ON THE EASTSIDE

Good neighbors, churches, schools

By CHARLOTTE W. MASON

Our Good Neighbor of the Week is friendly Mrs. Mabel Laws Watts, the wife of Howard Watts Sr., an employee of the American Office Equipment Co.

Mrs. Watts is a native of Baltimore and lives with her family in a lovely home out E. Federal Street way.

The Watts family circle includes six well-mannered children who are: Mrs. Rosaland Watts Coleman, a housewife; Howard Jr., an administrative clerk at Eastern Products Co.; Bernard, a Westinghouse employee; Diane, a teacher's aide at P.S. 149; Anita, age 15, a 12th grade student at Northern High School and Donna, age 8, a 3rd grader at P.S. 149.

Our Good Neighbor and her family are members of Memorial Baptist Church, located at Caroline and Preston Streets. The Rev. Angus Smith is the pastor.

Mrs. Watts is a member of the Senior Choir and a soloist (And does she have a beautiful voice? Ask anyone who has ever heard her sing).

Her other activities in the community include: executive board member of the Eastside Community Committee Inc. and treasurer of The Citywide Women's Committee For Delinquency Prevention.

She is also secretary for the Lamb'mettes Savings Club.

Her hobbies include: Working in the community, music (She is much in demand as a soloist all around the City), watching football games, playing mahnoche, cooking, sewing, reading and interior decorating.

Our Neighbor attended Douglass High School where she took an active part in musical productions.

Her favorite dish is steak, favorite dessert is pound cake and she likes to wear the color green.

Mrs. Watts likes to sing "His Eye is on The Sparrow" and recite the 27th Psalm.

Annual Men's Day was celebrated recently at the Christ United Methodist Church located at Chase and Washington Streets.

Theme for the day was "Let's Get Together With Christian Understanding."

The activities for the day began with 8 o'clock breakfast served in the dining room of the church. Speaker was Dr. Bernard Harris, prominent Eastside physician (whose message gave the men additional food for thought).

During the 11 o'clock session, James R. Johnson opened the program with worship followed by the scripture lesson given by Leon Baily.

Howard Keene rendered a solo, then Marshall W. Jones introduced the speaker, the Honorable George L. Russell, city solicitor.

Mr. Russell's message was informative, witty, inspirational and challenging.

He urged the well-attended meeting to "work together for common goals and support your leaders. New responsibility comes with new opportunities."

Following the 11 o'clock service, a delicious dinner was served. Speaker for the 3 o'clock session was the Rev. Melvin Chester Swann, pastor of Waters AME Church. He urged those present to keep going forward and do something constructive to improve our communities.

The Men's Day Committee members included: Arnold R. Mills, chairman; David Scott, co-chairman; Lucius Chatman, financial secretary; James Holliman, treasurer; John Smith, publicity chairman; Leon Baily, program chairman; Melvin Merritt, courtesy chairman; Howard L. Keene, music; Mrs. Edna Scott, breakfast chairman and Mrs. Vista Adams, dinner chairman. The Rev. Kenneth P. Barnes is the pastor. Congrats!

Thought you would like to know about other Good Neighbors who are getting things done to help improve our community.

In the Lafayette Project out Orleans Street way, interested residents have organized two committees in Building 1101.

• • •

The Elevator Committee is studying ways to improve the elevator service.

The other is the Guard Committee which will be working on ideas to help with the patrolling of the buildings.

Members of the committee are: Mesdames Annie McCain, Louise Russell, Frances Reeves, Bertha Snoot, Judy McClain, Mary Winfield and Mary Gray.

Also helping with the program are several students from the University of Maryland.

Plans are for the group to meet with the management to have further discussions concerning this problem. (More later) Keep up the good work Neighbors.

I decided to bring you interesting happenings taking place in our schools each week . . . just need the help of my readers.

Taking an interesting trip last week was the 4th grade class of Mrs. Theola C. White, teacher at P.S. 145, located at Eden and Preston Sts.

As a part of the lesson in connection with Dental Health Week, the students took a tour to the Comprehensive Child Care Dental Division Health Education and Welfare located in the Broadway Shopping Center. The project is affiliated with the Johns Hopkins Hospital.

The children had a grand time visiting offices, handling the various tools and machines used in dentistry. Courageous little Susan Jackson even volunteered to sit in one of the chairs.

Making the tour were: Roselyn Carroll, Darlene Carter, Karen Davis, Rene Faulkner and Gladys Ferguson.

Also Eula Mae Harris, Sandra Jackson, Charlene James and Yolanda Stevenson.

Others included: Tyrone McFaddgn, Donald Melton, Mark Robinson, Bryan Saunders, Larry Watson, Michael Wiggins, Jesse Williams, and Andre Ward.

Wayne Aaron, Ronnie Alston, Harold Cook, Michael Cuffie and Noxzain Davenport, Charles Dixon Jr., Douglas Earl, Andrea Gilliam, Reginald Gray, Dexter Green, Hugo Jenkins, Darrell Johnson, Anthony Langley and Richard McCants. Wilbert Merchant is principal.

Now hear this . . . to All Talent scouts from Any Little Theater Group . . . Spied some young Thespians at work last week.

Under the dynamic leadership of their classmate Stanley Davis, the sixth grade class of Mrs. Lillie M. Camphor at P.S. 116 produced a playlet from a reading unit, entitled "The Kings' Pie," and shared it with several classes.

"The students made their own props . . . costumes . . . everything.

Stanley should go far in this field if given much guidance and encouragement as well as other members of the cast. They were Anthony White, narrator; Rodney Penn, mayor; Clifton Downes, king; Sharon Price, queen; Stanley Davis, councilor; Thomas Winston, Rale; Carolyn Simms, Mary; Sidney Miller, chief cook; Frances Curtis, Meg; Aleta Ashley, old woman and Patricia Jacobs, drummer.

Other members of the class are Theodore Bomar, Phyllis Allen, Carl Winder, Ronald Johnson, Darnell Rooks, Jearl Ward, Abbie McKnight, Benjamin Jones, McKeever Alston, Robert Rice, Eric Henderson, Barbara Matthews, Bernadette Robinson, Robin Gray and Renee Holmes. Intern is Wayne, Rousschenberg, and Manly Brohawn is principal. Well done classmates.

A novel way to get little children to respond to art instruction was experienced recently by the first grade class of Miss Lillian Lewis at P.S. 116.

Pupils had been asked to bring to school any interesting articles of clothing and accessories. Imagine their surprise when they found that the articles were to be used in an art lesson.

Helped by their art resource teacher, Thomas Miller, the children modeled and made illustrations showing figures and movements.

Neighbors, this was indeed a real learning experience and fun for all.

Class models were: Adam Curtis, Kristal Wilson, Crystal Washington, Robin Williams, Karl Cooper, Regenna Daniels and Tanya Keys.

Other members of the class who were the artists included: Vendetta Carter, Alisa Crawford, Denise Fair, Sheila Farmer, Ana Harvey, Clifton Jackson, Cynthia Quickly and Maxine Singleton, Gwendolyn Springfield, Sharon Stainback, Jacqueline Summerville, Wendy Stewart, Michele Thomas and Jacqueline Starks.

Also, Phillip Allen, Eric Brogues, Gary Burton, James Carter, Robert Cleamons, James Featherstone, Herman Jones, Kevin Jones, Anthony Richardson Kevin Oakley, McAllister Rooks, David Scroggins, Elmo Silver, Clinton Taylor, Nathaniel Trayham and Myrtle Jordan.

Kinda cute and clever . . . dontcha think neighbors?

Neighbors out Catonsville way are on the move and getting things done too.

The Allen Stars of the Young People's Missionary Department of Grace AME Church held their monthly meeting and elected new officers.

During the meeting members elected to begin their annual membership drive.

The group will begin the study of the life of Richard Allen who founded the AME Church.

Elected officers were: Cathy Crawford, president; Earl Bacon, vice president and Cindy Crawford, secretary.

Other members are: Darryl Webb, Donna Crawford, Terry Bacon, Michele Bacon and Michael Bacon.

General supervisor is Mrs. Irene John; supervisor, Miss May E. Thomas; the Rev. C. E. Johnson is pastor. See Ya Next Week.

MOMENTS MUSICAL

Solo piano performance was rewarding

By ADAH K. JENKINS

Concert goers who often find a disheartening lack of solo piano recitals on the local calendar were rewarded with a memorable performance by Natalie Hinderas, presented by the Music Department of Morgan College in the Murphy Auditorium.

With extensive experience which began when she was a prodigy, Miss Hinderas has achieved an enviable mastery of technic and musicianship.

These, combined with elegance of style, enabled her to meet the challenge of an exacting program that included: three sonatas — Haydn W flat major, Opus 1 by Berg and Prokofiev's third.

Also programmed were Chopin's Ballade in G minor and Nocturne and Scherzo both in C sharp minor. Following the intermission there was Granados' "Tre Maiden and the Nightingale," "Legend" by Albeniz and Ravel's "Jeux d'eau" (Play of Waters).

A careful balance of phrasing and contrast characterized the Haydn; while in the Berg, the vigor and strength necessary for the atonal climaxes was at the pianist's command.

Miss Hinderas also possesses the technical resources necessary for tre three monumental Chopin works, although one could have wished for a warmer warmer shaping of melodic lines.

Similarly, in the Granados and Albeniz, a more impassioned feeling would have been appropriate in these compositions with their Spanish national influence.

Natalie Hinderas' razor-edge dexterity made a delight of the Ravel and a triumphant conclusion of the evening with the Prokofiev.

In addition to her musicianship the pianist presented a charming picture in red velvet trimmed with gold.

The artist, who is a member of the music faculty at Temple University, is teaching at the Music Festival and Institute, sponsored by the school on Amber Campus in Upper Dublin, Pa.

Elaine Kelly, assistant professor of music at Morgan State College, earned her B.S. and M.S. degrees at the Juilliard School of Music in her native city of New York.

She has been a professional accompanist, coach and teacher in New York, Philadelphia, Honolulu and Baltimore. Mrs. Kelly has been heard in concert performances and as a solo recitalist.

On Sunday, March 9 at 3 p.m. she is playing the D minor K466 No. 4 Concert by Mozart, with the Maryland Symphonette, under the direction of Angelo Gatto. The concert is taking place in the Murphy Auditorium, at Morgan.

Mr. Gatto, who is visiting lecturer in the Music Education Department at Morgan, has done extensive work with orchestral groups in Pittsburgh as well as in Baltimore. He is also conductor of the Maryland Youth Symphony.

On the Sunday program the Symphonette, of 22 professional musicians, will play works by Wagner, Beethoven and Strauss.

Mrs. Hilda Perl was guest speaker for the Piano Teachers Activity Group at a recent meeting held in the home of Mrs. Gwendolyn Lassiter, coordinator of the group.

The speaker presented and demonstrated her recent publication, "Child's World in Music." Through her experiences as a teacher of piano in the public schools and in her own private studio, Mrs. Perl developed the material which "aims to relate to the interests of the beginner" and helps to make piano study "a happy experience."

The book is illustrated by the author's daughter, Mrs. Mary Azrael, and also includes an instructive step-by-step lesson plan for teachers. This material is valuable for parents of beginners, also as a guide for assisting children in their practice.

Mrs. Perl, is an alumna of Eastern High School, is a graduate (B.S.) of Goucher and Peabody (M.A.).

Mrs. Lassiter was hostess at tea which followed the demonstration. Members of the Piano Teachers Activity Group are: Mesdames Mildred Bryant, Florence Carter, Iantha Clarke, Gladys Davis, G. Lassiter, Norma Robinson and Katrine White.

The Blue Nile Group, known in its native land as Orchestra Ethiopia, was presented Tuesday evening at Goucher College.

Organized five years ago by Charles Sutton, a Peace Corps volunteer from Columbus, Ohio, the group is composed of 20 musicians and dancers.

Under the direction of an accomplished poet and composer, Tesfaye Lama the Blue Nile Group offers a unique musical entertainment based on ancient Ethiopean folk music and chants of the Coptic Christian Church.

Sutton, who plays the masenko, one of the traditional musical instruments of Ethiopia, founded the group after he met Lema.

The concert was sponsored by Goucher College in cooperation with the Goucher Black Student Association.

Calendar: Saturday, Lyric, "Music of Vienna" in Baltimore Symphony's Pop Concert, conducted by Sergiu Comissiona, with Rita Stretch, soprano soloist.

Sunday, March 9 at 3 p.m. in the Murphy Auditorium, Morgan State College the Maryland Symphonette, with Angela Gatto, conductor and Elaine Kelly, pianist. Program: Siegfried Idyll (Wagner); Symphony IV by Beethoven; D Minor Concerto for piano and orchestra (Mozart) and Emperor Waltz by Stauss. No Cheese.

Saturday and Sunday, March 8 and 9 from 1:30 to 6:30 p.m. at the Langsdale Library of the University of Baltimore, Maryland Ave. and Oliver St., the Young People's Concerto Competition, sponsored by the Young Associates of the Women's Association of the Baltimore Symphony.

Sunday, March 16 at 8:30 p.m. at Shriver Hall, the Johns Hopkins University, Jacob Lateiner, piano sonata recital Series A of the Shriver Concerts.

Saturday, March 29 at 8:30 p.m. at Peabody Concert Hall, two operas: "The Wish" by Anthell and "La Navarraise" by Massanet, presented by Peabody Opera Department, directed by Robert Lawrence. Second performance, Sunday, March 30 at 8:30 p.m.

Sunday, Mar. 16, 8:30 p.m. at Goucher, the Bach Society in Easter music by J. S. Bach, conducted by George Woodhead.

Employment assurd for sewing grads

Dr. Wilmer Bell, Director of Adult Education, Baltimore City Public Schools announced today that of 54 graduates of the Industrial Sewing Class, 50 of the certificate holders were placed in the garment industry as operators of high speed sewing machines.

Mr. Bell noted that this course is highly suitable for housewives who no longer have obligations to their smaller children and would like to learn a good trade to supplement other family earnings.

This class is held daily at the Calvert Education Training Center at North Ave. and Calvert St., from 8:00 A.M. to 2:30 P.M., Monday through Friday.

Tuition is free to all residents of Baltimore City. There are many industrial sewing jobs open.

Persons interested in obtaining more information on the Industrial Sewing Machine Class, can contact Joseph Zebley, Adult Education annex at 2116 North Charles St. Telephone HO 7-4000, Extension 2621.
