Madison Ave. YWCA opens registration f or programs

Clubs for adults, clubs for teen-agers, classes in everything from charm to judo, law to sewing, knitting to jazz characterize the gamut of family activities being offered by the Madison Avenue Young Women's Christian Association this fall.

Special registration dates for this Community Chest agency are Sept. 9 to Sept. 19.

All club activities will begin in October and offer opportunities to make new friends, develop different interests, and enjoy Baltimore through gatherings, discussions, trips, and community service.

The Cosmopolitan Club for age 22 and over meets the second and fourth Thursday at 11 a.m. Women from Trinidad form the core group and plan parties and activities with local community women.

The "Gadabouts" is a club for ages 18 to 23. Bowling, movies, discussion groups, concert outings, and dinners are part of the regular program.

New scholarship fund established at Morgan

The Mabel Truesdale Caldwell Scholarship Fund has been established at Morgan State College with $25,289.95 left by the caterer to the College, Cleveland A. Chandler, chairman of the Financial Aid Committee, announced today (Tuesday).

Beginning this September, two $700 scholarships will be awarded. One to a sophomore to be renewed annually through the student's senior year and one to a senior.

The scholarship fund will be invested and future awards will depend on the annual yield from investments.

In keeping with the will of Mrs. Caldwell, a Baltimore caterer who died in December 1966, the scholarships are to go to deserving and needy students. No required minimum average has been established for these scholarships. However, a reasonable scholarship records will be required by the Committee.

ACCORDING TO Mrs. Juanita Jackson Mitchell, co-executrix of the estate, the fund is composed of 120 shares of American Telephone and Telegraph stock, 17 shares of Baltimore Gas and Electric stock and $18,287.95 in cash.

During her lifetime, Mrs. Caldwell helped many students through Morgan, including her nephew by marriage, Nathaniel Pierson, '59.

He received his master's degree at Cornell University under a graduate assistantship and is now supervisory labor economist in the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division of the Department of Labor.

TO HELP VICTIMS — Catherine Parran was chairman of a carnival sponsored in the 3200 block of Baker St. Monday afternoon to help in the fight against Muscular Dystrophy.

Morgan opens Saturday for College Week

Morgan State College will open its 102nd year with a Faculty Institute on The Computer on campus, Friday, Saturday and Monday, Dr. Harold Delaney, dean of the College, has announced.

Some 1,000 freshmen will report on Saturday for the annual Introduction to College Week. The seventh Annual Parents Conference, for parents and guardians of entering freshmen, will be held 9 a.m., Saturday, in the Carl Murphy Auditorium. Classes for all students begin September 19.

Some of the computer problems to be discussed at the Faculty Institute are compilation of verbal data, compilation of census data, producing abstract art, transposing a melody from one key to another, the two-food diet problem, mm, matrix arithmetic, test scoring and analysis, computation of the mean, variance and standard deviation and moving averages.

Also on the agenda is a report by the Ad Hoc Faculty-Student Committee on state college integration.

During the past year the faculty in response to student demands has made several major changes in general education requirements at the college, expanded the course offerings in all areas as well as in black life and culture, and approved a three-credit course under the pass/fail option for 90 hours of service and involvement with community agencies and organizations.

The faculty also abolished compulsory ROTC as of September 1968, approved unlimited class cuts, increased student voting representation and committees and accepted in principle a program of teacher course evaluation.

Salisbury sets registration

Salisbury State College will hold a pre-registration day for students recently admitted to the College at 10 a.m. on Saturday.

Approximately fifty students new to the college will come to the campus on that day to plan programs, receive introductory material dealing with orientation and meet faculty and administrative personnel.

Many of these new students are transferring from community and other colleges and will be given the opportunity on this day to receive individual assistance in planning academic programs.

Classes begin on September 12 at Salisbury State College. Final registration for all students new to the campus will be held on Tuesday, September 10 beginning at 9 a.m. Students returning to the camous will register on Wednesday, September 11 at 10 a.m.

Information concerning admission to Salisbury State College may be obtained from the Office of the Director of Admissions.

Asks for probe on cops in Chi

NEW YORK — U.S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark was called upon last week by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith to order a federal grand jury investigation in Illinois of the police activity and of any violations of the civil rights to demonstrators in the streets of Chicago while the Democratic Party Convention was in progress.

Speaking for the League, Dore Schary, its national chairman, urged the Attorney General to proceed under Section 242 of Title 18 of the U.S. Code, which authorizes action.
