Mrs. Mary A. Dean, was Emmanuel member

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Herbert E. Nutter Funeral Home for Mrs. Mary A. Dean, 70, 2930 Winchester St. who died in Provident Hospital of heart failure.

A native of Baltimore, Mrs. Dean had been a member of Emmanuel Baptist Church all her life.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Florence McIntosh and a son, William Dean Sr.;

Other survivors include a grandchildren, William brotrer, Fred Dean; two Dean Jr. and Mrs. Ruth Palmer; and one great-grandchild, Glen Dean.

Warren B. Weems Sr., funeral on Saturday

Warren Benjamin Weems Sr., 45, retired Chief Warrant Officer and decorated army veteran, died Monday after a short illness.

He lived at 700 Springfield Ave.

Officer Weems, a native of Baltimore, received numerous citations for his service in World War II, and in Korea.

He was awarded the Bronze Star as a member of the 39th Field Artillery Battalion of the 34th artillery and supervision of mess, supply and administrations sections.

Officer Weems was drafted into the army in 1942 after graduation from Dunbar High School.

• • •

In 1957, he took his family on an extensive tour of Europe, through Germany, Switzerland, Belgium, The Netherlands, and France.

He retired from the service in 1963.

A long time member of St. Matthews Methodist Church, Mr. Weems had served as church lay leader, member of the Senior Choir, the Methodist Men, chairman of the official board, and trustee of the Baltimore Northeast district.

Born in Baltimore, Oct. 5, 1923, he was the son of Charles and Bessie Weems.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alease Vonetta Yorkman Weems; and four children.

They are: Miss Vonetta Ann Weems, teacher at Collington Square Elementary School; Miss Wenda Carrie Weems; director of Progressive Day Nursery school; PFC Warren B. Weems Jr., U.S. Marine Corps, and David Lightfoot Weems, second grade pupil at Blessed Sacrament Catholic School.

Other survivors include a brother, Charles O. Weems Jr. and a sister, Miss Alice Gamble, both of Baltimore.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by Rayner Saunders Funeral Home. Services will be held Saturday noon, St. Matthews.

Burial will be at Arlington National Cemetery.

WARREN B. WEEMS Sr.
Funeral Saturday noon

John Garret was former longshoreman

'He was a loving husband, a devoted father and grandfather." He was well thought of by his neighbors."

A relative was speaking to the AFRO about John Garrett, who died in University Hospital of a heart attack on Sunday.

Mr. Garrett, 72, of 1107 Whatcoat St., was a retired longshoreman, and was a member of Local No. 858 for 40 years.

Funeral services were held yesterday (Thursday) at Payne United Memorial Methodist Church where the Rev. W. P. Mitchell, pastor, officiated.

Interment was in Arbutus Memorial Park.

Mr. Garrett was a member of Payne where he served on the senior usher board.

He was a native of Arkansas and was the son of John and Rebecca Garrett.

Mr. Garrett is survived by his wife, Mrs. Cora Garrett; three sons, Samuel D., John H., and Bernard Garrett; three daughters, Mesdames Julia Rich, Mary Johnson and Edith Matthew, all of Baltimore.

Other survivors include 31 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Miss Helen Covington, Hopkins Hospital aide

"She was a very understanding person, tolerant and patient, she gave all of her free time to the church, and was devoted to the patients at Hopkins Hospital. "She suffered long, but never complained."

Mrs. Beatrice Croigler was speaking of her sister, Miss Helen B. Covington, 60, of 2350 Druid Hill Ave.

Mrs. Covington died last week at City Hospitals, after a prolonged illness. Death was due to a respiratory ailement.

Services were conducted at St. Katherine's Episcopal Church, where she was a lifetime member, was affiliated with the acolytes there, and aided in other capacities where needed.

Father William Leary pastor, officiated. Burial was in Arbutus Memorial Park.

Miss Covington, was an assistant in the Nose and Throat department at Johns Hopkins Hospital for 17 years.

She was the daugher of Charles H., Sr. and Bessie E. Covington of Baltimore.

In addition to Mrs. Creigler, she is survived by another sister, Mrs. Arnetia West; brother, Charles H. Covington, Jr., all of Baltimore.

Other survivors are two nephews, Arthur R. Creigler and Charles H. Covington, III; and a niece, Mrs. Lawrence Buffalo of Fort Bragg, Ga.

Mrs. Hattie V. Medley seamstress at St. Pius

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Saint Pius Catholic Church for Mrs. Hattie V. Medley, 77, of 927 Bennett Place, a Baltimore housewife for over 42 years.

She died Jan. 30 after a long illness.

Mrs. Medley was active in St. Pius Church. She served as a member of the Ladies Sodality of the church. Known as an excellent seamstress, she often made vestments for St. Pius.

She was a native of Whitehall, Md., and one of 10 children of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Powell. She was the widow of Clarence E. Medley.

Mrs. Medley is survived by brothers, Braxton, Clarence and Charles Powell; two sisters, Mrs. Alta Wright and Mrs. Sarah Jackson; five nieces and 5 nephews.

Mrs. Odessa Gaddy, 59, Memorial Baptist usher

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Memorial Baptist Church for Mrs. Odessa Gaddy, 59, a seamstress at the Stadium Manufacturing Company for over 10 years.

Mrs. Gaddy died January 30 after a long illness. She had been ill with the Hong Kong Flu since Thanksgiving.

She was a native of Wadesboro, N.C., and moved to Baltimore in 1942. She was an active member of Memorial Baptist Church, where she had served as an usher since 1942.

Mrs. Gaddy is survived by her husband, John Gaddy; a daughter Mrs. Evelyn Miles; six grandchildren; Gregory, Kevin and Miss Karen Fowlkes, Thomas Jr., Tracey, and Terry Miles, and one great-grandchild, Tracey Fowlkes.

Wilson Park church gutted by fire

A two-alarm fire burned out the Wilson Park Christian Community Church in the 4400 block Wrenwood Ave. in the Woodbourne area Tuesday.

For the past month, the 200-member congregation were without a minister, now they are without a church.

The intense flames quickly gutted the interior of the two-story frame building, leaving only charred rubble, though the roof burned completely, the roof did not collapse.

According to Roland F. Wett, deputy chief, "If the fire had been this morning the whole block would have gone." He was referring to the "gusty winds."

A deacon, Lynwood Washbash, was unable to estimate the damage. He then related that arrangements would be made to house the congregation in a neighboring building.

'IMPORTANT TO REMOVE STIGMA'

Francis Green is new Mental Hygiene aide

It is 'important to remove the stigma' attached to the mentally ill or alcoholic,' says Francis W. Green.

Mr. Green is the new Human Relations Director of the Maryland Department of Mental Hygiene. His appointment was announced today by Dr. James E. Carson, Commissioner.

Mr. Green will be working in the area of equal opportunities and civil rights law compliance for staff and patients.

He will serve as a consultant in human relations for hospital superintendents and division chiefs of the Department.

• • •

The new director received his master's degree from Howard University in Washington and earned his bachelor's degree at Morgan State College.

In further comment on his new post, Mr. Green said:

"The whole area of human relations is viewed as a broad umbrella under which our operation will fall . . . be it black or white, alcoholic or addicted, mentally ill or retarded."

• • •

Prior to his present position Mr. Green served as director of Parish Work and Community Services for Lutheran Social Services, Inc. in Baltimore.

He is a native of Philadelphia and attended Bridgeton, N.J. High School.

Mr. Green lives with his wife and son on West Lafayette St.

Howard PTA work panel

John Eager Howard School's PTA plans a gathering of "an influential group of speakers" at its meeting Tuesday, Feb. 11 in the school auditorium.

The PTA has asked teachers to be in the classrooms from 7:15 to 7:45 p.m. to meet with parents.

Following the business meeting there will be a panel discussion with speakers' talking about "community activities and the contributions their particular groups made to the individual community."

They are Mrs. Pearl Breckett, assistant superintendent of Community Schools; Mr. David Glenn, director of Community Relations for Model Cities; Mr. Linwood M. Ivey, social director of the Community Action Agency; Dr. Emerson Julian, member of the Baltimore city council; and Lt. Francis J. Riedy, public relations officer for the police department.

FEBRUARY 10

The International Relations Club of Mount Saint Agnes College will show the first of a series of free films on Israel, at 8 p.m. in McAuley Auditorium at the college, 5801 Smith Ave. The public is invited.

So. Baltimore Hospital faces Cherry Hill anger

South Baltimore General Hospital will be confronted by Cherry Hill residents Monday at 8 p.m. in a public session sponsored by the Cherry Hill Community Council, 2700 Spelman Rd.

The hospital has been criticized for what the council calls "personnel attitudes," and Cherry residents hesitate to use its facilities.

At the meeting "we're going to let them know our feelings . . . why we don't patronize South Baltimore General Hospital," said Mrs. Sarah Bundy, president of the Cherry Hill Council.

"When colored people went to the old South Baltimore General Hospital, colored went in the back door and white people in the front door," she added.

But since the new hospital building has been built the personnel are "still nasty" to black people, she said.

The hospital runs a shuttle bus through Cherry Hill to pick up patients. Mrs. Bundy said the bus "is very good but when we get there it's the same old thing. It's a new building, but the same personalities."

Mrs. Bundy told the AFRO that the "head doctor and the doctor in charge of personnel," are expected to represent the hospital at Monday's meeting.

The City Health Department has a stake in the Cherry Hill situation because of its satellite clinic project and because many people in Cherry Hill send the critically ill to far-away University Hospital.

Mrs. Mary English, a Health Department nurse told the AFRO that the clinics are two years in the future and "here is a large building, it's an adequate facility that's not being used."

She said there are going to be many clinics set up all over the city but "it is better to use the hospital than to set up a smaller type thing."

"Why allow any facility to be in our community that we cannot use?"
