Residents rally to Dismas House

REV. FRANCIS TOBEY

The year-long fight to make Dismas House the first operational half-way house for ex-offenders ended this week when the Zoning Board rejected an appeal from the Steuart Hill Improvement Association to close the house.

The Zoning Board's decision allows Dismas House to continue at its present location in the 100 block of South Mount St. and to expand its operation.

Representing the neighborhood association which opposed the Dismas House, Attorney Miss Elizabeth M. Eckhardt said the association did not want the half-way house because it would lead to devaluation and result in an increase in crime.

Hugo A. Ricciuti, chairman of the board, told the association's lawyer that because the city had already issued a permit for the operation of Dismas House, they would have to prove that the operation had been a nuisance or that it affected the health and welfare of the community.

They were unable to do so.

Father Francis M. Tobey, founder and director of Dismas House, appeared before the board. He testified that presently there are five men living at Dismas House.

Three of them are now working, he said and another is attending high school. The fifth is looking for work, Father Tobey said.

Almost 200 people from the general neighborhood appeared at the hearing in support of Dismas House.

In an interview with the AFRO, Father Tobey explained:

"I was overwhelmed by the turnout. But the people in this community have experienced the good that can come from Dismas House.

"During the past year the men from Dismas House have given lectures to church groups and given such things as concerts at the home for the aged.

"The people learned gradually that ex-offenders can live in their community and be productive."

The heavy turnout of supporters plus the fact that the attorney for Dismas House, E. Clinton Bamberger was prepared to put 30 people on the stand to testify in behalf of the house helped to convince the board members that the residents were not entirely opposed to Dismas House.

Prior to the hearing more than 1,400 signatures had been placed on a petition by the community to keep Dismas House.

The Dismas House staff which is presently composed of the Rev. Tobey, an assistant who is a graduate of the University of Maryland's School of Social Work and a psychiatrist, Dr. Arthur Lamb, may expand in the future.

Said Father Tobey, "We would like to be able to serve 15 men here, and now plans are being made to do that. We'd like also to establish a non-resident program.

"This would allow people who have families and live elsewhere to benefit from Dismas House programs. Further we want to set up a communication center where everyone interested in ex-offenders and how to help them can come for information."

But for the moment Father Tobey is going to take a long overdue vacation.

When he returns in mid-February he said, "We'll be getting right to work on finding out how Dismas House can further serve the ex-offender and in turn the entire community."

Sunday, February 2 has been designated "Four Chaplains Sunday" by the Rev. C. J. Olander, American Legion National Chaplain.

The observance will be the 26th commemoration of the heroism of four Army Chaplains who saved the lives of 200 soldiers and gave their own lives when the U. S. Troop Ship Dorchester was sunk in 1943.

Four chaplains Sunday marks the beginning of the American Legion's annual reglious emphasis week (Feb. 2-8), during which all legionnaires are urged to make a special effort to attend services at the church or synagogue of their choice.

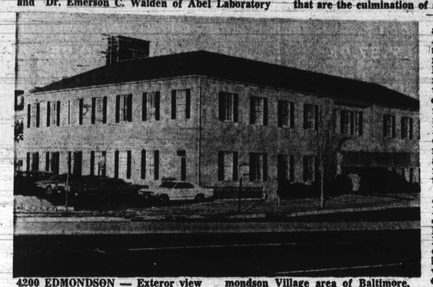
DREAM A REALITY — Dr. Ernest Johnson (left) and Dr. Emerson C. Walden of Abel Laboratory and Medic Associates look over the new facilities that are the culmination of a 15-year dream.



4200 EDMONDSON — Exterior view of new medical center located in Edmondson Village area of Baltimore.

15-year dream realized in new medical facility

By LULA M. SHEFFEY

A fifteen-year dream became a reality through the combined efforts of seven Baltimore doctors when their new establishment, they held open house at their new establishment, "Medic Associates and Abel Laboratory," recently.

The $650,000, two-story, brick, steel and concrete, air-conditioned building, is first itself and is the first black-owned clinical laboratory in the state.

The facility is located at 4200 Edmondson Ave.

Dr. Emerson C. Walden is president of Medic Associates.

Dr. Billy Davis, D.D.S. is secretary-treasurer.

Drs. N. Alan Harris, John Holmes II, Thomas W. Harris, Percival Smith and Robert M. Phillips are managing partners of Medic Associates.

The first floor houses the medical suites of five medical doctors, two dentists and Abel Laboratory.

A feeling of well-being was ingited when the AFRO visited the plush establishment this week.

The entrance is canopied, and has deep red carpeting from the sidewalk into the lobby, with the medical suite branching off to the right, the dental suite is off to the left, and the laboratory in the center.

The decor has been carried out in white, bright and vivid shades of greens, golds, blues and grays, with furnishings of steel and vinyl plastics. Also there are also candy-stripe drapes and piped-in music.

While waiting to talk with Dr. Walden, the AFRO talked with some of the patients in the waiting room.

Mrs. Delores Mitchell, of the 1600 block of Smallwood St., remarked, "it looks so good it makes your troubles seem so much less, and the office is run so smoothly."

"I think it is very nice, and about the best thing we've had," exclaimed Mrs. Virginia Clark of 2200 block of Braddish Ave.

Mrs. Bernice Cannon of Towson, Md., a patient herself of Dr. Alan Harris for nearly ten years accompanied a girl friend, Mrs. Doris McCoy of St. Georges Ave., to the office, as a new patient.

"I live in the 3800 block of Greenspring Ave., and I really don't think the distance is too far to travel when there is a good doctor waiting on the other end" commended Mrs. Meada Kent.

To these testamonials the AFRO adds the accolade of "Solid American Citizen" to Dr. Emerson C. Walden.

Aside from being a medical doctor, Dr. Walden is a surgeon, a Mason, an author, a civic and fraternal leader, an administrator, husband and father.

Dr. Walden completed his internship and residency at Provident Hospital, in 1947-48, and began private practice in Baltimore when he took over the established practice of Dr. William Hargrove for a year an a half, until he was called into the armed services.

He was a surgeon in the U.S. Air Force and chief of surgical services USAF Hospital, Mitchell Air Force Base, Long Island, N. Y., He attained the rank of captain.

He was chief of surgery, vice-president of hospital medical staff, and instructor in surgical nursing at Provident Hospital.

During his busy practice he became an attending surgeon at Lutheran Hospital and South Baltimore General.

Dr. Walden holds memberships in numerous organizations: he is a Fellow, American College of Surgeons; a member of executive committee and chairman of board of trustees of the National Medical Association; vice-president, Monumental City Medical Society and president of Maryland Medical Association (NMA affiliates); secretary, former House Officers Association of Provident Hospital; a member AMA, Baltimore City Medical Society and Medical and Chirurgical Faculty of the State of Maryland.

He is a member of the House of Delegates, and affiliated with the Association of Military Surgeons, American College of Surgeons (Maryland Chapter), the Y.M.C.A., Frontiers of America, an Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, is on former Mayor Grady's America Troop committee; a Masonic Order (F and AM) King David Lodge No. 18 and a Chi Delta Mu Fraternity.

Dr. Walden is a trustee of Bethel AME Church and sings on the Senior Choir. He is a member of the Advisory Board, Advanced Savings and Loan Association; a member of executive committee Howard University Medical Alumni Association, a member executive committee, Baltimore Branch NAACP, a State Commissioner on Problems of the Aging; secretary and director, Baltimore Community Investment company; a Life-Member of NAACP; chairman of Medical Staff Executive Committee; co-chairman medical staff develoement committee of Provident Hospital.

In addtion, he is on the city Task Force on Civil Rights, co-chairman subcommittee n Nursing Homes; secretary of the Board of directors and Medical Administrator of the Dukeland Nursing and Convalescent Home; Liaison Committee, Maryland Nursing Home Association; a member, American Geriatrics Society; member, Citizens Committee for new Dunbar High School, subcommittee on Curriculum, a member; NMA-AMA Liaison Committee.

Dr. Walden is the author of the following published papers:

"The Incidence of Recurrence of Hernias Experienced at the Provident Hospital."

Ligation of the Suprarenal Vena Cava and Right Nephrectomy with Complete Recovery"—American Journal of Surgery, July, 1969.

"A history of Provident Hospital," Baltimore, Md. Journal of the National Medical Association, May 1967.

Dr. Emerson C. Walden is the son of the Rev. Charles E. Walden Sr., and the late Mrs. Lillian C. Walden.

He is the second of three boys.

The oldest son, the late Rev. Charles E. Walden Jr., was an Episcopal minister in Washington, D.C. 'til he died in 1966. The younger brother, the Rev. Oscar C. Waden, is a minister of music at Lincoln Temple Congregational Church in Washington D.C., and is also a school teacher in Montgomery County.

Dr. Walden is a native of Cambridge, Md., but was reared and received his formal education in Washington, D.C.

He graduated from Dunbar High School in Washington and completed his undergraduate and graduate requirements at Howard University, where he earned his Medical Degree in 1947.

Dr. Walden is a family man.

He has been married to the former Celonia A. Banks of Washington, D.C. for the past 22 years. They are the parents of three children, two boys and a girl.

Emerson Jr., will be 21 next month and is a senior at Howard University.

Recently, he made his day very proud when he filed an application for medical school.

Another member of the family contemplating a medical career, is Thomas E., 19, who is a junior at Howard University.

The youngest member of the family has many years ahead before she seriously chooses a career. She is Celonia A. II, 11 years old, a six grader at Samuel Ready School of Baltimore.

When asked about his wife, Dr. Walden, remarked, "I think she is terrific person who is a stabilizer for me, and she is the single influence in my life."

Continuing he said, "I owe her a great deal in terms of love, cooperation, understanding, and patience you see we are very definitely a team."

Mrs. Walden is a city school teacher at the Gwynns Falls Elementary School No. 60.

She is the past president of Woman's Auxiliary National Medical Association, the past president of Delta Sigma Theta, and is presently president of Moles (Baltimore Chapter), past president of Monumental City Medical Society (Woman's Auxiliary), and is president of the Maryland Medical Association.

Dr Walden is also president of this latter organization.

"They are indeed a team.
