Grandson of church leader confirmed by family friend

The Rt. Rev. Harry Lee Doll, Episcopal bishop of Maryland, officiated at the confirmation of a 13-year-old youngster whose grandfather, the late Rev. M. J. Naylor was pioneer minister and former superintendent of Maryland-Washington Methodist Conference.

The Rev. Mr. Naylor was a member of Sharp Street Methodist Unified Church and founder of the Sharp Street Community House. He and Bishop Doll were friends.

Dr. Naylor was a former trustee of Morgan State College and gave his old homestead to the Washington-Maryland Metodist Conference to be used by Morgan students. It is now known as Morgan Christian Center.

Aaron, who has a twin sister, Sharon, formerly was a member of Sharp Street Methodist Church. He is a seventh grade student at Pimlico Junior High School; a former member of the James Mosher Little League and played for the Orioles 1966-1969.

Family and friends who attended the confirmation services were his grandmother, Mrs. Beulah Naylor Plummer, Mrs. Katurvn Naylor Taylor, great aunt of Silver Springs, Md.; Mrs. Bernice F. Watson, aunt; sisters and brother, Sharon, Sydney, Arlene, Burnett.

Also Mrs. Stephanie B. Grantt, Anthony Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Young, New York; Mrs. Elizabeth Parker, Mrs. Catherine Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Goldz Baden, Miss Adrienne Watson, Mrs. Steven Buggs.

Young Aaron is the son of Mrs. Vivian Burnett and Dr. Sidney Burnett.

The Rev. Robert Powell is rector of Holy Trinity.

CONFIRMED — Aaron Gregory Burnett, 13, was confirmed recently at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church by the Rt. Rev. Harry Lee Doll, friend of his grandfather, the late Rev. M. J. Naylor, founder of Sharp St. Methodist Church and Morgan College. Left to right, Father Robert M. Powell, Trinity rector; Edwin Franze, also 13 and godson of rector Aaron's grandmother, Mrs. Beulah Naylor Plummer; his brother, Aaron twin sister, Sharon; mother, Mrs. Vivian Burnett; and Father Rovan Welnsdorser, assistant of Holy Trinity.

One-woman show set at Coppin

Miss Joanna Featherstone recently of the Broadway production of Great White Hope will appear in a one-woman solo drama, "Not Without Laughter," a program of Black Literature ranging from pre-Civil War days through the present.

Miss Featherstone has toured the college circuit through the United States and has traveled abroad—London, Paris, and Liberia — for the U.S. State Department.

Miss Featherstone's appearance in the Pullen Gymnasium, at 8:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 9, will be her second appearance at Coppin.

Her March 9th engagement, sponsored by the Special Events Committee, will be a part of a series of pre-inaugural events for Coppin's new president, Dr. Burnett.

Admission is free; the public is invited.

asked how many pharmacists, nurses, dentists or physicians are incorporated into this planning process which will involve $23 million to merely get started. Other areas he proposed investigating included construction loans and scholarships for low income students.

The Congressman added: "Health is big business, and big business has moved into the health picture through construction and control of hospitals, nursing homes, health centers and private practice. Will black people be omitted again? You will have to know the laws that govern your business and join with other groups to research the issues and provide your political spokesmen with the ammunition to fight for health as a "right".

The speaker was introduced by Dr. Billy D. Davis. Dr. Joshua Mitchell presided and participants also included Drs. Norman H. C. Griffiths of Washington, grand president of the fraternity and Robert Phillips, president of the host chapter, Iota.

Zetas cite four at public session

A mother of six, who has spent many years in service to others, and who now serves as a Model City nutrition aide, received the Community Service Citation of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, here, Sunday.

She is Mrs. Bertina Lewis, active in organizing Mothers' Clubs in Area E of Model City for classes in nutrition. Mrs. Lewis is connected with the Iron 45 Milk Program.

Citations, made at the public meeting and tea which climaxed the Sorority's Finer Womanhood Week, also went to Mrs. Bernice White, who was named "Woman of the Year;" Miss Darcel East, "Girl of the Year;" and Mrs. Emma Dudley "Zeta of the Year."

Speaker on the program, which was held in Providence Baptist Church, was Mrs. Joanna H. Ramsom, a past grand basileus of the organization. Miss Olyce was soloist.

Based on the sorority's national theme, "Relevance to Contemporary Issues — A focus toward Total Concern for Human Beings," the week's observance began with a project for 32 children of the Zeta Educational Center.

The youngsters were entertained with luncheon and a theatre party, Saturday before last.

On the following Saturday the sorority made its annual visit to the Anna Mae Hunter Home for the Blind. A literary and musical program was rendered by the sorors. An added feature this year was the "Sing-Along" led by Soror Powell. Each resident present joined in the "Sing-Along" proving that music is an enjoyable universal language that can so easily speak from the inner soul of humanity.

The basileus, Mrs. Beatrice G. Pitts made a presentation to the home. Soror Jane Harrison was chairman of this activity.

The sorors attending the worship service in the Morgan Christian Center were inspired by the dynamic message given by the Rev. Peter Paris, associate professor of ethics, School of Religion at Howard University. The undergraduate chapter of Morgan State College participated in the chancel with the Rev. Howard Cornish and also served as ushers. The Morgan Singers under the direction of Nathan Carter, performed.

An informal discussion and coffee hour was held after the worship service.

At the regular chapter meeting, presided by Soror Pitts, and held at the YWCW praises were given to the chairman and sorors for jobs well done in planning for our Finer Womanhood observance.

A social event, the "Zetarama" where sorors gather for fun games and relaxation, was held at the home of the chairman, Soror Isolene Crowner on Dennlyn Road. Each soror received a prize. A buffet dinner was served.

Soror Edna Dec. Johnson and her committee planned a Zodiac Party for our retiring sorors, namely Sorors Thelma C. Ashe, Nellie Buchanan, Roberta W. Clarke, Beatrice Lancaster, Bernice Shorter and Jeesye U. Valentine. The Zodiac Party was held at the James Brown Motor Inn. The horoscope of each soror was read during the Swami Act. Various presentations were made followed by appropriate responses.

THE WEDDING of Miss Beverly Booth and William Brown took place in the Metropolitan Methodist Church, Baltimore, Sunday afternoon.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIE RICE celebrated a half century of marriage at a reception in their home in Baltimore, Saturday.

Neighborhood Club marks anniversary

The Community Neighborhood Association of West Baltimore celebrated its sixth anniversary with dinner Sunday at the New Union Baptist Church, of which the Rev. George E. Henry is pastor.

The group worshipped at the 11 a.m. service. The day was also the second annual "Friend's Day" of the association.

At 2:30 p.m. the members and invited guests assembled for dinner in the lower auditorium of the church.

Speakers included — The Hon. Joseph A. Chester, State Representative from the Second District, the Rev. George A. Crawley, Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, Deacon Andrew Troy and the Rev. John Wright

Other guests were:

Alexander Beard, Miss C. Barrow, Miss Gina Brown, William Carter, Mrs. Wesley Dargon, Miss Coleen Gough, Mrs. Ida Johnson, Miss Nina Brown.

James Kidd, Mrs. Iona Kidd, Mrs. Louise Lee, Miss Jacqueline Ridges, Mrs. Georgia Rush, Miss Bernadette Taylor, Curtis Thompson, and Mrs. Elaine Tucker.

The associations' section includes the 600 blocks of North Monroe, Appleton, Payson and Pulaski Streets, The 1800 and 1900 blocks of Edmondson, Harlem and the 2000 block of Harlem Avenue. Their chief concern is the upkeep of their neighborhood in all ways.

Mrs. Grace Adams is president, and Mrs. Odessa Troy, secretary.

Members also include:

Mesdames Estelle Thomas, Jessie Thompson, Dolly Barrow, Odessa Troy, Margaret Carter, Hattie Tucker, Elma Chappell, Willa Tucker,

Youth Center opens doors on Monday

On March 1, 1971 a new Youth Center will be opening at the St. Ambrose Catholic Church, located at 4506 Park Heights Avenue. This Center is made possible by the joint cooperation of several different agencies and organizations.

The Bureau of Recreation Street Club Service has been instrumental in organizing the different groups involved.

They have, through the support of three religious institutions established a private agency known as the Metropolitan Athletic Association.

The M. A. A. as it is known is sponsoring jointly by the Baltimore Hebrew Congregation, Cheb Shalom Congregation, and the Church of the Redeemer.

Together with the staff of the Street Club Service, M. A. A. has established this new Center along with several other programs through the City. Cooperating with the Street Club Service and the M.A.A. in establishing this Center is the St. Ambrose Church which is allowing the Center to use their facility free of charge) and the Northwest Baltimore Corporation Youth Council which is donating funds for special activities.

The Center program will include recreational, educational, and social service programs. Volunteers from the community and the congregations already have plans under way for basketball leagues, girls' track team, a tutoring service, fashion clubs, film program legal and medical services, and other special programs. The overall goal is to enhance the ability of the youth to deal with the world around them.

Mr. Jerry Jackson, a Morgan State College student, is serving as Director of the Youth Center. The Center will be open five days per week from 5:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. Anyone wishing to be a part of this team effort in behalf of the Northwest Baltimore Youth is welcome.
