2500 Emerson St., Capt. Mary Robinson and 500 Gold St., Capt. Tyrone Edmonds.

Fourth place-$25 — 1700 N. Dallas St., Capt. Patricia Curtis.

About the photo finish in this category, Clean Block Director Mrs. Jeanette Leath observed that "the blocks were just so good the judges couldn't decide between them."

Judges who toured the blocks a week before last Sunday's closing meeting were Mrs. Marian Winbourne, Mrs. Eloise Taylor and Miss Linda Calloway, assistant director.

Their choices for second and third places in the housing projects were 1600 Delano Ct., second prize of $35, Capt. Paulette Bennett; 1206 Waldo Ct., third prize of $25, Capt. Vanessa E. Hunter.

In the suburban division they picked these winners after the winning block of 1600 N. Payson St.: 2. 3700 Woodridge, $35, Capt. Vallero Swann; 3. 400 New Pittsburg, $30, Capt. Maxine Jubilee; and 4. 2200 Bryant Ave., $25, Capt. Dale Bush.

Mrs. Leath said the blocks were judged on neatness, the weekly reports and how early they joined the campaign.

She offered her sincere "thanks to all the people who participated and helped to make this a successful campaign. I want to thank all supporters, contributors and people who gave of their time."

In one last word she said she hoped all her helpers would continue to keep the blocks clean, "that all those who enjoyed the campaign would encourage others."

In all, 135 cash awards, just tokens of the work that went into the campaign, were given out from the prize fund that reached $2,200, from interested contributors.

Honored guests at the afternoon affair included:

Joseph Smith, representative of Congressman Clarence D. Alesandro Sgt. Carolyn Robinson, of the Police Department Mrs. Robert Farrar, of the Women's Civic League; Randolph Jones, of Keep Maryland Beautiful John Hartley, of American Brewery; Father Herbert Jordan Lunn Harris, of Garden Blocks.

Henry Norris and his orchestra, as it has been doing for 20 years, provided the music for the afternoon.

George W. Collins, Baltimore editor of the AFRO-AMERICAN, brought greetings from the newspaper to the young workers from the over 150 blocks that entered the summer campaign.

Welfare chief hurt in crash

ST. LOUIS —Arthur J Kennedy, city director of public welfare, was injured Friday when a small, private plane struck a hillside when attempting to land at an airstrip near a Kentucky lake in northern Kentucky.

Kennedy suffered a broken right elbow and rib and back injuries. Kennedy and the pilot, identified as Tom Merredith of Edwardsville, and two children related to the pilot were taken to a hospital in Murray, Ky.

The children were treated and released. Merredith was admitted to the hospital with back injuries.

Kennedy was flown back to St. Louis last night in a chartered airplane and admitted to Jewish Hospital.

Do not stir varnish. Stirring may cause air bubbles which make it almost impossible to obtain a smooth finish. To remove excess varnish from brush do not drag the bristles across the rim of the can. This causes tiny air bubbles to form.

Cash promoted by Humble Oil

WILLIAM H. CASH
Wins Promotion

William H. Cash, has been promoted to the position of accountant, general accounts, for Humble Oil and Refining Company's eastern region accounting department, headquartered in Baltimore.

The appointment is effective immediately, according to E.E. Ebberts, Humble's eastern region accounting manager.

* * *

For the past nine months, Mr. Cash has been in the financial reporting section of the Baltimore office.

A 1966 graduate of Ohio State University, he joined the oil firm in October of that year and completed an intensive one-year training program in Baltimore.

He and his wife, the former Cheryl Griffin of Brunswick, Ga., and their two children, Christopher and Natalie, live in Baltimore. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Cash, are Mansfield, Ohio residents.

Million Dollar Oil Man: George Dixon

George Dixon is a successful American Oil Dealer. His success comes because of the way he uses the million dollars in equipment, facilities and products American Oil has put in his hands.

He makes them work for his customers—and their cars are better for it.

As George says, "They're long but happy hours because I like to meet my customers... they're my neighbors and friends."

One good dealer doesn't make an oil company great ...but, 29,000 good ones do.

Report From Europe

By OLLIE STEWART

PARIS — Some months ago I had the pleasure of picking up bits of news about Berlin and Spain and Africa from Wilk S. Peters, a former member of the Morgan State faculty.

Peters spent most of the winter studying languages in these places. His wife, Mrs. Geneva Peters, was here for a few days in mid-August. It wasn't her first trip — though it was a first time for those with her.

* * *

HER COMPANIONS were Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Crouch, of Chicago. Mr. Crouch is the brother of Mrs. Peters, and if I heard it right, they had a real good time in Paris.

"We saw the Moulin Rouge," enthused Mrs. Peters, "and had a tour. Then we went shopping on our last day." That last day was August 16. They left for home on August 17.

* * *

LEAVING TWO days before were four women from various parts of the USA (though traveling together) who had just about completed a fast visit to seven countries.

They were Mesdames Ruth Watkins, Los Angeles; Josephine Denton, Los Angeles; Kathryn Epps, Teaneck, N. J.; and Elizabeth Gilliam, Williamston, N.C.

From Paris, they went on to London, their final port of call. Previously, they spent a few days in Portugal, Spain, Switzerland, Germany and Italy.

I was especially glad to see Mrs. Watkins because she brought a "hello" message from my cousin, Bertha Shelne. The two women live next door to each other in the City of Angels.

* * *

OLD HOME week? In Paris? It can happen. And it really happened at the end of the second week in August when Ophelia and Charles Irving arrived — with their beautiful little daughter, Cyrtha.

The Irvings live in Raleigh, N.C., but they get around. Ophelia was here a couple of years ago and almost walked me to death. She wanted to see everything, and Paris is a big city. But she tried to cram it all in.

This time, though, wasn't the victim of her lust for walking and sightseeing. She brought her husband, and he was the one who caught it. Helping out as interpreter was a nice student from New York named Susan Barnes, who's studying French and literature at the Sorbonne.

SO IT was old home stuff when all of them came by my place. We yakked about everything from Alabama to North Carolina to New York, about who'll be the next President to Paris food; and finally about my family.

The Irvings spent three days in London before coming to Paris; and left for home on August 18. I was sorry to see them go, but it's a good bet they'll be back again before long.

And speaking of the next President, the British are really worried. A Washington correspondent for the London News of the World stated recently, "If it's Nixon, it will mean a chilly time for the British."

Under Nixon, the writer foresees an American withdrawal from world affairs. "The United States would lose its stomach for leadership," he declares.

What he actually means is that a broke British nation might not be able to count on being propped up by the USA, as is true now. And with Britain's record, nobody else would be liable to bail them out.

PRETTY MODEL Joan Parks, Atlanta co-ed, invited inspection of the Dodge Barracuda V-8, one of 102 cars and trucks viewed by the news media representatives at the annual Chrysler Corporation preview held in the Georgia capital, last week.

Miss Kathy Dunn wed to Samuel Jackson

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — Historic Old Ship AME Zion Church, which was formerly pastored by the bride's late maternal grandfather, the Rev. W. L. Hamblin, was the setting for the nuptials of Miss Kathy Diane Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Johnson Dunn and Samuel Leon Jackson, here, recently.

Mr. Jackson is the son of Mrs. Martha Williams of this city.

The Rev Edward C. McLean officiated. Soloists were Earnest Bell and Mrs. Leotis Peterman, and Dr. Ralph Simpson was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, Athletic Director at Alabama State College the bride wore an original gown of candlelight silk organza over silk peau de soie, enhanced with Alencon lace. The lace created a bateau neckline and was appliqued down and elbow length sleeves the sides of the straight gown. A wide border of the lace edged the hem line.

She wore a matching length train of English net bordered with a wide band of lace. Appliques of the lace were placed on the net.

Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of feathered carnations centered with a corsage of white orchids. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

* * *

MRS. SANDRA BELL of Detroit, a cousin of the bride, was the matron of honor. Other attendants were Miss Mary Alice Scot and Mrs. Sara Neptune of this city, and Mrs. Marilyn Powe of Birmingham.

The attendants were gowned alike in spring mauve nresses with matching satin bows placdd on the front below the neckline.

The backs were highlighted with panels extending from low square back necklines to the floor. They wore double butterfly bows of the same fabric with bouffant veils of matching maline.

Each attendant carried a single long stem carnation with fern and ribbons complimenting the gowns.

Mr. Jackson was attended by David Winston as best man. Groomsmen were Leotis Peterman, Joseph Lacey and Jethro Wilson. Ushers were Roosevelt Harris and Clifford Dunn of Philadelphia, a cousin of the bride.

Junior ushers were Michael Williams, brother of the bridegroom and Jimmy Dunn of Annisto, cousin of the bride. Bernard Carpenter, nephew of the bride, lighted the candles, and Keneth Carpenter, a nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer.

The bride is a graduate of Fisk University and the University of Michican and is currently an instructor of English at Alabama State College. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Aloha Sorority and Links, inc.

The groom received both undergraduate and graduate degrees from Olabama State College, and is currently an instructor of mathematics at Houston Jill School. He is a member of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc.

* * *

A RECEPTION was held in the Alabama State College Union following the ceremony.

Hostesses were Mesdames Thelma Glass, Annie Lowe, Cynthia Alexander, Doris Sanders, Athsander, Doris Sanders Othalie Smiley, Misses Susie Whetstone and Bernice Hollinger.

Mrs. Carolyn Robinson of Los Angeles and Miss Bertha Underwood kent the bride's register. Serving punch were Misses Elvira Kynard and Patricia Oliver, Mesdames Ethel Bell, Rosalyn King, Joyce Weiss, and Helen Shores Lee of Los Angeles, college roommate of the bride.

Among the out-of-town guests were:

Mrs. Bernice Johnson, and daughter, Mrs. Sandra Bell, and Miss Nanevia Judkins, Detroit; Mrs. Hortense Lattimer and Mrs. Mary Hardy, Chicago; John Clifford Dunn, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Poole, Athens, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. James Dunn and son, Jimmy, Anniston; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Powe and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sanders, Birmingham; Mrs. Helen Shores Lee, Los Angeles;

Mrs. G. Hubert Lockhart and daughter, Aretha, Brewton; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Carnegie and sons, Bernard and Kenneth, Hughes, Ark.; Mrs. Mary Smith, Englewood, N.J.;

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Wilbame and daughters, Jan and Leesa, Daphne, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Rosa Owen and daughter, Rosalyn, Mrs. Louise Trigg and Mrs. Zelda Bolton, Tuskegee Institute.

NEWLYWEDS — Mrs. Etoria Matthews of Washington and Dr. George Wright of Springfield, Ohio and Washington, were married last Sunday in Washington's Metropolitan Wesley AME Zion Church. He is a government scientist and she is a law secretary.

World renowned chemist D. Percy Julian of Detroit and Mexico, will add another to his collection of honors, next Wednesday when Lafayette College, Easton, Pa. confers an honorary degree upon him at Founders Convocation ceremonies opening the college's academic year. Dr. Julian director of the Julian Research Institute, will receive a doctor of laws degree. Others to receive honorary degrees will be Julius Manger, Jr., chairman of the board of Manger Hotel Companies, and G. Herbert McCracken, vice chairman of Scholastic Magazines, Inc., both trustees of the college, who will receive degrees of doctor of humane letters and doctor of letters respectively.

As for Dr. Julian, after graduating from De Pauw University as valedictorian and a member of Phi Beta Kappa, he went on to earn a masters degree from Harvard University and a Ph.D. degree from the University of Vienna. He taught chemistry at West Virginia State College, and Fisk, Howard and DePauw Universities before devoting his talent and time entirely to chemistry.

IF YOU DON'T agree that this is a great world you will have to admit that it is an interesting one. Now Florynce Kennedy, civil rights lawyer (she was formerly counsel for H. "Rap" Brown, is on the warpath for "N O W", an equal rights organization devoted to achieving full equity for women in truly equal partnership with men.

She will kick off N O W's campaign announced by Betty Friedman, author of "The Feminine Mystique" of nationwide boycott of products of companies that do not employ women in all jobs on the basis of job-related qualifications only. In a nutshell, the ladies are off on a battle against sex discrimination.

OFFICERS AND delegates attending the 19th annual convention of the National Association of Fashion and Accessory Designers, in Philadelphia, developed what National President Henriene H. Vincent termed, "a most ambitious and gratifying program of self improvement and rendering community services."

The new program was unanimously approved by the 150 delegates convening at the Philadelphia-Sheraton Hotel.

With emphasis placed on serving the needs of today's youth, a six-point program was adopted to relate to these special areas of interest:

(A) Creating job opportunities through NAFAD human resources; (B) Enlarging NAFAD's membership to include other talented individuals; (C) Broaden participation in the National Council of Negro Women, NAACP, and Southern Christian Leadership Conference; (D) Program and project NAFAD members info national and regional Fashion Seminars and Apparel Shows; (E) Conduct a comprehensive program of publicity concerning NAFAD accomplishments; and (F) Increas NAFAD's scholarship awards to deserving students particularly interested in Fashion Designing and Art.

In keeping with the immediate timeliness of these perspectives, NAFAD members voted to award their 1968 Scholarship Grant to the Cleveland Job Corrps Center for Women. The check was presented to students at the Cleveland Center and Dr. Yelma George by the Financial Secretary, Miss Catherine Blackwell of Philadelphia, Penna. and NAFAD founder, Mrs. Jeaneta W. Brown of Cleveland, Ohio.

National officers elected for the 1968-70 term are:

National president, Henriene H. Vincent, St. Louis, Mo.; first vice president, Armaza B. Mathis, East Orange, N.J., Eastern Regional vice president, Betty W. Thompson, W. Roxbury, Mass.; Midwest regional vice president, Laurene Smith, Columbus, Ohio.; Southern Regional vice president, Ruth B. Turner, St. Louis, Mo.; Farwest Regional vice president, Onita Bogan, Los Angeles, Calif.; secretary, Beatrice Spencer, Cleveland, Ohio.; financial secretary, Catherine Blackwell, Philadelphia; treasurer, Vera Clanton, San Francisco, Calif.; parliamentarian, Rose Nelson, Kansas City, Mo.; historian, Vivian Soyles, Philadelphia; reporter, Teresa M. Jackson, Cleveland, Ohio.; junior coordinator, Beatrice Ferguson, Kansas City, Mo.

For 1969, NAFAD will meet in Kansas City, Mouri., with a post-convention European tour already in the making.

THOSE MOST BEAUTIFUL invitations that went out across country last week, reminded friends that Mr. and Mrs. Berry Gordy, Sr. of Detroi, Mich. have reached a half century of marriage. Their children are entertaining at a reception for them on September 7 in the main ballroom of Veterans' Memorial.

There will be a reaffirmation of vows at two in the afternoon in Bethel AME Church, Frederick at St. Antine Sts., on Sept. 7th. Family and close friends have been requested to not send gifts, but, if they will, make donations to the Loieve Gordy Wakefield Memorial Scholarship Fund instead
