ing with much celerity.

He began broadcasting with his "Happy Am I" choir over radio station W.J.S.V., whose facilities were then located in Alexandria, Va. Elder Michaux gave the call letters of the station the label: "Willingly Jesus Suffered for Victory."

When WJSV entered the Columbia Broadcasting System its name was changed to WTOP and it was moved to Washington.

The Elder's early Sunday morning "Happy Am I" radio program has been heard over WTOP for more than 30 years, longer than any other continuous broadcasting in the country. His programs were marked by vocal renditions by Mrs. Michaux — most notably among her favorite selections: "Some Golden Daybreak."

DURING THE '30s his services with a "V for VICTORY" emphasis were broadcast over the British Broadcasting Corporation and reached an appreciative audience of British subjects from Ireland Scotland Wales and England.

Elder could also be heard during the 50's over the Mutual Broadcasting System and many viewed his religious program over television station WTTG one of Washington's first TV stations.

In April 1937 he was head of a delegation of distinguished colored commissioned by President Franklin Delano Roosevelt to call personally to visit the Haitian Republic. The plan was to create a closer relationship between the colored American and the Haitian Republic with a view to developing a market for the distribution of Haitian products.

At the 1940 Democratic National Convention in Chicago Elder Michaux nominated Mrs. Roosevelt as Vice President of the United States to fill the unexpired term of John Garner.

The nation took the nomination as a joke but Mrs. Roosevelt took the rein in hand and stumped the country in support of her husband.

ELDER MICHOUX was president of the National Memorial located in James City County, Va., in close proximately to the spot where the English under Captain John Smith settled in 1607 and where the first slaves landed.

It was with genuine pride that the National Memorial was founded and established for the inspiration and progress of the American colored. The National Memorial includes in its domain approximately 1,800 acres situated on the historic James River with a picturesque scenic beauty.

It was able to use his influence in securing government backing and support of the building of the Mayfair Gardens development located in northeast Washington.

This 1000 colored family housing development is privately owned and operated by the Gospel Spreading Church.

ELDER MICHOUX'S great religious career was launched in 1919 where a tent revival gained him 150 followers. Today his congregation and radio membership boosts a figure up in the thousands all over the country. "His whole life has been one uninterrupted course of duty, love, devotion and dedication to the idea that humanity needed someoene to make mankind understand what it means to live without strife in the resolution of human problems" his devotees declare.

The Elder and his famous choirs, the "Happy Am I" radio choir and the Human Cross Choir of 156 voices have performed before vast throngs of people and capacity audiences all along the Atlantic seaboard.

Including places such as Griffith stadium, Washington; in Madison Square Garden and at the World's Fair, New York City; at Convention Hall and the Arena Philadelphia; at the Mosque and City Auditorium in Richmond, Va.; the Wortz Dream Auditorium in Atlantic City and many other locations throughout the cities of the country.

Elder established a residence he maintained until his death at 1712 R St. Northwest.

Minister made last request of church

WASHINGTON — Elder Lightfoot (Solomon) Michaux, widely known evangelist and church founder, died at 6 a.m. Sunday at Freedman's Hospital where he had been in critical condition since early September.

The cause of death was not immediately disclosed.

At age 84, Elder Michaux was not expected to recover after he was hospitalized. Because of this the church of God, Temple of Freedom, proceeded with its annual mammoth baptismal on Sept. 29 which had been delayed in Elder Michaux's absence.

With him at the time of his death were his personal physician, Dr. Carlton Alexis, and a private male nurse.

Elder Michaux's last request came Friday when he asked for and received the tape of his final sermon preached at his Washington Church at 2030 Georgia Ave., NW.

Plans had not been completed for funeral arrangements at AFRO presstime.

A church spokesman said there will be no special services Sunday because the church is in a 10-day period of prayer and fasting as part of a regular three-month observance.

Frederick Rainey, chairman of the church's board of directors, who had just returned from Newport News, Va., where the elder also has a church, was expected to make the arrangements.

ELDER MICHAUX'S wife, Mrs. Mary E. Michaux, died Oct. 29, 1967. His church, through the Gospel Singing Association, holds extensive property valued well into the millions of dollars.

In the district, the first major real estate undertaking was Mayfair Mansions in Northeast. Recently, the church completed another several - hundred unit low income housing project.

His survivors are three sisters, Mrs. Ruth Jones, of D.C.; Mrs. Jenny McRae, Newport News, and Mrs. Margaret Bank, New York City; and two brothers, Lonnie and Morris.
