

1 employees and employees in other governmental units, that
2 there is no reason to fear that these employees if permit-
3 ted to organize would not conduct themselves in the same
4 responsible manner which their brothers and sisters have 5 at the present level.

6 The President of the United States took another
7 great step when he issued an executive order, President 8 John F. Kennedy, to apply equal employment opportunity for 9 females and of course we have retreated from that at the 10 present time.

11 Yesterday, Mr. President and members of this 12 Convention, on the way back to Baltimore, I listened to 13 that great President of the United States and he stated
14 in part in an appearance before a labor Convention that 15 labor and management are the same as two fingers on a 16 hand, in fact what they do is mutually compatible.

17 Mr. President, I suggest that we should vote 18 down this amendment and give employees in local units of 19 government in Maryland an oppojtunity to organize and 20 select their own representative because it is only with 21 their own chosen and selected representative that workers
