A Negro started the most important bank in the world.

Old Taylor Presents: Ingenious Americans
Charles Richard Drew (1905-1950)

Emergency. Someone needs massive blood transfusions immediately. The doctor makes one simple phone call, and in minutes the proper type is delivered, enough of it to save a life. Every day, in virtually every country of the world, blood banks perform their life-saving service.

We take blood banks for granted today, but less than 30 years ago this one simple phone call was impossible. It was not until 1941 that Dr. Charles Drew, then director of the British Blood Plasma Project, introduced the revolutionary idea of a central depository for blood.

Drew's next step was to improve the methods of preserving blood. And as the first director of the American Red Cross Blood Bank, he supplied much-needed plasma to the United States Armed Forces.

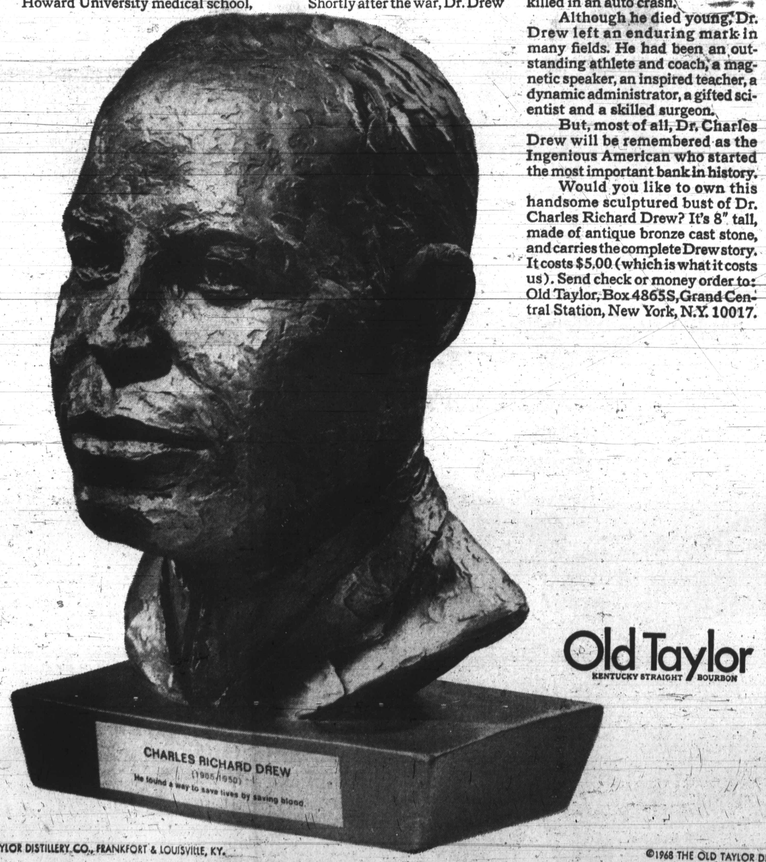
But it was not only through the banking of blood that Dr. Drew made his mark. In the 1930s, as a professor and head of surgery at Howard University medical school, Dr. Drew trained and encouraged hundreds of young doctors. Under his strong leadership, the enrollment at Howard swelled.

Shortly after the war, Dr. Drew was named surgical consultant for the United States Army. Then, a year later, his brilliant career was brought to an abrupt halt. He was killed in an auto crash.

Although he died young, Dr. Drew left an enduring mark in many fields. He had been an outstanding athlete and coach, a magnetic speaker, an inspired teacher, a dynamic administrator, a gifted scientist and a skilled surgeon.

But, most of all, Dr. Charles Drew will be remembered as the Ingenious American who started the most important bank in history.

Would you like to own this handsome sculptured bust of Dr. Charles Richard Drew? It's 8" tall, made of antique bronze cast stone, and carries the complete Drew story. It costs $5.00 (which is what it costs us). Send check or money order to: Old Taylor, Box 4865S, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017.



Old Taylor
KENTUCKY STRAIGHT BOURBON

KENTUCKY STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY, 86 PROOF, THE OLD TAYLOR DISTILLERY CO., FRANKFORT & LOUISVILLE, KY.

©1968 THE OLD TAYLOR DISTILLERY CO.

Gadabouting U.S.A.
by Lula Jones Garrett

The wedding of Judith Amy Claytor, daughter of Dr. Robert W. Claytor, Grand Rapids, Mich. physicaa, and Miss Claytor, who is the national president of the Young Women's Christian Association, and Edward L. Williams of Washington, D.C., was event of Saturday, in Grand Rapids.

For her wedding, the bride wore a floor-length A-line silk-faced satin dress trimmed at the neck and at the edge of the three-quarter sleeves with beaded Venice lace. Her detachable cathedral-length train was of the same fabric as the dress, as was the headdress, which included an illusion train-length veil. She carried a colonial bouquet.

The bride's attendants including her sister, Miss Sharon Ann Claytor, as maid of honor, wore coral, floor-length dresses with high, lace-trimmed necklines and elbow length sleeves.

The bridesmaids, in identical dresses, were Mrs. Rodney Henderson, Miss Kerry Pendall, Miss Jody Golden and Miss Cheryl Glass. Junior bridesmaid was the bride's niece, Amy Wilkins, and the ringbearer was her nephew, David Wilkins, who are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Wilkins.

Best man for Mr. Williams, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal A. Williams, Newark, N.J., was Nelson Jackson, and ushers were Roger Pulliam, Arthur Attaway, Esjaye Whiters and Wiley Boulding.

For the processional, Mrs. William B. Scott, organist and a long-time friend of the Claytor family, played "Praise My Soul, the King of Heaven" by Henry Francis Lyte, and for the recessional, "Trumpet Voluntary" by Purcell. During the ceremony, Miss Luretta McCray sang "The Lord's Prayer" by Mallott and "O Perfect Love" by Dorothy Frances Gurney.

The bride, a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority, will be graduated from Western Michigan University in December. Mr. Williams is attending the Foreign Service Institute, Washington, D.C.

The couple will live in Lima, Peru, where Mr. Williams will be on assignment from the U.S. Department of State. He is a member of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity. Following graduation, in 1966, Mr. Williams taught Spanish in Niles (Michigan) High School.

• • •

THE FORTY-SIXTH wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Barringer Sr., was observed at open house in their St. Albans (New York) home, Saturday, with their children as hosts. The reception drew guests from five states.

Mrs. Barringer, the former Selena Burns, is formerly of Roanoke, Va. Their children are Edward Jr., teacher of music in the New York City School System; James, network radio-TV coordinator for the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, and Amy Renee, a pupil at St. Catherine of Sienna School in St. Albans.

Before his retirement, Mr. Barrington worked for many years for the N and W Railroad—in Roanoke, and served as a deacon in the High Street Baptist Church. He and Mrs. Barringer are currently active members of the Calvary Baptist Church in Jamaica, N.Y.

• • •

MYRNA JEWELL SMITH of Kenbridge, Va. was recently married to William Andrew Carter 3rd in Alexandria, Va., where the couple now resides.

Mrs. Carter, a graduate of Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn., with a Master of Arts degree from Columbia University, New York City, is presently employed as a science consultant in the public schools of Washington.

Mr. Carter is a native of Richmond, Va., and a graduate of Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio. He is currently on leave of absence from the Internal Revenue Service pursuing a Juris Doctorate degree from Howard University School of Law in Washington.

• • •

WITH THE LADIES: Charming Deloris V. Warren attorney, Commission daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall G. Warren of Waco, Texas) was crowned "Miss Fisk" at colorful university-wide ceremonies last week. The ceremonies in Nashville, Tenn. highlighted homecoming observations.

Miss Warren, a senior English major and a Delta, is listed in the current edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. Her father is principal of the G. L. Wiley Junior High School, and her mother on the faculty of the E. W. Carver Elementary School in Waco. In her sophomore year, Miss Warren was an exchange student at Carleton College, Northfield, Minn.

• • •

ANOTHER TEXAN, petite Betty Joyce Gillespe of Midland is "Miss Texas Southern University." The five-foot, two-inch brown-eyed lass is twenty-one years old, a senior, and major in elementary education.

Miss Gillespe is the daughter of Earnest Gillespe of Midland, and is one of eight children. She lives in Houston with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Merchant, who reside in the Cambridge Village sub-division.

The attractive Miss TSU enjoys music, reading and children. After graduation from TSU, she plans to enter graduate school for a degree in Special Education. She has an intense interest in helping the less fortunate and wants to teach the mentally retarded.

Miss Gillespe will be crowned "Miss TSU" in formal coronation ceremonies in Texas Southern University Auditorium on Friday night. The coronation will be followed by a black-tie ball in the Student Union Lounge.

MRS. TONI ARDELLE of New York City, has joined the staff of the United Church of Christ Committee for Racial Justice as director of its national higher education program. Announcement of the new position was made in New York Friday, by the Rev. Charles E. Cobb, executive coordinator of the committee.

The education program, described as a "bridge between the ghetto and the college," was established to help qualified young people from minority groups obtain a college education.

It offers full scholarships to the student, financed jointly by the college and the Committee for Racial Justice. Participating colleges are asked to enroll a minimum of ten scholarship students annually.

According to Mrs. Ardelle, the program will seek out high school students on the basis of need and promise, rather than on scholastic record or church affiliation.

Before joining the United Church national staff, Mrs. Ardelle served for two years on the staff of the Tougaloo College (Tougaloo, Miss.) Development Committee, most recently as assistant development director. In 1959 she established the East Village Secretarial Service and directed the office until 1961. From 1961 to 1966 she was associated with a New York business firm.

In community affairs Mrs. Ardelle has been active for many years in Parent Teacher organizations, the YWCA, Girl Scouts, and the Organization of Afro-American Unity.

A native of Washington, D.C., she studied business administration at Howard University in Washington. She has also studied at Peters Business College and the Modern School of Music in Washington, at the Philadelphia School of Music, Philadelphia, and the Greenwich House Music School in New York.

Mrs. Ardelle has sung professionally in the U.S. and Canada and is proficient in Arabic and karate.

She is a widow and has one son, Bernis, 15.

Miss DELORIS WARREN (Miss Fisk University)

Mrs. WILLIAM A. CARTER (Marriage announced)

Mrs. TONI ARDELLE (Takes church post)

MR. AND MRS. E. T. BARRINGER, SR. of St. Albans, N.Y. celebrated the 46th anniversary of their marriage, Saturday.

CHARMERS ALL, this delightful family group, photographed at annual St. James Episcopal Church in Baltimore, recently. They are Mrs. Patsy Pullen and daughter, Patsye, and Cherrie, 10.

Feminine Front

MISS CAROLYN M. COPELAND, senior from Hartsville, S. C., who reigns as "Miss South Carolina State" is shown with attendants Miss Lila Vanderhort, left, of Hartsville, and Miss Brenda Woody, right, of Orangeburg, S.C.

B-P women in session

NEW YORK — The annual Board of Directors meeting of the National Association of Negro Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. and a meeting of the Commission on Development Equal and Enriching were both held at the Holiday Inn at LaGuardia, here recently.

The Board, which is made up of the elected officers, discussed plan to expand the organization's scholarship program and to coordinate the various services and programming activities.

Those attending included: Mrs. Rosalie McGuire of Baltimore, Atty. Florence V. Lucas of Jamaica, N.Y. and Mrs. Dorothy North Payne of Brooklyn, vice president; Miss Mollie Turner of Detroit, Mrs. Edith Wilson of Cleveland and Mrs. V. Alice Foster of Dallas, secretaries; Miss Edythe I. Harris of New York City, treasurer; Mrs. Dorothye H. Boswell of Los Angeles, editor; and Mrs. Ethel M. Moore of Newark, N.J., public relations director.

• • •

THE SAME weekend, a meeting of the Commission on Development-Equal and Enriching was held to evaluate projects being conducted among local clubs and to outline procedures for continued implementation and coordination of the program.

"Development - Equal and Enriching" is the Association's major national project, designed to provide equal opportunities and enriching experiences for Negro girls and young women that will help lead them into the business and professional world.

Miss Florence V. Lucas, attorney, Commission chairman, announced the appointment of two additional consultants to the commission, Mrs. Arlean Greene of Columbus, Ga. and Miss Yvonne Ewell of Dallas, Texas.

Others attending, besides the national officers, were: Mrs. Marion Bryant, past national president and Mrs. Katie Johnson, consultants, both of Pittsburgh.

Mesdames Dina P. Johnson of Balimore, Robin Owens of Flint, Mich., Gertrude Williams of Los Angeles, Daisy Murrell of West Palm Beach, Fla., and Miss Grace Potteway of New Haven, Conn., all of which are Governor of their respective districts; Miss Charlotte Lewis of Los Angeles; attorney, national constitution chairman; and Mrs. Dorothy Hamlet of Cleveland, national attorney, serve as advisors.

MRS. JOHN H. JOHNSON

Mrs. Johnson on foundation board

NEW YORK — Mrs. John H. Johnson of Chicago, is one of three new members elected to the board of directors of the Educational Foundation for the Fashion Industries.

Melvin E. Dawley, chairman and chief executive officer if Lord and Taylor and Chairman of the Board of the Educational Foundation has just announced the election of Mrs. Johnson, George S. Kaufman and Anthony B. Ritter.

• • •

THE EDUCATIONAL Foundation is an advisory body to the Fashion Institute of Technology, a community college under the program of the State University of New York. The Foundation is devoted to the dissemination of fashion knowledge on a practical level for those students who are making it a life career.

Mrs. Johnson holds a B.S. degree from Talladega College in Alabama and a master's degree in social work from Loyola University, Chicago.

She comes from a line of educators. Her mother taught high school in Selma, Alabama and College at Selma University. This university was founded by her maternal grandfather, Dr. William H. McAlpine, who was also its second president. He founded and acted as first president of the National Baptist Convention. She is the wife of the publisher and vice president and secretary - treasurer of the Johnson Publishing Company of Chicago.

The National Safety Council says every three seconds someone will be injured in an accident: every five minutes someone will die from one.

Miss Leabua exhibits art

NEW YORK — Mal Mal Leabua will exhibit in the Art Gallery at the Upper Manhattan Branch YWCA Nov. 25.

Miss Leabua was born and reared in Harlem, lived in the Bronx the last 14 years where she is presently living.

Miss Leabua studied dress designing and fashion illustration in high school and in the last five years has become a self-taught portrait painter in oil and pastels; she has also done a little sculpturing.

This is the first year that Miss Leabua has been seen by the public, in May, at Jamaica Art Festival; in September, Parkchester Art Show. Some of her work is also currently on view also in the Great Hall of the Bronx County Court House.

Deltas' tea for mothers

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. — Fayetteville's Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, honored the mothers of their Sweetheart Club last week at a tea.

Mothers were cited for services to the organization. The sorors serenaded them with a "Delta Song Feast" during the afternoon.

The Sweethearts are the sorority's teen-age organization, in which good citizenship and self-development are promoted.

This was the first in a series of programs arranged for the year.

Philly Social Whirl

By BARBARA PRIGMORE

Mr. and Mrs. William Cuton, flew to Pasadena, Calif. to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tobias Cuton; and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilson. Then, they flew to Portland, Oregon to be guests of another brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Medlock.

Mrs. Cuton is a teacher at the Reynolds School and Mr. Cuton is a member of the Faculty of Youth Study Center.

• • •

MR. AND MRS. Rufus S. Watson Sr. entertained at dinner complimentary to Mrs. William B. Pickens Jr., New York, N.Y. and her sister, Mrs. Ida Saunders, in their new home in Wynfield, Pa.

Mrs. (Emillie Brown) Pickens was enroute to Los Angeles, Calif., where she spends the winter months.

• • •

THE SCHOLLEY PACE ALEXANDERS' daughter, Mrs. Cynthia Gaskill Norman, is home and attending Cheyney State College, while, her husband, Lt. Samuel Norman is on a tour of duty from Mt. Hebo Airforce Base in Oregon.

• • •

ALEXIS CLUB'S guests at their card party included:

Mesdames Bonnie Bivins, Lily Nims, Irene Montiero and her daughter Rene, Louise Cooper, Freddie Rodriques, Lillian H. Wall, "Tommi" Ammonitti, Frances T. Mitchell, Vivian Grasty.

Mesdames Barbara Prigmore, Lucille Bivens, Carole Sanders, Vennie Browning, Edith Satterfield, Mary Waynne, Emily Hughes, Margaret McCoy, Ruth Smith, Margaret Boston, W. Orme, Rachel M. Huff.

Mesdames Florence Drummond, Edith T. Mitchell, William Bigelow, Hazel M. Hunter, Beulah Beckett, Ellen McCuchen, Frances Hamblin, Sadie Garry, Gertrude Mason, E. A. Chapman, Gladys Baxter, Marian B. Montgomery, Dorothy J. Jones, Alberta Bynum.

Mesdames George Miller, Elizabeth Booker, Maurice A. Anderson, F. M. Bythewood, Christine Hazelwood, Lillian Trulear, Geraldine W. Talley, Martha Berger, Julia Harris, Gladys F. Stevenson.

Mesdames Louise C. Crawford, Dolores A. Hill, Catherine Jones, Jacqueline E. DeKnight, Rosa Daniels, Vida L. Mapp, Edith D. Wilmore, Lydia F. Bell, Jessie Nash, Raymond L. Hinson, Nettie E. Jackson, Minnie L. Lewis, Estelle Fleming, Eunice Jackson and Edna Wright.

Alexis Club's Junior Aides were Linda Fleming, Carol Fleming, Lisa Talley, Carrie Norris, Nellie Young, Deborah B. Lytle.

The traditional Annual Alexis Party benefits the Mercy-Douglass Hospital.

Clark - Gravely vows exchanged

MARTINSVILLE, Va. — Miss Veronica Ann Gravely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Watkins Conwell Gravely, and James Julius Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Clark Jr., were married Saturday evening.

The bride wore a street-length dress of white peau de sole featuring a fitted bodice of lace with high neckline, and ling sleeves, ending in bells of lace.

She carried carnations, and a white Bible.

Miss Evanglee Clark, and sister of the bridegroom and maid of honor, was gowned in pink lace, with a brief veil attached to a pink headpiece. Other attendants were Mrs. Virginia Gravely Shelton, sister of the bride, who also wore pink with matching accessories; Mrs. Yvonne Collins, wore champagne and Mrs. Thelma Elaine Clark, also were in champagne.

THOMAS T. HEDGE JR. was best man. The ushers were George Clark, Kenneth Eggleston, and Ben Clark.

Toney Olando Clark and Edwin Kim Clark Jr. were the ring-bearers.

Mrs. Gladys Eggleston Clark wore for her son's wedding, an Arabian peacock outfit. For her grandson's wedding, Mrs. Eliza Sue Clark wore a lace dress in toasty mink.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at 20 Fayette St. Miss Gleva Gravely poured puncha Mesdames Shirley Clark, Elizabeth Wooden, Kenneth Eggleston, and Lucy B. Clark were assisting hostesses.

Stokes honored by university

CINCINNATI — Mayor Carl B. Stokes of Cleveland was awarded the University of Cincinnati's honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree this week.

Dr. Walter C. Langsam, UC president, presented Mayor Stokes the degree. The Mayor was in Cincinnati give UC's William H. Hessler lecture on "The City: Crisis, Survival, Progress."

The degree was recommended by the faculty committee in charge of the Hessler lectureships.

In presenting the degree, Dr. Langsam said, "from the humblest of beginnings, and through the remarkable application of his many talents, he has risen to the highest office of his native Cleveland, the nation's eighth largest city."

HIDE GRAY HAIR
Get SLICK BLACK
DOUBLE ACTION
COLORS GRAY HAIR BLACK
2 DRESSES HAIR IN PLACE
AT YOUR DRUGGIS