Dr. Burnett's inauguration will be sparkling weekend

with Lula Mackay

The inauguration of Dr. Calvin Wilks Burnett as third president of Coppin State College will highlight the weekend of April 2 with, not only the inaugural ceremony on Saturday (the third) but a series of top-drawer social events.

The weekend will begin with a music-dance concert on Friday evening (April 2) in the Thomas Pullen Gymnasium, which is being arranged by Henry Freman, Jerlyn Manuel, and Ruffie London.

The same evening, beginning at 9:30, a reception will be held in the Tawes Student Union. The inaugural ceremony on Saturday at 3 p.m. will be followed by dinner in the Student Union at six, and the inaugural ball at 10 p.m. The latter will be in the gymnasium.

Mrs. Flossie Dedmond is chairman of the inauguration committee.

Pi Omega Chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity's annual Mardi Gras at East Wind, Friday ago, drew nearly 1,000 guests, and some tough, tough work on the part of the judges, Ruth Croxton and Reva Lewie.

But when the grand march was over at midnight, the ladies had come up with three special couples. First place went to Dr. Hiram Ammons and Peggy Parker, who came as "Space Monsters." Their prizes were a plaque and $50 cash. A "Flapper and Zoot Suiter" costume won a plaque and $25 for the Robert Alstons; and Spanish ensembles took third prize for the Leroy Dyetts. Third place brought a cash prize of $25. The awards were presented by Dr. James Priest, basileus of the chapter; and Dr. Edward McDaniels, who was chairman for the affair.

Proceeds from the Mardi Grás are used for scholarships and to fund certain civic projects the chapter helps sponsor.

Que brothers who hosted tables included:

Walter Amprey, George Ball, Leroy Barber, George Bennett, Garland Brown, William Brown, John Cardwell, Ernest Custis, Luther Day, Wiley Daniels, Kenneth Ervin, Melvin Fox, Harrison Fuller, James Grant,

Washington Green, Bertram Harrington, William Henderson, Talmadge Hill Jr., John J. Hurt, Joseph Jackson, Alfred James, Andrew Johnson, Robert Johnson, Dr. Emerson Julian, Earl Koger Sr.,

Dr. Granville H. Marshall, who, with a party of five had flown from Los Angeles, Calif., to New York for the Frazier-Ali fight, came to Baltimore afterwards and gathered members of his family for a reunion at a beautiful party in the Chesapeake. The affair was really a belated birthday party for his mother, Mrs. Cyrus Marshall Sr. ... and was she lovely in a metallic pants ensemble!

And about to greet Dr. Marshall and to wish his mother many happy returns of the day were Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Marshall Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Marshall III, Mrs. Williams Perry Jr., William Perry III, Mrs. Martha Stulz, Mr. and Mrs. Otha Ringgold, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ringgold, Vaughn Ringgold, Miss Tina Ringgold, and Gary Ringgold and his guest, Miss Joyce Brent.

The Garland Dinner Theatre, Columbia, Md., was the setting for the annual Charter Day dinner of Howard University Alumni, Friday evening.

The group had cocktails, dined, saw the play "Norman, Is That You"; paid tribute to Howard's new president, Dr. James Cheek (in absentia) and honored Dr. Herbert Frisby, their famed Artic explorer.

Also cited were members Odell Maizie Rae, recipient of the Howard University Alumni Generation award for conspicuous services to the University and who is being backed for a seat on the Howard Trustee Board; Gwendolyn Biddle, who has just returned from a year in South America; Dr. Vernon Sheffey, director of the Harlem Park Community Center.

Attending the dinner were:

Messrs. and Mesdames George Taylor, Roland H. Gangee, William Curtis, Aaron Ellis, Russell Lyles, Charles Parker, Charles Howard, William Nelson;

Drs. and Mesdames Parlett Moore, Vernon Sheffey, Donald D. Brandon, Carl Franklin; Dr. Lois Young, Mesdames Ruth Lightfoot, Mamie Woodford, Marian Dixon, Thelma Ashe, Lilla Barnum, C. Louise Sims, Mary Spellman, Gwendolyn Brooks, Eunice Brooks, Weida Alston, Mazie Barbour Rae, Gladys S. Sims; and Misses Anne C. Fuller, Ethel Wise, Elizabeth Johnson and Gwendolyn Biddle, all alumni.

Guests included Mrs. Allen Harris, Merly Harris, Mr. and Mrs. John De Cecilio, Mrs. Hattie Pinder, Mrs. Ralph S. Garner, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Anderson, Mrs. Eugene Whitbee, Earl Booker, Arthur Lanier and Calvin Wilder.

Sunday morning at Union Baptist Church, the Sunday school honored Carrie D. Jackson for 30-odd years of dedicated service ... she's currently general secretary.

'Twas planned as a surprise, with Sunday school having been pushed up a half hour early ... and then, guess who was late? Carrie, of course.

But you should hear her talk about it. Says she:

"When I entered many eyes were focused on me, but I thought they were peeved because the collection envelopes and literature had not been distributed. So I hurriedly took off my coat — not too questioning at seeing Rev. Bayter Matthews and J. Leroy Bennett the superintendent, in close conversation. Thought they had deep business. Collection was taken early for this important 9 a.m. program about which I had wondered the whole week, for my seven-year-old grandson had told me to be present promptly at 9 a.m. for a fine activity.

"I happened to look up while counting the money and spied J. Hubert Lane (my dear friend, but not a member of Union). Thought I — "the Men's League must be having something and Hubert is an outside guest.

"But a strange silence made me look around, and a pupil came to take me by the hand and the greetings were for me! Lo, there sat all of my family, some club members, and Audrey Hill Brown, who had worked with me as assistant way back in the 30's. I was indeed flabbergasted. They sat me on the stage and a wonderfully planned and executed "This Is Your Life" program followed. And guess what? I couldn't stop crying! Silly old me!

"The Sunday school had an a.m. reception!! They showered me with beautiful roses from the Primary Classes, plus handmade "love valentines. They gave me a beautiful bracelet engraved 'to Carrie Jackson' from the Children. The Sunday school presented to me a beautiful big Paul Revere bowl engraved with an appreciation message for service. Many folks gave me money, perfume, handkerchiefs, beautiful friendship booklets — and all the week I've been receiving tokens. Zetas gave me presents Sunday afternoon at the tea.

"How many wonderful people in this world have been kind to me. I just can't find enough words, nor do I have enough stationery for individual thanks, nor do I feel adequate, but Heaven knows I'll never minimize the appreciation I feel. I love my family, my friends, my sorors, and I try to show it in many tangible ways.

"I thought my birthdays took time out for love from my friends to me — but last Sunday was overwhelming. I'll never forget it."

Judge Joseph C. Howard will be the speaker when the Welcome Bouvier Ladies' Club holds their Eighth Annual Musical Tea and Fashion Show at the Madison Avenue Branch YWCA on March 28.

Mrs. Anne Drayton will provide the fashions.

The affair will be a benefit for the Baptist Home for the Aged.

Officers of the club for this year are:

Mesdames Ida Russell, president; Rose Kess, vice president; Emma Nelson, recording secretary; Florence Carter, financial secretary; Anna Kennard, assistant financial secretary; Ethel Jones, treasurer; Goldie Windley, courtesy chairman; Lucy Waites, business chairman; Virginia Gaskins, business co-chairman; Betty Harper, publicity chairman; and Mary Ledbetter, chaplain.

Post to mark 33rd year

Federal Post No. 19 will celebrate its 33rd anniversary with a week of activities, March 20-28.

The observation will be concluded with a service in St. Martin's Church of Christ, 405 Orchard St., at 3 p.m. on March 28. This service will be open to the public.

Com. Nathaniel A. Felton Sr., vice commander of the Post, heads the committee which is arranging the celebration. Other members of the committee are Herbert M. Ward, Lillie B. Bingerford, and Joseph C. Thompson.

Mrs. Holland hosts sorors

Mrs. Leslie Holland, antibasileus of Nu Xi Alpha Chapter of Alpha Chi Pi Omega Sorority, entertained the group at Luncheon at her home of Nelson Ave., Friday.

During the business session plans were completed for the bus trip to the Latin Casino in Cherry Hill, N. J., on March 28, where the Supremes will be playing at the time. Sorors Susie Stewart and Lena Holland are chairmen.

The chapter will next meet on April 5, at the home of Mrs. Corine Tarrant on April 5. Mrs. Gladys Burt is basileus of the chapter.
