Cause of riots no mystery, Mrs. Grays tells AKA sorors

"There's no mystery to a thinking man of the cause of racial turbulance in this country, Mrs. Matella B. Grays of Houston, Texas, supreme basileus of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, said, here, Saturday.

"Take a man of any color and take away his job or let him work on a marginal salary that will give him just enough money to pay his rent and buy food for his family; crowd him into a ghetto where he cannot find room at any time to get away from others even for a moment;

"Overcharge him for necessities and sell him luxuries or credit and step-up the interest rate; let his children be ragged and his two rooms and shared bath be stifling in the heat;

"On top of this, flaunt your wealth in front of him in newspapers, magazines and on television, of new cars, new homes, new clothes, new furniture and flights to vacation spots;

"and pile show windows high with liquor, stereos, radios, jewelry, sports equipment and gourmet foods;

"Tell him he should send his children to college and that he should give his wife every convenience dreamed up by mankind.

"Then deny him his manhood and attempt to keep him in line with unsympathetic policemen alien to his culture. Were he a God instead of a black man persecuted for centuries, he would strike out in blind revolt."

* * *

Mrs. Grays was addressing some 200 guests who attended the Founders' Day luncheon which marked the 63rd anniversary of Alpha Kappa Alpha, and which was hosted by Epsilon Omega Chapter of the sorority which boasts of a membership of 40,000 college women in 300 chapters across the United States and in several countries abroad.

She said that the frustrations of suppressed peoples in the North are worse than those in the South, where some progress has been made. In the North, she pointed out, blacks have had integrated schools, could eat in restaurants if they had the money and have had the vote. But today they are living about the same as they lived 20 years ago, except that the slums are worse, the schools more crowded and the wage scale even lower.

* * *

Moreover, said Mrs. Grays, the northern ghetto worker lives in daily fear that he will be replaced by automation.

"In light of all these facts and figures," said Mrs. Grays, "I am greatly concerned because the Anglo is still asking 'Just what do your people want? First we want to see the phrase 'you people' dropped from the question. It usually has a derogatory ring, setting us aside as something not truly a part of the American population.

"We would like to think of ourselves as a part of 'We the people of these United States.' We were granted this status legally when we became citizens of this nation and had earned it through our blood, sweat and tears.

"Maybe the only honest answer is we want everything, and that everything will include responsibility as well as blessings. We will perform our jury duty, pay our taxes, respect the law and serve the military, but we expect the responsibilities to be accompanied by the privileges."

The luncheon, which was held in the Emerald Gardens, and presided over by Mrs. Nellie H. Moore, also saw citations made to six outstanding citizens for specific performances.

The recipients of citations, accompanied by plaques, were:

The Hon. Thomas D'Alesandro III, mayor, Baltimore City, for "Fearless performance as mayor and Immeasurable support of Project SAGA," a project for Senior Citizens run by Epsilon Omega Chapter; to State's Attorney Milton B. Allen, first black to hold this post in the country; to Congressman Parren J. Mitchell for "unprecended achievement as first black congressman from Maryland;" to Mrs. Elizabeth M. Moss for "sensitivity to civic needs, for community concern, and to the AFRO-AMERICAN for support of black aspirants to politician positions. Mrs. Moss is vice president and treasurer of the Newspaper.

Citations and plaques also went to Mrs. Vivian C. Cook, founder of Epsilon Omega chapter; and to Mrs. Grays for "demonstrated leadership and dedicated service to her community and Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

Mrs. Grays, in addition to church and civic service, is principal of one of Houston's largest city schools in which the pupils, with exception of two, are white.

The plaque for Mrs. D'Alesandro was accepted by Joe Smith of his office. Mr. Allen was absent because of illness.

The bride, a graduate of Morgan State College and a graduate student at Loyola College, is an interviewer at the Maryland State Department of Employment and Social Services. Mr. Cooper, who also attended Morgan, is employed at Social Security Administration, Woodlawn, as a computer operator.

Miss Hudson wed to Gary Stevenson

Miss Lenora Ann Hudson and Gary Monte Stevenson were married in a beautiful ceremony in the Morning Star Baptist Church, Saturday.

The Rev. Samuel Ray performed the double-ring ceremony, and the program of organ music was by Kenneth Dean.

Miss Hudson, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard I. Hudson Sr. of Pembridge Avenue, was given in marriage by her father. Her A-line gown of satin was lace trimmed and featured a cathedral train. Her veil, which fell to the waist, was attached to a headpiece of jeweled lace, and she carried carnations.

Sigmas' tribute to Dr. Parlett Moore

"A scholar, a gentleman and a brother" was the characterization the Sigma family gave Dr. Parlett L. Moore, Sunday afternoon, at a reception themed, "Dr. Moore As We Know Him."

Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity members, their wives and friends came from 11 cities to join in the tribute to the retired president of Coppin State College, at the affair held in the Sheraton-Baltimore Inn, and which the honoree said was his personal Valentine Party, as far as he was was concerned.

They piled him with praise, gifted him with a rocking chair, the pillows and back made of bills and added a fishing rod and pipe "for continued quiet contemplation and fruitful action."

* * *

In Phi Beta Sigma, Dr. Moore has served as president of Alpha Sigma Chapter, Washington, as director of the Eastern Region, as national vice president and as president of the national body.

Of these services and of his services with Zeta Sigma Chapter, this city, Dr. T. Andre Pitts, president, and U. Theodore Hayes, attorney, a past president, said that though he never held office in the local chapter, he has been a staunch advisor and worker. His work in the Washington chapter was told by Lt. Col Robert L. Pollard.

* * *

Not being one to keep his talents and experiences to himself, Dr. Moore has served as a member of the Board of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, the Board of Directors of Management the Druid Hill Avenue Branch YWCA, and the Board of Trustees of the Sharp Street United Methodist Church.

He is vice president of the Baltimore chapter of Frontiers International.

Other tributes came from:

The Rev. Richard L. Clifford, pastor of Sharp Street United Methodist Church; Frank H. Thatcher, general executive of the Metropolitan YMCA; James B. Hite, president of the Board of Managers of the Druid Hill Branch YMCA; Ralph W. Holmes, president of Frontiers; Oliver C. Eastman, attorney, East Elmhurst, N.Y., of the Distinguished Service Chapter of Phi Beta Sigma; Mrs. Mary B. HELLO, DADDY — Says Karla Francette Miriam Reid, daughter of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Madison Reid of Washington, formerly pastor of Baltimore's Bethel Church. The Rev. Mr. Reid has been in Cape Town, S. Afelca since Jan. 18 and saw his daughter for the first time Friday. The baby, born on Jan. 29, weighed 9 pounds, 9 ounces. Mrs. Reid is the former Mrs. Irene Schomoke, onetime Baltimore social worker. Her son, by a former marriage, is the famed athlete and Rhodes scholar, Kurt Schmoke.

Volunteers cited by proclamation

Governor Mandel and Mayor D'Alesandro this week paid tribute to volunteer workers who have contributed millions of hours of their time to helping less fortunate residents of the city and state, by proclaiming "Volunteer Service Week."

The proclamations were issued by the two executives at ceremonies attended at City Hall and Annapolis by members of the Policy Advisory Committee of the Volunteer Service Corps.

* * *

Mrs. Jennie Jenkins, director of Volunteer Services for the Community Action Agency of Baltimore City, and Mrs. Sylvia Scherr, director of Volunteers for Sinai Hospital, themed the week's observance "Valentine for Volunteers — the people who actively care about people."

Both joined with the Mayor and Governor in voicing their appreciation for the efforts of those currently serving as volunteers. They also urged others to invest their "time and talents" in "coping with the many problems of our complex society," and in making volunteerism "an integral part of our way of life."

* * *

Mrs. Jenkins points out that the Volunteer Service Corps continues to have a desperate need for volunteers to provide their skills and talents in the thirty Neighborhood Centers and twenty Delegate Agencies. Volunteers of all ages, race and religions can serve in the programs. The Volunteer Service Corps is appealing to citizens from 16 years of age to retired individuals, all civic, governmental community and business groups, neighborhood clubs and councils, housewives, churches and church organizations, to share their time in volunteering. More tutors, instructor in all areas and citizens who can be creative, innovative and assert their leadership by working with youth and adult residents.

Baltimorean hits pin 'pot'

Eugene Lowery, of Park Heights Avenue in northwest Baltimore, rolled a strike to break a $1700 cash jackpot during WBAL-TV's "Duckpins and Dollars" bowling program, Tuesday.

Lowery, who was second bowler of the day, shares the cash prize with his home "pin pal" Jeffery Reed of South Charles Street in Baltimore.

"Duckpins and Dollars," seen weekdays at 6-6:30 p.m. with host Tom Cole, offers seven daily contestants and their home "pin pals" — all chosen from cards sent in by WBAL-TV viewers — a chance to share in rapidly building cash jackpots. All participants must be at least 18 years of age.

Cards should be sent to "Duckpins and Dollars," c/o WBAL-TV, P.O. Box 7214 Waverly Station, Baltimore, Maryland 21218.

Mrs. White chosen Woman of the Year

Mrs. Bernice S. White, Equal Employment Opportunity specialist and director of the Federal Women's Program for Social Security Administration, will be cited at "Woman of the Year" by Alpha Zeta Chapter of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority.

Mrs. White, who, this week, was appointed to the Board of Directors of the Medical Eye Bank of Maryland, is also a columnist for the AFRO-AMERICAN.

The citation by Zetas will be made at the public meeting of their Finer Womanhood Week observance on Feb. 28, at Providence Baptist Church.

Speaker at the tea will be Mrs. Joanna Ransom.

Others to be honored at the tea are Soror Emma Daudney, who is this year's "Zeta of the Year," and Miss Darcell East as "Girl of the Year." The chapter's service award will go to Mrs. Bertha Lewis.

The Sunday afternoon session will culminate a Finer Womanhood observation which began on February 12, when honorees were "Big sisters for a day." On this occasion they entertained 32 children at a threatre party and lunch in Perring Plaza.

Tomorrow (Saturday) the sorors will visit the Anna Mae Hunter Home for the Blind.

Other items on the program include worship service in the Morgan Christian Center at 10:45 Sunday (20th) morning; a chapter meeting on the 22nd at the Madison Avenue Branch YWCA, A "Zetarama," Feb. 26, at 3510 Dennlyn Road; and luncheon for retirees at the James Brown Motor Inn on the 27th.

Mrs. Beatrice G. Pitts is basileus of Alpha Zeta Chapter.
