Report From Europe

By OLLIE STEWART

PARIS — Lots of visitors are coming to Paris, among them, last week, two Ph. D's, a husband and wife team, who were my guests.

Dr. and Mrs. Gerald A. (Cecile) Edwards, dropped by for an hour just before flying home via London. Gerald is chairman, division of natural sciences and mathematics, at A. and T. State University, Greensboro, N.C., and Cecile is chairman, division of home economics.

They were going home after two years in Mysore, India, where Gerald has been science consultant, under the Ohio State University regional college of education.

In addition to Gerald and Cecile, there was Gerald's mother, Mrs. C. Ruth Edwards, and the three Edwards children — Junior, 13, Adrienne, 10, and Hazel, 5.

Leaving Bombay on August 4, they visited Cairo, Athens, Tel Aviv, Jerusalem, Rome, Naples, Paris and London — arriving in Greensboro August 23.

IN TOWN at the same time were Dr. and Mrs. Lonnie E. Mitchell, 4320-21st Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., fresh from London where Lonnie attended the seventh International Congress on Mental Health, August 12-17.

Lonnie read a paper to the congress on "training non-professionals for roles in mental health."

He's a clinical psychologist, and assistant clinical professor of psychiatry, Howard University medical school. He's also on the board of directors, University Research Corporation.

Since he was the first psychiatrist I'd ever met, I asked a lot of silly questions, but I was curious. I had to know. One was, "Do people really stretch out on a couch and tell you their troubles?"

"They do," he told me. And now I believe it. But I'm still shook up. All my life I've been getting out of trouble the best way I could.

church grant Weeks given

NASHVILLE, TEnn — Samuel Marion Weeks Jr., a freshman at Meharry Medical College this fall, has been awarded a National Methodist Scholarship by the Board of Education of the Methodist Church. Weeks, from Atlanta, is the son of Mrs. Ida B. Weeks and the late Samuel Marion Weeks. A Cum Laude graduate who majored in chemistry, Weeks at 19, was a 1966 graduate of Fisk University.

The National Methodist Scholarship Awards cover tuition and fees up to $500 and are granted on the basis of superior academic standing, leadership ability, active participation in the church, character, personality and need.

Foxes-Hares modeling group hold 10th annual conference

DETROIT, Mich. — This city was the site of the 10th annual national convention of the Foxes and the Hares, last week, with Continental Capers, a fashion group, hosts for the meeting.

The headquarters at the Howard Johnson Motor Lodge abounded with activity from early Friday evening until late Sunday night with these fashion and photographic models from all over the country presenting the customary "pretty people" picture all the while.

Included in the activity for the week-end was a pre-convention welcome party at Carmen Murphy's elegant House of Beauty; a luncheon meeting in the Coach Room of Howard Johnson's; closed reception at the Pepe People's manse; mammoth fashion presentation at Ford Auditorium; and au revoir party hosted by the Gotham Boys at the 20 Grand Motel reception suite.

The 1969 convention meeting will be held in Milwaukee, Wis. under the sponsorship of the Alyce Stoney Modeling and Career School.

The delegation awards went to the Monique School of Modeling, Columbus, Ohio "Largest Visiting Delegation"; Pauline Horn Enterprises, Detroit, "Largest Local Delegation"; and Joyce Brickey, Los Angeles, Calif. "Delegate Coming the Greatest Distance".

Other groups represented at this annual meeting were Pat Ware Agency Dayton; Emma Harper Charm, Cincinnati; Eve Brown Modeling, Cleveland; Flora McGhee Charm and Modeling, Birmingham, Ala.

Also Warren Haskins Agency, Philadelphia; Alyce Stoney Modeling and Career, Milwaukee, Wisc.; Carlton Hamilton Modeling, Chicago, Ill. Brookie Young Charm, Detroit, Opal Johnson Modeling, Chicago, Ill.; Monique School, Niagara Falls, N.Y. and Carri Scott Charm, Chicago.

The Foxes and the Hares is a fashion and photographic models organization founded by Bill Howard, the present National Executive Director.

Union programs inprove skills

The AFL-CIO's civil rights director has reported growing success of union-sponsored "out-reach" programs aimed at bringing minority group youngsters into building trades jobs.

Donald Slaiman said "as a direct result" of the effort, more than 1,500 colored youngsters and other minorities have entered building trades apprenticeships over the last three years — most of them during the last year.
