Rites for Preston, teacher, historian

Funeral services for the late Emmett D. Preston, a retired Federal Housing employee, who died at St. Elizabeths Hospital after a long illness, were held at Jarvis Funeral Home Wednesday morning.

Mr. Preston was 69-years-old and a native of Washington where he graduated from Dunbar High School and Howard University. He took special training at Ohio State University and devoted some years to the teaching profession, having served at Richmond, Va., Princess Anne Academy in the Eastern Shore of maryland and at Edward Waters College, where he was dean.

After his retirement, he became associated with the late Carter H. Woodson with the Journal of Negro Life and History for which he wrote a number of articles on Negro Education in Washington from 100 until 1940. He was a Mason and a member of the Mt Airy Baptist Church. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Rae Preston.

BORN ON LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY

Frank Cager buried, would have been 103

Frank Cager was a Mason, a church trustee and Sunday School superintendent, a self-taught man, and pioneer steel worker.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday at the Morton and Dyer Funeral home. The Rev. Venson Owens, pastor of Sparrows Point Ebenezer ME Church officiated.

He was buried in Mt. Calvary Cemetery.

According to a relative, he was active until last October when he was placed in a nursing home where he lived until he died last week.

In a 1967 AFRO interview, at the age of 101, Mr. Cager said:

"I eat three meals a day, watch television, and read a little."

Mr. Cager would have been 103 years old on Wednesday. He was born on Feb. 12, 1866, in Anne Arundel County.

His daughter, Mrs. Charlotte Harvey explained, "The date of my father's birth was implanted into his mind by my grandmother and he never forgot he was born on "Mr. Lincoln's birthday"— a year after 'The War.'"

Mr. Cager moved to Sparrows Point as a young man and it was there he began his career as a steel worker for the old Pennsylvania Steel Company, until 1910 when Bethlehem Steel took over the company.

At the age of 74, Mr. Cager retired from the steel plant (1940) where he was reportedly the oldest former employee receiving a pension from the company until his death.

After the death of his wife, the former Charlotte C. Smallwood who died in 1926, Mr. Cager moved to 1014 I Street (three blocks up the street) where he lived until 1961 when he moved to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harvey, at 1637 Moreland Ave.

To occupy himself after his final retirement in 1961, he read, did gardening, created oil paintings in landscape and floral design, many of which were exhibited in Sparrows Point schools.

As a self-taught man, Mr. Cager was never without a dictionary nearby. Lacking a complete formal education, he taught himself to read, and it was through this skill that he was able to converse with his family when his hearing failed due to advanced age.

Mrs. Harvey, spokesman for the family, said, "He was a member of the Ebenezer ME Church in Sparrows Point where he served as a trustee and superintendent of the Sunday School for many years."

Mr. Cager was a Mason in the King Solomon Lodge.

Besides Mrs. Harvey, he is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Rosetta Thornton, and a brother, the Rev. Eugene Cager, all of Baltimore.

Other survivors include two grandsons and seven great grandchildren.

MISSING—A missing persons report has been issued for a 35-year-old East Baltimore man, missing from his home in the 1900 block of N. Patterson Park Ave. since Jan. 7 Relatives are searching for Wilbert Richardson, who is an employee of the Kennicott Copper Corp. and the father of four children. Mr. Richardson was last seen when he visited a friend in the 1500 block of Mulliken Ct. Any information can be relayed to the Missing Persons Bureau of the Police Department.

James A. B. Callis buried at Mt. Auburn

Funeral services were held today (Friday) at Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church for James A. B. Callis, 2113 Druid Hill Ave.

Mr. Callis died Monday at Provident Hospital after an extended illness. He was 85.

The Rev. Reginald Daniels, pastor, presided at the 11 a.m. rites at the church and at the graveside at Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

Mr. Callis was born Oct. 17, 1884, the son of the Rev Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Callis of Mathews County, Va.

He came to Baltimore with his parents when his father assumed the pastorate of Macedonia Baptist Church.

Later, he joined the Madison Avenue Church where for more than 50 years he held offices of elder and trustee and served on the finance committee and as a member of the Session.

• • •

Mr. Callis attended the old Colored High and Training Institute, Morgan State College and the University of Maryland.

In 1905, he became a teacher at Douglass High School.

He first taught Business English and later became a teacher of Printing for which he was best known.

He was an outstanding YMCA committee leader and the founder of Camp Druid Hill, now known as Mohawk.

During half a century of services, hundreds of hours were spent on committees and boards of the YMCA.

Mr. Callis was also a life member of the Central Atlantic Council YMCA

He also served on the board of Prvident Hospital in its early days when the hospital was located at 400 W. Biddle St. and continued service at the present site.

He was the recipient of three presidential citations for work on the Selective Service Board No. 18.

• • •

Mr. Callis was the husband of the late Mrs. Nellie M. Callis, a city teacher, who died in February, 1962.

He is survived by five cousins, Mrs. Alice Hunter, Dr. Arthur Callis of Washington; Leon Callis, Arlington, Va.; Mrs. Mamie Kennard and Mrs Carrie Gross, Baltimore.

Mrs. Gladys Spell is president of the association

Association gets action on blight of junked cars

According to Mrs. Gladys Spell, president of the George B. Murphy Homes Improvement Association, work has begun on removal of junked cars from their community.

"The project was started over a year ago, but we just didn't get any results," she said.

However, through the cooperation of Sgt. F. X. Donohue of the Police-Community Relations Division, Department of Traffic and Transit and the Bureau of Sanitation's mobile division, removal of the blight from the 800 block George St. began last month.

Mrs. Spell explained, "The cars were brought and discarded there by a car shop in the neighborhood. When asked to remove them, the owner often obliged by moving one of the cars . . ."

Continuing she said, "There was a bus that was parked in the block for over three months and often young girls were taken there by men, and it became a regular home for bums."

In addition, many visitors to homes in the area often found their batteries missing from their cars.

Officers of the association are:

Mrs. Spell, president; Mrs. Esther Mathews, secretary; Mrs. Rosa Butler, chaplain and W. K. Gorsuch, manager of the George B. Murphy Homes.

DOMESTIC COURT DOCKET

High school senior must pay support after he graduates

Judge Joseph Howard usually hears more than three dozen criminal-domestic cases a day. Among them are non-support, bastardy and violation of probation cases.

On the docket Tuesday was the case of an 18-year-old youth due to be graduated from City College in June.

He was charged with the support of a child born out of wedlock.

Charged also with paternity of the child, he pleaded guilty and was given until after commencement to begin support payments.

Judge Howard ruled the payments of $5 a week must begin June 23 for the son born Dec. 11, 1966 at Sinai Hospital.

Quoting the new law, the jurist said, "And the payments must continue until the child is 21, marries or dies."

• • •

Also before the court was a Post Office employee residing in Catonsville.

He admitted the paternity of a child whose mother testified, "I don't want his money. I don't want no parts of him."

She exclaimed, "I can take care of my own child. If he gives money, he will want to come to the house. I don't want him to see the kid, period. I don't want any parts of him, period."

The father, nevertheless, said he had made provisions for the child and wanted to provide support.

Judge Howard ruled the postal employee must pay $5 a week until the child, born July 6, 1968, reaches 21 years of age.

He stated, "This is to protect the child for 21 years, so that if anything happens, the child will receive the money by order of the court.

"But, for now, since the mother does not want it, I will suspend the payments. Then, as she desires, the father will stay away."

To the father, the jurist advised, "You don't have to pay anything as long as she is able to take care of the child. What more could you want?

• • •

A Social Security employee, was ordered by Judge Howard to pay his wife and five children a total of $85 support every two weeks.

The sum includes $60 support money every two weeks, plus $5 every two weeks on an arearage of $250.

During the court trial, the husband was granted permission to have blood tests for the two youngest children, ages two and four years, whose paternity he denies.

The order represented a reduction in support payments since according to the wife, the court had formerly required the husband to pay $100 every two weeks.

• • •

The wife firmly protested the order at which point the husband's attorney, Fred Weisgal, said, "The hostility between the husband and wife is intense. The situation must be resolved some way soon."

Mr. Weisgal also revealed the couple had gone through the same procedure a few years ago; had separated and remarried.

This time, he told the court, "She is living in his house. She has locked him out. She will not allow him to see HIS children".

Before conclusion of the case, Judge Howard decreed that the matter of support is subject to further order of the court.

To the husband he said, "You may follow any other legal remedy you wish but the order for $85 every two weeks must be paid."

Businessmen unite in 4th

AFRO BUREAU

ANNAPOLIS — The newly formed 4th Ward Businessmen's Association is scheduled to meet agains at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Stanton Community Center on Washington St.

The group held its organizational meeting on Tuesday evening, and began forming plans to upgrade their enterprises and join in a promotional campaign designed to protect their interests.

The 4th Ward has been designated an urban renewal area, which will bring in federal funds.

The businessmen hope to be ready to corner a share of such funds.

Milton Haskins, proprietor of abarber shop has been amed temporary chairman of the group.

NAACP passes 60 year mark

NEW YORK — Units of the NAACP throughout the nation are observing the 60th Anniversary of the association this week.

The association dates it origin from Feb. 12, 1909, the centennial of the birth of Abraham Lincoln.

On that day, 60 years ago, a call was issued over the names of 60 distinguished Americans for "a national conference for the discussion of present evils, the voicing of protests and the renewal of the struggle for civil and political liberty."

A special Lincoln Day program, broadcast by radio from local branches in 125 communities across the country, recounts the historic events which culminated in the founding of the NAACP.

WHICH COMES FIRST, EDUCATION OR INTELLIGENCE?

Sound like the old chicken-egg routine? In a sense, it is. Intelligence is our ability to learn or understand from experience; our ability to acquire and obtain knowledge. Education is the process of training and developing our knowledge, skill, mind, and character. Certainly an intelligent person without an education is a social decrement to a degree. All persons should aspire to educate themselves to their fullest capacity, for the betterment of themselves and the society in which they live.

Isn't it time you began acquiring knowledge for your successful future?
