Blue Cross enrollment period on

Maryland Blue Cross and Blue Shield have announced an open enrollment period for their special Blue Cross and Blue Shield 65 Program will run through March 31.

The 65 Program combines with Medicare to provide broad hospital and medical care protection at low cost. Medicare covers most hospital expenses and 80 per cent of medical expenses for those age 65 and over. Blue Cross and Blue Shield 65 covers most of the deductible and coinsurance features built into the Federal program.

Benefits under the Blue Cross portion of the 65 Program were expanded, effective January 1, to fully cover increases in all of the deductible and coinsurance payments required of Medicare beneficiaries under Part A (hospital insurance) of the Federal program.

The current three-month enrollment period applies to non-members only — those senior citizens who are not now members of either Blue Cross or Blue Shield.

Current Blue Cross and Blue Shield members automatically will be converted from their present coverage to the special program when they reach age 65.

Anyone eligible for Medicare may enroll in the 65 Program by contacting the nearest Maryland Blue Cross and Blue Shield office.

Rogers Morton to speak at U of Maryland

Rogers C. B. Morton (R-Md.), Secretary-designate of the U.S. Department of the Interior, will be the featured speaker at the University of Maryland's mid-year commencement Monday on the College Park campus.

The former Republican National Committee chairman will address approximately 2,300 graduates in ceremonies scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Cole Student Activities Building.

Dr. Charles E. Bishop, chancellor of the 34,000-student campus, will preside over the program and confer degrees on the College Park graduates. University President Wilson H. Elkins will confer an honorary Doctor of Laws degree on Rep. Morton and will confer degrees on graduates of University College and the School of Nursing.

'Rookie of the Year' to wed Miss Vivian Janet McDonald

with Lula Mackay

On the next Saturday (the 30th) Calvin G. Hill of this town, and of the Dallas Cowboys Football Team, last year named "Rookie of the Year," and lovely Vivian Janet McDonald of New Orleans will exchange marriage vows in Saint Stephens Church in the Louisana City. Announcement was made by the parents of the bride-elect Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm A. McDonald of New Orleans.

Mr. Hill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hill of Pimlico Road. He attended Sollers Point High School in Turners Station, and was graduated from Riverdale County School in Riverdale, N.Y. Last year he was elected to the trustee board of that school. He received his Bachelor of Arts Degree in history from Yale University in 1969.

Though playing professional football, he is studying for a divinity degree at Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas. Indeed, he is a young man of many activities. He is also an ambassador for the Dr. Pepper Bottling Co. and modeling for Jantzen International Sport Stores.

Donald Patterson treked down the steps from the dining room to the club room, with vast satisfaction written all over his face, and quipped "If she wasn't already married, she'd get at least 15 proposals tonight."

He was talking of the lush board that Yvette Murphy had supervised for the Couples' Club party, Sunday night, in the home of Mary Catherine Laws. But, of course, Mrs. Murphy is rather famed for that sort of thing. But her gourmet viands, from the canapes and hors d'eouvres that accompanied the long and gay cocktail period to the dinner that more-or-less featured soul foods, the dining bit was more than special.

Not that the clothes hing wasn't of import, too. Edna Stanford, in a melon, jeweled wool, had on one of the most eye-catching pants things going. Helen Burwell encased her tall, slender frame in a cloth of silver jump suit. The most intriguing silver and black sandals seen recently was an accessory for Ivy Grinage's black pants ensemble.

Marie Hicks turned to the newest of tweed things, in a colorful ensemble with the unbuttoned front skirt. Whoever said how about a completely new you, completely convinced Catherine Howard, who had an entirely new shoulder-length hairdo, a new makeup and an elegant ensemble. Lorraine Dugger was still with the minis, a suave blue, jewel trimmed; and Catherine trimmed; and Catherine Adams elegant in a taupe silk ensemble, mink trimmed.

The party was given by Mary Catherine Law, Ethel Rich, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Green, the Ben Foremans, the James Murphys, the Medford Reynoldses, the Bill Stanfords, the Hiram Butlers, the Cliff Mackays and the Tom Warringtons.

Their guests included:

Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Hicks, Donald Patterson, Edgar Ewing, Milton Dugger, Sherlock Grinage, Grihses Lynch, Walter Johnson, Benny King, Charles Howard, Glenn Tarter, Walter Johnson, Willie Adams;

Drs. and Mesdames G. James Fleming, Clarence L. E. Monroe, Fred Adams, Maurice Adams, Roy Berry, Ted Phifer, Elroy Young, Albert Burwell, Ervin Henry, Lewis Harmon, Calvin Burnett, Bruce Russell; Mesdames Mabel Vashon Parker, Gertrude Urquhart; and Henry Parks and Bernard Cooper.

Mary Bacote started Les Pierettes' Bridge Club off to a Bang-up year as she hosted the club at their first meeting of '71.

Cocktails in the club room were the first order of business, followed by a delectable Southern luncheon — fried chicken, corn pudding, hot rolls, a glamorous molded salad, asparagus, etc.

Prize for high score went to Charlotte Little — their new bride — second high to Elmira Collins and the booby prize to Leanna Ferrell.

Attending the meeting were Mary Bacote, Gilda Brown, Elmira Collins, Leanna Ferrell, Georgianna Howard, Charlotte Little, Mildred Williams, and new members to Les Pierretes', Evelyn Revels and Nelle Snowden.

The Greater Baltimore Section, National Council of Negro Women held its monthly meeting recently at the Madison Avenue Branch of the YWCA.

The main purpose established by the Section was to promote local unity among all women and girls and to increase the understanding and planning for the alleviation of some of the larger problems relating to education, employment, social welfare, human relations, family life, and the particular needs of children, youth, and the aged.

The immediate program will center around studying the need for and implementation of establishing Day Care Centers in the Greater Baltimore Area.

Mrs. Beryl Williams formally installed the permanent officers of the new Section:

Mrs. Elizabeth Demby, president; Mrs. Marion Jones Jackson, first vice president; Mrs. Lois Carter, second vice president; Miss Cynthia Bell, third vice president; Mrs. Bernice S. White, recording secretary;

Miss Margaret Gassaway, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. Marian Finney, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Minnie B. Cesar, treasurer; Mrs. Emma Dudley, chaplain; Mrs. Salome Fuller, parliamentarian; Mrs. Anna Stokes, historian; Mrs. Alice Hall, coordinator for Youth and Young Adult Programs; Mrs. Shirley Smith, coordinator for Art and History Programs.

Committee chairmen are finance, Mrs. Isolene Crowner; social, Mrs. Willie Mae DaShields; courtesy, Mrs. Phyllis Walston.

The next meeting will be held on Sunday, February 14th at 3 p.m. at the YWCA. All interested women are invited to attend.

The National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Gamma Chapter held a business meeting on Saturday, at the home of Soror Anna Mae Gittings, with Soror Thelma

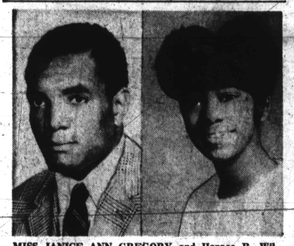
MISS VIVIAN McDONALD of New Orleans, La. will be married to Calvin G. Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hill of Pimlico Road, Baltimore, on Saturday, the 30th.



MISS JANICE ANN GREGORY and Horace R. Williams, both of Baltimore, will be married in early July, according to announcement of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Gregory. Mr. Williams is the son of Mrs. Erma G. Williams of this city.

THE "TEN OLE PALS," members of the club which celebrated the 25th anniversary of the organization at cocktails and a dinner dance, recently, are, from left, Mesdames Emily Lee, Margaret Lowry, Bernice Branch, Elinor Gibson, Beulah Wilmore, Beatrice Gilmore, Corinna Willis, Ewell Gibson, Margaret Holland and Lillian Layton.
