TEEN TALK

By MICHAEL BELFIELD

It's "turkey time" again! Thanksgiving means many things to many different people. To some people it means a vacation from school.

To others it means sitting at the dinner table and eating until your heart's content.

To the Engineers and the Knights it means the City-Poly game.

Thanksgiving is also a time to give thanks. So I want all you Soulsisters and Soulbrothers to remember this and "keep your cool."

The Senior Class of Western High school sponsored a dance Saturday night given at the school. Theme was "I'm in a Different World," and was complete with psychedelic lights and a band and singing group.

The featured group was the Delrays, a Baltimore group that has been around for about three years.

The Delrays combine talented singing with fancy footwork and end up with a great act.

The group sang many Temptation greats including "Old Man River," "Get Ready" and "I Wish It Would Rain."

They also sang several Intruder hits including "Friends — No More" and "Cowboys to Girls."

The Engineers of Poly will sponsor a victory hop at their school Thursday, Nov. 29, featuring the fantastic Frankie and the Spinners.

The Boleros Fan Club is giving a Pre-Christmas Dance Friday, Dec. 20. The dance will be held at the YMCA, 1619 Druid Hill Ave., from 8 to 12 p.m. and will feature a dance contest with awards given to the three best couples.

Music will be by the Boleros' Band featuring "Little Melvin." Tickets in advance are $1.50 and at the door, $2.

For ticket information call 233-8833 or 947-1816.

Several ninth grade classes of Calverton Junior High have been visiting colleges to see what college life is like. The college that were visited were Goucher, Coppin, Towson, Morgan, Johns Hopkins and the University of Maryland.

Birthday wishes go out to Anthony Johnson who was 15 November 20. Anthony is a tenth grader at City and attends Enon Baptist Church.

Belated birthday wishes go to Vera Lanier who was 15 on the 14th of this month. Vera is a tenth grader at Northwestern.

The Sports Scene:

The hopes of the "Redskins" of Edmondson are riding on the outcome of the Thanksgiving Day clash between City and Poly. In order for Edmondson to tie for the "A" Division Championship, Poly must beat City.

In girls sports, the field hockey team of Bryn Mawr ended their season with a 0-0 tie with Park to remain undefeated for the year.

This Week's Top Five are:

1. Love Child
2. Who's Making Love
3. For Once In My Life
4. Cloud Nine
5. Always Together

On Friday, Nov. 22, there was a dance held at Forest Park High School. The dance was sponsored by the Variety Club and included "live" entertainment.

Mental Assoc. project gets aid of schools

Some 25 Baltimore City and County elementary and high schools are participating in this year's Baltimore Mental Health Association Christmas Project, according to Mrs. Aris Simopoulos, chairman of the project.

The project, now in its twentieth year, provides gifts for nearly 7,000 otherwise forgotten patients in Maryland's state mental hospitals.

Toward this end, the young people are collecting cosmetics, toiletries and small articles of wearing apparel which will be assembled into gift packages by volunteers working at the Baltimore Mental Health headquarters.

* * *

MORE THAN a dozen of these high schools will incorporate their donations in the Association's Gifts for Giving program. Under this program, representative students from a school personally take the gifts collected at the school to a selected hospital ward.

There they assist the patients in choosing and wrapping a gift to give to someone else within or outside the hospital.

Donations may be left at the Association headquarters, 323 E. 25th St., any weekday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Further information on Christmas Project needs is available by telephoning BEImont 5-9786.

Program aimed to protect consumers

Mr. Polovoy will serve on a panel with Mrs. Anne Lane, consumer specialist for the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. Topics to be included in the discussion will be:

Interest charges for credit, truth in advertising, quality of merchandise purchased, and protection for the buyer from unfair merchants.

Mr. Polovoy will discuss state and national legislation relating to consumer protection. Mrs. Lane will discuss recent developments relative to dieting, marketing and consumer areas of concern to the household buyer.

Also included in the program will be a film prepared by the White House Consumer Protection Division which is under the direction of Miss Bettye Furness.

KEEN TEEN SCENE

By KAREN BANFIELD

On Sunday, Nov. 17, the Baltimore Ethical Society, located at 3008 Gwynn Oak Ave., sponsored a very interesting discussion on "Today's Rebellious Adolescents."

One of the discussion leaders was Dr. Jerome Frank, psychiatrist at Johns Hopkins Hospital and famed author throughout the world.

The group listened as Dr. Frank encouraged adults to listen to the opinions and ideas of young people so that communication between generations may be improved.

In Dr. Frank's opinion, there are three groups of young people in revolt.

The first group consists of those who participate in constructive, responsible dissent. For example, students who were disenchanted with the present administration campaigned for Senator McCarthy.

The second type of rebellious youth are those who want to destroy everything but have no solutions for problems after the system is destroyed.

The last group consists of those who retreat into their own world and ignore everything and everyone not connected to this world.

The other discussion leader, Mr. Edward Harris, is a garduate of Antioch College and also spent two years in the Peace Corps.

Mr. Harris feels that some extremely intelligent young people are afraid of working to caprity for fear of becoming another Einstein. They are afraid that like Eintsein, they will produce something useful to the world only to see it used to destroy.

Discussion from the youths in the audience reflected similar thoughts.

One young man said he felt the younger generation feels that society's values are warped, and young people are trying to get away from the warped ideas.

After listening to the entire discussion, I think that the best way for the two generations ever to understand each other is to learn to communicate.

Some of the young people there trying to communicate were Craig Wright, Poly; Ernest Kendrick, Poly; Adrienne Banfield, Northwestern; Steven Grenek, Northwestern Jimmy Wright, Woodlawn and Henry Wood, of Forest Park.

The following evening at Forest Park High, about 200 keen teens and their parents flocked to the school's auditorium for College Information Night.

Twenty-three colleges had representatives to answer any questions and offer suggestions to interested students.

Some of the colleges in Maryland that had representatives were: Morgan State, Coppin State, Bowie State, Towson State, Maryland State, Goucher College, University of Baltimore, Provident Hospital School of Nursing, Sinai Hospital School of Nursing, Community College of Baltimore and Western Maryland College.

So those of you who would like to attend a college in Maryland, you have many choices.

Out-of-state colleges also were well represented. Some of them were: Beaver College, Wellesley College, Smith College, Vassar College, York College, Pembroke College and many more.

One of the main ideas brought out by the representatives was that they are looking for black students. So, when you are considering colleges, consider many different types of schools. You may find a school you hardly looked at may have just the type of program you want.

Opportunities are there. It is up to us to take advantage of them.

Some of the keen teens at Forest Park Monday evening to take advantage of the opportunities were: Anita Mason, Yvonne Owens, Lynwood Taylor, Bobette Wagner, Debra Holley, Cheryl Griffin, Roderick Pullen, Melvin Gray, Sylvia Stokes, Avonette Bell and many more.

Two former Foresters came with representatives from their schools. They were Darnell Barber, now attending Villa Julie College, and Linda Grant, a freshman at Goucher College.

Friday was also an exciting day for Foresters. It was the day of their victory dance.

Swinging to the out-of-sight dance band were: Debra Bailey, Wendall Fleming, Wendell Holmes, Tony Burton, Ricky Johnson, DeVera Campbell, Dominic Hartz, Aalon Jackson, Monica Jones, Ivan Drummond, Paulette Collins, Darlene Mason, Kathy Fields.

Doreatha Drummond, Debbi Kearse, William Martin, Henry Wood, Reggie Speight, Dwight Northington, James Patterson, Anthony Winegan, Harry Jones, Donna Kirby, Pamela Lewis, Tyrone Mason, Major Lewis and about a million more.

Some of the faculty members weren't doing so badly either.

There were: Miss Arnita Hicks, Mrs. Joann Hubbard, Mrs. Jean Boardley, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Swartz, Mr. and Mrs. Norris Weiss, Charles Michaels, Miss Celeste Levinson, Wayne Paul and Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Zolet.

They really showed some of us teeny boppers up. We'll know next time what faculty members not to let in at the door.

Before I close for this week, I received a message that Kazerrian and Mousie would like all their keen teen friends to know that they have been going steady a year on November 19. Congratulations.

Lecture set on drug addiction

A doctor who insists drug addiction is not physiological but a problem of character will speak at The Johns Hopkins University School of Hygiene and Public Health today (Tuesday) at 7:15 p.m.

Dr. Efren Rairez, commissioner of the New York City Addiction Services Agency, will address the Johns Hopkins Society of Hygiene in the School of Public Health's New (East Wing) Auditorium.

A puerto Rican psychiatrist whose success with addicts led to his recruitment by Mayor Lindsay last year, Dr. Ramirez challenges much of current and has a remarkable success record behind him.

Only seven of the first 124 addicts treated at his center in Puerto Rico had gone back to taking drugs three and one-half years later. This relapse rate of 5.6 percent compares favorably to the rate of nearly 92 per cent relapses treated in Federal institutions.

The meeting is open to the public.
