Points given for clean neighborhoods

"Don't let your neighborhood become a slum area. If you can remember, slum areas were once respectable neighborhoods.

Organize your block, work together for a better community. If you have unity you have organization. Let's get together in our respective blocks and report to proper authorities the many things responsible for a neighborhood becoming a slum area.

So said Mrs. Jeanette B. Leath, AFRO Clean Block director in her message this week to several groups.

YOU KNOW—

1. That you and your children are responsible? Allowed to throw cigarette packages, candy, ice cream wrappers and other containers in the street; orange peels and banana skins; the throwing and breaking of glass containers.

2. That children can not live beautiful lives when there is no beauty around, a neighborhood that tolerates unwholesome influences and undesirable practices.

3. That you and your neighbors should live up to your obligations, as civic minded and law abiding citizens.

4. That the law requires you and your neighbors to have metal containers with handles and a tight-fitting lid.

5. That you should urge your friends, neighbors and their friends to stop blowing horns on their cars, early in the morning and late at night, especially, drivers picking up their riders, enroute to work.

6. That it is against the law for trucks to be parked more than one hour at a time in front of your home and especially so, overnight.

7. You should feel proud of your surroundings and help to safeguard the peace and quiet of your neighborhood.

8. That you must respect yourself first in your block and your children and others will have respect for you.

9. That your children should not run on your lawn or your neighbor's lawn if the grass is expected to grow and look beautiful. Encourage him to use the sidewalk, rather than make a path across the lawn.

10. That the grass in front and in back should be kept tidy by regular cutting.

11. In sweeping the side walk, it gives a neater appearance to the block, if you take up the trash instead of sweeping it in the gutter—remember it is a law against sweeping trash in the gutter.

12. If you happen to trim your hedges or cut your lawn, sweep up, it is unattractive to the block, in fact it looks terrible.

13. That your neighbor has a television and radio and you need not play yours so loud.

Organized blocks get together and fight such nuisances as mentioned above and protect the neighborhood.

300 youths to enjoy outing

Edgewood Arsenal will host 300 inter-city Baltimore youths in a day-long outing on Saturday at the CAPA field facilities under the auspices of the Urban Problems Subcommittee of the Federal Executive Association of Maryland.

Activities for the youngsters—ranging in age from 10 to 18 years—will begin at 10 a.m. and conclude at 5:30 p.m.

Children will be selected by the Baltimore City Welfare Department and the Community Action Agency. Baltimore city school buses will transport the youths to and from the event.

Lt. Col. Herbert Freeman, director of Installation Services, is serving as coordinator of the project, the first of several planned for inner-city youths during the summer months utilizing Federal facilities.

The Employees Activities Association of the Social Security Administration in Baltimore is assisting in defraying the cost of refreshments.

Former major league pitcher Steve Ridzik and Lenny Moore, recently retired Colts' halfback, will be present and assist in organization of athletic events.

Twenty-five students from Edgewood High School will serve as teenage hosts for the event.

'Black America' telecast straightens U.S. history

BY RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The second program of CBS-TV's seven-part series "Of Black America," traced the history of colored servicemen from the Revolutionary War to Vietnam.

The stated purpose of the half-hour broadcast was to "set the record straight" by showing and describing the participation of blacks in the nation's military history.

As the program noted, even some black servicemen in Vietnam today think they are the first to prove the considerable involvement of colored soldiers in America's armed forces.

• • •

WITH EFFECTIVE simplicity, producer Peter Poor, writers Thomas A. Johnson and Jon Wilkman, and narrator Bill Cosby took apart this myth piece by piece.

One would think that in an enlightened nation this would hardly be necessary but the broadcast illustrated how some whites have often simply ignored the achievements of America's black fighting men. The program might have mentioned television too.

I mean, of course, television's entertainment series. The news departments, by simply doing their job, have illustrated fully how blacks are an integral part of the American fighting machine. One thinks, for instance, of two noted documentaries —CBS-TV's "The Anderson Platoon" and NBC-TV's "Same Mud, Same Blood"—as highlighting this point. Cameras covered Vietnam.

• • •

BUT THIS broadcast, "The Black Soldier," went way back, to the start of the nation. About 5,000 colored Americans fought in the Revolutionary War, and two of them crossed the Delaware with Washington. In fact, as the program noted, the first man to fall in the Revolutionary War, Crispus Attucks, was black.

The broadcast also told of the participation of blacks in Teddy Roosevelt's charge up San Juan Hill, of colored cavalry regiments instrumental in the winning of the West, and of black history in the War of 1812, the war between North and South, the two World Wars and Korea—and of the military segregation that lasted so long.

• • •

THERE WERE, the broadcast noted, 30 negroes on the battleship Maine the night it was sunk. In the North-South war, about 186,000 black soldiers took part, and more than 30,000 died.

The program observed further that tan soldiers died with General Custer and captured Geronimo, and that 38,000 of the half-million Americans killed in World War II were black.

Soviets lose tennis m 5

MONTE CARLO, Monaco, (UPI) — The General Assembly of the International Lawn Tennis Federation Wednesday rejected a proposal by the Soviet Union to ban South Africa from world tennis competitions because of the country's racial policies.

The vote was 147 to 32 against the Russian motion.

The General Assembly meeting here at the Congresses Palace with delegates from all main world tennis associations finally closed ranks to protest what was considered an intrusion by politicians.

• • •

THE VOTE of the motion was announced at a press conference following a full Day's meeting.

Opposition to the motion was led by the Italian delegation. The group fought against the Russian motion saying "Let us leave politics to governments and keep sports for ourselves."

Record gate sees jazz festival

NEWPORT, R.I. — The largest crowd in its 15-year history was on hand for the 1968 Newport Jazz Festival, promoter George Wein estimating that some 18,000 persons nightly witnessed the star-studded four-day affair.

For the first time, the jazz standbys were augmented by a lineup of top pop groups and acts. Ramsey Lewis, Hugh Masekela, Dionne Warwick, Bud Freeman, Pee Wee Walker and Ray Charles and his troupe performed.

The festival was emceed by popular comic Flip Wilson.

• • •

DESPITE the crowds and the inevitable traffic jams, the Newport scene was not ruffled by any of the violence of rowdyism which marred some previous festivals here.

The crowds were generally seriously committed to listening to the performers.

• • •

THE WORST display of bad manners had actress Joan Crawford as the target. Miss Crawford, now a good-will ambassadress for Pepsi Cola, was making the introductions for Duke Ellington when some in the audience became impatient and asked her to "wrap it up."

Miss Crawford held her ground and managed to finish her comments with an assist from Ellington who kissed her on both cheeks.

During her emotional outburst, one fan in the audience was overheard saying that "Joan has lost her cola." Pepsi-Cola, incidentally, had the soft-drink concession on the field.

• • •

ELLINGTON'S appearance Friday night was part of the "Schlitz Salute To Big Bands," also featuring the orchestras of Count Basie, Woody Herman and Dizzy Gillespie.

Charlie Barnet, one of the top names of the swing era was on hand along with Erskine Hawkins, another luminary of that period, for a rundown of their hits.

Veteran vocalist Jack Leonard reprised his old hit, "Marie," while Bob Eberle waxed nostalgic with "Green Eyes" and "Tangerine."

Singer nixes S. African tour

LONDON — American singer Scott Walker, now a British resident, has turned down a $24,000 tour of South Africa and Rhodesia because of the probability of playing to segregated audiences.

Initially, Walker, who is white, played the nine-day trek on the understanding that there would be no racial separation of audiences. But when the contract arrived from Peter Bankoff Enterprises of Capetown, Walker discovered that it did not contain a clause to that effect.

• • •

"THE PROMOTERS can run their shows any way they like," Walker said, "but they cannot expect me to do things which conflict with my own conscience."

The tour was to have been followed by a visit by John Walker, Scott's former partner in the Walker Bros. group This has also been cancelled, together with a third trip next year in which the two would have joined again.

Rockefeller calls for housing body

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller Friday called for the establishment of a national housing research foundation which would have as one of its main purposes the improvement on construction methods to reduce housing costs.

Rockefeller, in another of his "position papers," said the foundation's work "should be comparable in scope to the Manhattan Project which developed our nuclear technology during World War II."

"To replace blighted housing and to provide living space for our increasing population, we will have to build new low income and middle income housing at a rate at least six times the rate we are building now," the GOP presidential candidate said.
