, would report to the Jets training camp on the Hofstra University campus July 22.

Sample talked of retirement following the 1967 season and said his restaurant and ticket agency business in Philadelphia demanded his full attention.

HOWEVER, he informed the club he has found someone to operate his businesses and will be available for another campaign.

Congress May Refuse To Seat Adam Clayton Powell Next Year

By MARY E. STRATFORD

SCLC's call for ministers to lead the boycott against commercial products had an unexpected response. Some of the youth of the churches have decided to boycott their pastors.

Many young people want their congregations to become more involved in social change but are stymied by conservative leadership in the pulpit.

The churches' "Young Turks" plan to boycott in the form of ignoring the collection plates and petitioning the church hierarchy to get rid of the ministers.

Meanwhile, SCLC's appeal for a boycott has met sympathetic support but folks are confused about which products or stores are to be avoided.

THE DEPT. of Commerce is looking for public information specialists at the Grade 11 and 13 levels. They hope some brothers and sisters will apply.

SOME JURORS in U.S. District Court have expressed concern for their safety when guilty verdicts are rendered in crimes of violence. They feel defendants on bond should be frisked whenever they enter the courtroom during trial.

WHILE U.S. District Court Judge Edward Curran arraigned over 200 persons recently, the majority on looting charges, narcotics users were doing their thing in the rest rooms, not an unusual sight in the courts.

WASHINGTON NOTEBOOK

THERE is talk on Capitol Hill that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell will not be permitted to take his seat in the next session. The matter reportedly has already been privately discussed and decided among his former colleagues.

C. SUMNER STONE'S advocacy of Father William Wendt for D.C. Mayor in a recent issue of the Washingtonians has folks puzzled. Stones concept of black power is total control of the black community by black people. Father Wendt thinks black but isn't.

World Church Assembly opens

UPPSALA, Sweden (UPI) — Social and political change and the relations between rich and poor nations formed the key issues at the Fourth Assembly of the World Council of Churches here last week.

The two-week Assembly, described as the widest gathering in the history of Christianity, gathered in the huge Upsala Cathedral with King Gustaf Vi Adolf of Sweden in the congregation.

Some 800 official delegates from 232 churches in 80 countries pledged to walk in a colorful procession to the Cathedral.

Also two sisters Mrs. Truletta Tucker of Baltimore and Mrs. Eva Harris of North Carolina also five grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

South Baltimore Notes

By WALTER W.E. HILL

Youth Day at Ebenezer AME Church was one of success as the youngsters turned in $1,000.

The affair was under the chairmanship of Miss Margaret Oliver. The Rev. S.A. Thompson is pastor.

The District Conference and Sunday School Convention of the Hagerstown District AME Church will be held at Bethel AME Church, Randallstown, Md., July 16, 17, 18, and 19.

Miss Sandra Johnson, cited in last week's column, says she will be resigning from her present job to work for the Social Security Administration.

The Rev. Roland Johnson, pastor of Mt. Winans Bethany Baptist Church, will be soon vacationing with his wife, the Rev. Eloise Johnson, and their children.
