Welfare Losses

Indiana and Nebraska will lose all federal welfare money by April 1 unless the states raise their payments to welfare families as required by law, the Health, Education and Welfare Department says.

John D. Twiname, administrator for HEW's social and rehabilitation service, said both states had violated provisions of a 1967 ing payments to poor families with children by last July 1. The higher pay schedule was designed to reflect increases in the cost of living.

SPECIAL HONORS and plaques went to the sorors above when Delta Sigma Thetas celebrated their 58th anniversary, Saturday. From left, Soror Thelma Cox presents the plaques to Sorors Ida Murphy Smith and Vivian Washington, for services as convention coordinators; and to Sorors Minnie B. Cesar and Beryle Williams, Founder's Honors, for outstanding service.

C. Rice, basileus, presiding.

Books were collected by members of the Children's Project Committee to be given to the Community Action Agency Downtown. Prizes were collected for the card party to be given at Stevenson and Klein on February 6 to raise money for the United Negro College Fund.

Plans for Negro History Meeting were finalized. This meeting to be held on Saturday, February 20, at the Learning Center at Coppin State College will feature Samuel Banks, acting director Commission on the Education of the Social Studies, Baltimore City Public Schools. His topic will be "The Black American in the American Experience: A Challenge for the Nation."

This meeting is open to the public.

Members in attendance included:

Mildred Barkley, Jean A. Beckett, Dorothy F. Bennett, Nellie H. Bowie, Emma L. Davis, Ardena S. Dixon, Wilhelmina R. Duvall, Leana Ferrell, Anna Mae Gittings, Mildred W. Harriday, Dr. Delores C. Hunt, Marjorie Hunt, Ethel J. Huner, Jeanette Johnson, Jessie H. Jones, Louise Jones, Ann Larkins, Fannie Lawson, Della W. Meyer, Isabelle Mimms, Ruth Marshall, Bennie J. Roey, Ellen S. The Women's Assembly for Community Service marked its fourth anniversary with worship at Macedonia Baptist Church, and a meeting in the home of Mrs. Sadie Wilson.

At the latter a program and a memorial for the founder and first president, the late Mrs. Charlotte Wilson Mason, was held.

Dinner followed, and there was a distribution of gifts to members.

Miss Mae Thomas is the current president. Other officers are Mrs. Etta Williams, recording secretary; Mrs. Gladys Stewart, financial secretary; Mrs. Earline Ford, treasurer; Mrs. Ruth Tibbs, parliamentarian; Mrs. Marian Bush, hospitality chairman; Mrs. Sadie Wilson, chaplain.

Members also include Miss Helen Beaton and Mrs. Ruby Lewis.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Dorothy Douglass, Mrs. Garnetta Dunford, Mrs. Artelia Douglas, Miss Sheila Ford and Miss Theresa Lewis.

Pot-Pourri: Dr. Bruce Alleyne, who was in Provident Hospital for a spell, is recuperating at his Edmondson Avenue home. Also recuperating at home, on Ruxton Ave. is Sinclair Swan.

Run spots on last week's social calendar included the charming little dinner dance a Le Fontaine Bleu, which Gamma Chapter of the National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa had for "the Men in Their Lives" . . . and at which the husbands and escorts were on the receiving end of the gift giving. The party was on Friday evening.

The Baltimore Chapter of Girl Friends had fun on Saturday afternoon at Hilltop Inn, where Elizabeth Stewart and Gaynell Spaulding were hosting at a business meeting and luncheon. The GF's are in the throes of discussing plans for entertaining the national convention.

• • •

The Pierians met in the home of the Glenn Tarters, where Gwendolyn Vernlece Reynolds and Dale Mackay were co-hostesses. They served chili in tiny demitasse cups, using silver demitasse spoons, hot, very spiced punch, cheeses and frosted exotic fruits . . . well, just to be different, I guess. Really, it was a demonstration of the many different ways one might use accumulations of dishes and silver.

Williams children to host reception

One of the highlights of the winter social season is the coming Sunday 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua B. Williams, a splendid party sponsored by their children. Nearly 400 guests are expected to attend the 4 p.m. affair at the Halethorpe Civic Center, 1900 Northeast Ave.

Mr. Williams is owner of the old Western Star Cemetery in Catonsville. He and his wife, Mrs. Mildred Eley Williams, longtime residents of Arbutus, were married Jan. 19 1921 at the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church parsonage in Baltimore by the late Rev. W. W. Walker.

As they repeat their vows Sunday, Mr. Williams will place on his wife's finger the same wedding ring he gave her in 1921, the one she has worn ever since that snowy day half a century ago.

• • •

Mrs. Williams will wear a gold brocade frock and her husband a tuxedo. The large auditorium will be in gold satin flowers and frills with a three-tiered cake the centerpiece.

The Williams Children, hosts and hostesses will be assisted by the 10 grandchildren and countless nieces and nephews. The children are E. Stanley Williams, the Arbutus mail carrier and ham radio operator who talks to friends all over the world; Mrs. Margaret Rose, retired government worker who resides in Patapsco Park; Mrs. Mildred Williams Jr., a Catonsville nurse and Harold Williams, an Arbutus government worker who is employed at Fort Meade.

As a sidelight, present will be granddaughter, Lt. Phyllis Williams, an Army Nurse and University of Maryland graduate, now stationed in Missouri. Her June wedding to Percell Sharps of Baltimore will be the next family event.

Mrs. Vessells ends 25 years at court

Mrs. Frances M. Vessells, supervisor in the Probation Department, Supreme Bench, has retired after a career of 25 years.

Mrs. Vessells joined the Probation Department in 1945 after teaching in the Baltimore Public School System for 15 years. She was promoted to supervisory status in 1957, and worked in the Family Services Division until her retirement.

• • •

At a ceremony in the Court House, a certificate commemorating her services, signed by the Chief Judge and Chairman of the Probation Committee, was presented to her.

The certificate commends Mrs. Vessells for meritorious and devoted service to the Court and extends the appreciation of the entire Bench.

Mrs. Stemmons, Zeta founder, guest for 51st anniversary

Sorors of Alpha Zeta Chapter of Zeta Phi Beta and guests gathered in the lounge of the Roman Holiday Room in Holiday Inn, Saturday, to observe the anniversary of the sorority which was founded on that date, January 16, at Howard University, 51 years ago.

Add to the occasion was the presence of one of the founders, Soror Arizona Cleaver Stemmons of Philadelphia. Distinguished guests also included Dr. Parlett Moore, newly-elected national president of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, brother organization to Zeta; and Dr. Andre' Pitts, president of the local chapter of Phi Beta Sigma.

• • •

Against the delicate blue draperies of the room, the tables were laid with blue cloths and napkins and china, and marked with blocked printed programs designed by Artist Reva Lewis, member of the group, to carry out the sorority colors.

An arrangement of white roses was used on the guest table.

Soror Ruth M. Cleaver, chairman of the Founder's Day Committee, introduced the mistress of ceremonies following a unique one-minute ceremony in which corsages and boutinieres were pinned on head table guests by 17 hostesses, who had also served as escorts.

At the table were Soror Elizabeth Demby, co-chairman; Ruth Cleaver, Dr. Andre' Pitts, Soror Beatrice Pitts, basileus of Alpha Zeta Chapter; Sorors Mary B. Hurt, regional director; Catherine Neal, immediate past basileus; Arizona Stemmons, founder and grand basileus emeritus; Isolene Crowner, Katharine O. Johnson and Althea Cornish, chapter officers.

• • •

Soror Catherine Neal presided. The invocation was by Soror Mary Revels and "the occasion" was given by Soror Elizabeth Demby, first anti-basileus. Greetings were brought from the I. Z. Youth Group by Darcell East, from Gamma Chapter by Sheryl Woodland, from Nu Gamma Chapter by Yvonne Woodfolk, and from Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity by Charles Wright.

• • •

Soror Catherine Neal, who brought greetings from the past basileus, explained the National Sorority theme, "Excelsior" as she pointed out that the presence of the group showed their consciousness of the privilege to look forward and reach higher in giving service to the community.

Mrs. Hurt, regional director, brought greetings from the national body. Soror Evelyn Dixon was soloist.

Presentations were made to Mrs. Pitts, Mrs. Neal, national chairman of life members; Mrs. Cleaver, past national coordinator; Mrs. Demby and Mrs. Hurt.

• • •

Entertainment feature was a "Diorama," writtend and directed by Soror Cleaver, of living birthday cards which portrayed the history of Zeta.

Readers were Sorors Katherine Johnson, Corheda Better, Ruth Cleaver and Althea Cornish.

The models wore dress of the decade depicted and music of the period was sung by Gamma Chapter accompanied by Soror Mary Fields.

For the period 1920, Soror Althea Cornish wore a white full-skirted gown with square neckline, puffed sleeves and 21 buttons down the front. Her matching picture hat was trimmed in blue velvet.

1930 — Soror Mary Hurt wore a pink silk flapper dress, trimmed in rows of dangling, shaking pink beads from neck to hem. A pink head band completed this outfit.

1940 — Soror Elizabeth Demby modeled a brown suit with fitted waist line coat with a slight flair, a medium long skirt with stripes and a flair. She topped this with a set of fox furs around her neck and very high heel shoes.

1950 — Soror Isolene Crowner, modeled a blue wool suit. The coat was straight in fron with a full cape back and straight skirt. Her broad high heel shoes and small high hat made a fine birthday card.

1960 — Soror Beatrice Pitts modeled a suit made of white Chinese silk, straight lines and trimmed with a mink collar. This suit was also tailored by Soror Pitts in 1960.

1970 — Soror Angie McClain modeled her own micro-mini costume, pure white cotton broacade.

THE FUTURE POST-CARDS — were resplendent at Girls of Nu Gamma Chapter modeled pants suits of every description.

Soror Reva Lewie showed an original costume of flowing silver gown that reached from shoulder to the floor in exquisite folds. Her hat was geometric space design of silver which was reflected in her make-up.
