The Raleigh Cotillion holds first place among those in the country in points of years, glamour and extent. From a small group of 11 young women presented in 1937, to a group of 104, this year, the sorority has repeatedly presented members of the same families, including the now mothers, daughters, sisters and other relatives.

The Master of Ceremonies was J. D. Lewis, who introduced Mrs. Ophelia Noble, chairman of the Ball; Mrs. Paulette Mack, executive secretary; Miss Thelma Watkins, basileus of the Chapter and other officers and members of the local sponsoring Chapter, who then formed a figure in the center of the ballroom floor. Afterwards all visiting sorors were invited to join in singing the Sorority Hymn.
