Teens warned to stay out of shopping centers alone

The mother of a 14-year-old Venable Junior High School pupil said in Juvenile Court Friday she blames undesirable company for her daughter's getting into trouble.

"The teenager was charged along with a 14-year-old girlfriend with taking one pair each of $3.99 sandals from a Belvedere shopping center food store on May 14.

According to the mother, the youngster has plenty of clothes and for her courtroom appearance Friday was wearing $17.95 shoes.

"I don't know what other than bad influence of others she would want $3.99 sandals when she has always had more clothes than the average girl," the mother testified.

Adding that the 14-year-old had just purchased a pair of new summer shoes the Saturday before the incident, she told the court the child also has fine boots, several other pairs of shoes and an awful lot of coats and dresses" that she, the mother, had bought for her.

MASTER BERNARD McDERMOTT agreed that perhaps following the example of the other child, underprivileged and one of 11 children, had caused the 14-year-old girl to take the shoes.

Both of them had secluded the sandals in their purses, he observed.

"Since one had more than the other, they got their heads together and decided on how to get more for the needy one," he surmised.

In placing the 14-year-old girl on probation, Mr. McDermott also added, "In fact, no young girl or boy should go shopping except a parent or older person accompanies them."

Mental health group sets ornament sale

Bell-shaped Christmas tree ornaments will go on sale shortly throughout the city and Baltimore County areas to benefit the 20th annual Christmas Project of the Metropolitan Baltimore Association for Mental Health.

Packaged in cartons of six for $2, the brightly colored red, blue, green and gold bells will be sold by volunteer workers on a house-to-house basis and in a number of shopping center locations.

Mrs. William Baetz of 5407 Springlake Way has been named chairman of the drive.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to defray operating costs of the Association's program to provide Christmas gifts for nearly 7,000 hospitalized men and women who are without family or friends to remember them, and some 400 additional patients living in foster homes.

have no staff of his own except that which goes with his ceremonial duties as presiding officer of the Senate and would be located in the Capitol building.

As Maryland's chief executive Gov. Agnew set a precedent in adding colored personnel on his personal staff.

In his role as an expert on the problems of big cities, expressed in the campaign, he has expected to name several key staffers to aid him.

CIVIL RIGHTS and political leaders, most of whom favored Vice President Humphrey in the election, are either taking a wait and see attitude on the Nixon-Agnew Administration or are calling on them to take quick actions on their expressed intents to bridge the gap between the races.

Whitney M. Young, executive director of the National Urban League, said "we hope Mr. Nixon will move quickly in a positive way, to allay the fears among black citizens that were so evident in the election returns, that he would not have the sensitivity to come to grips with the tragic problems that beset the black community."

Roy Wilkins, NAACP director, observed that colored "citizens do not intend to slacken their pressures for complete equality in every facet of national life."

He added that the president-elect "can hardly wish to delay any longer redeeming the pledge of equality originally made by the Republican Party in 1860."

Columnist Carl Rowan recalled that President Johnson did not have a good civil rights record when he was elected but "no president ever did more to enhance the well-being and security of colored citizens than Johnson."

Major Richard G. Hatcher of Gary, Ind. termed Nixon's election a victory for do-nothingness but said the closeness of the vote should impel the President-elect "to demonstrate dramatically and immediately his concern with the overriding social issue of the day."

Latest totals gave Nixon 39,957,072; Humpnrey, 30,602,098 and George Wallace, 9,747,764.

PRESIDENT. - ELECT Nixon invited Vice President Humphrey to Florida where they held a unity meeting and he was to meet on Monday in Washington with President Johnson to lay plans for a smooth takeover.

But despite the talk of unity, Mr. Nixon understood his work was cut out for him.

First he is faced by a Democratic-controlled Senate and House with the committee posts in each dominated by southerners.

In addition to that, there is a strong conservative element that fights hard to have its way.

There also is the obvious fact, with meetings already underway, the Democratic Party is getting ready for 1972.

It also grows more apparent there will be no peace in Vietnam, avoiding a true miracle, before Mr. Nixon is sworn-in on Jan. 20.

Mrs. Brown, 83, services Monday

"Her entire life was full of love for her family and friends in her quiet way she loved people and her church."

Mrs. Beatrice Lancaster was speaking of her mother, Mrs. Roberta Brown, 2307 Ivy Ave., who died on Thursday at Sinai Hospital after a brief illness.

She was 83 years old. Mrs. Brown had been a member of Macedonia Baptist Church for over 50 years.

In 1965 the Ladies Guild of Macedonia Church honored her at a candlight service as a active member of the church.

She was member of the Usher Board, Missionary Society, Pastor's Aide, Mrs. Brown also was a member of Sharon Household of Ruth.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Beatrice Lancaster; one grandaughter, Lavadia Gibson and a great - grandson, Robert Gibson.

Funeral services were held Monday at Macedonia Baptist Church. Burial was in Arbutus Cemetery.

16-year old gets 2 years

A 16-year-old 800 block Richwood Ave. youth has been sent to the Maryland Training School to stay until Dec. 13, 1970 for the Aug. 19 holdup of a gas station attendant and bottle assaults on teenagers on a bus.

According to the decree handed down in Juvenile Court Friday by Master Bernard McDermott, the youngster had also been reported as beyond control by his mother.

Mr. McDermott termed the robbery of the man in the filling station and the assault on the children on the bus with a bottle "cowardly and serious offenses."

Taking the teenager to task for failing to obey his mother, he said perhaps remaining at the training school until he is 18 will teach you respect for her and for others."

His body was found Thursday in the Kenwood area on the city's southside but identification was delayed because his wallet was missing. He had been shot three times.

Mrs. Almarie Billups identified the body of her husband Friday. She told police he often carried large sums of money. It was surmised he had been shot and killed during a robbery.

As head of the Alabama Christian Movement, the Rev. Mr. Billups once was hospitalized after being beaten with chains by the Ku Klux Klan.

"I've given away $300,000 this year," the mountainous Texas attorney said.

He denied that the Ku-Klux Klan was paying his fee.

Witnesses' conference opens Fri.

The Brooklyn Park Junior-Senior High School on Hammond's Lane will change its face for the weekend when Jehovah's Witnesses take over the facilities for a three-day Bible conference.

The change of face is only slight, however, for the religious group is conducting a Bible school for 1,800 of its Baltimore and vicinity members. The sessions get under way Friday at 6:45 p.m. and will conclude at 6 p.m. Sunday.

The opening session on Friday evening will feature a "Ministry School" under the direction of district minister J. W. Filson.

Four short talks on the Bible's use of the word "spirit" will be given by men and women "students," each to be followed by Mr. Filson's counsel on speech qualities and content material.
