Pap Test For Every Woman: ACS

NEW YORK (UPI) — The American Cancer Society (ACS) announced Sunday it will launch a "concerted drive" to see that every woman in the United States receives regular pap tests to virtually eliminate deaths by uterine cancer.

Dr. H. Marvin Pollard, president of the Society, and William B. Lewis, chairman of the board, set a goal of the mid 1970s for accomplishing this in their 1970 annual report. The officials said that research developments and improvements in surgical and radiation treatment for cancer would save 212,000 Americans from the disease in 1971.

But, they said, more than 100,000 Americans who could be saved by existing methods of treatment still die each year. "In part to meet that challenge, we have set a specific goal for the middle of the new decade which we have entered," they said. "We are striving to make the pap test universal among women who should be getting the test regularly, thus enabling physicians to treat women with uterine cancer in its earliest and curable stages."

Cultural group numbered in Barber of seville audience

By ADAH K. JENKINS

Numbered in the capacity audience that enjoyed the Lyric performances of the opera "The Barber of Seville" by the Baltimore Opera Company were members of the Musik and Art Trique, a cultural club.

For the past eight years, the club has subscribed to the opera series. Preceeding each opera, Miss Almira Miller, president and specialist in the music department of the public schools, conducts a presentation of the composer, the story of the opera and highlights of the music.

For "The Barber," which was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Medders librettos (text of the work) were distributed, with Miss Miller supplying the English translation of Italian. (At the Lyric it was sung in English)

• • •

There was a taped presentation of the plot and of famous arias, such as the fast moving, humorous "Al factotem" (Man of all trades) and "Somme dolce" (Sweet and docile air) brilliant and sparkling.

Then followed a film of the opera, which is one of the most popular of the opera buffa (comic), being a standard of companies over the world, although Rossini composed it in 1800.

Among the reference material exhibited by Miss Miller was a child's book of opera, loaned by Roxanne Umphrey, three-year-old daughter of members, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Humphrey. With her parents the young opera fan attended the Lyric performance, much to her delight.

The evening concluded with a supper, co-hosted by Miss Miller and her sister, Mrs. Corethea Morris.

Members of the club are: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Humphrey, Earl Diggs, Malcolm Gee, Clifton Ball, Vallen Emory; Mesdames Dorothy Clayborne and Lillian Ford and Dr. Walter Gant. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Medders.

• • •

The Musik and Art Trique had its inception 15 years ago when most of the members were teaching at School No. 140.

Eating lunch together, their interest in music grew to the extent of organizing the club, with additional members and the inclusion of art in their activities.

In addition to attendance at the complete Baltimore Opera annual series, the club has sponsored trips to the local museums and art galleries.

The Rossini opera proved to be a rare romps with the singers and the Baltimore Symphony in the pit, in top form under the compelling direction of Leo Mueller.

A show case for singers, the vocalization was excellent, as the principals negotiated the brilliant, elaborate trills and runs that are the joy of Italian opera of the Romantic period.

Two Baltimore vocalists were favorites of the highly appreciative audience — Spiro Malas, baritone, in a hilarious characterization of "Dr. Bartolo," the elderly lover who tries to marry his ward, and James Morris, basso, who brought down the house as the music master.

• • •

Imported from the Met, Jeanette Scovotti, coloratura soprano, was most engaging as "Rossina," the ward.

Sheila Nadler, contralto, (1968 winner of the Carling's Scholarship Contest in Baltimore) combined acting and singing effectively as the housekeeper.

Keeping the action at a peak, dramatically and musically, Richard Fredergaro," the barber, ably assisted by Josef Gustern, Jerold Siena in supporting roles.

The chorus, repplendent in scarlet uniforms, trained by George Woodhad, brought the opera to an exciting conclusion, with fireworks popping over the stage.

• • •

Miss Rosa Ponselle, artistic director of the Baltimore Opera Company, joined the cast and Maestro Meuller to acknowledge the tumultous applause the closing evening.

Thirty-eight business firms and foundations contribute tickets for disMuseum of Art, Wenst Waltribution, at no cost, to students in the Baltimore city and county schools. The Opera Education Comfick made the most of "Fimittee directs this project.

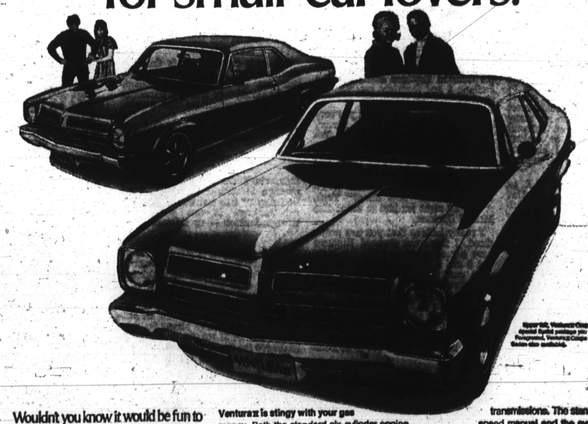
Now there's a new, small Pontiac with a small-car price for small-car lovers.



Wouldn't you know it would be fun to drive, stingy on gas, quick to service and built to last.

Of course you would. We wouldn't build a small car unless we figured it would give you more of what you want a small car for.

Take that low price. Ventura II is a small car, so it has a low, small-car price. But it's what you get for that small price that makes Ventura II worth a close look.

Ventura II is fun to drive. It should be, it's from the Wide-Track people. Which means you get a smooth, comfortable, Wide-Track ride.

The handling's quick. There's a nifty 111-inch wheelbase for easy parking. And both the 250-cu.-in. six and available 307-cu.-in. V-8 respond beautifully in city traffic or on the expressway.

Ventura II is stingy with your gas money. Both the standard six-cylinder engine and the V-8 you can order run beautifully on regular gas or the new low-lead and no-lead fuels. The carburetor on the six is an economical one-barrel, and the transmission for both six and V-8 is a practical 3-speed manual.

Ventura II is quick to service. If you're a do-it-yourselfer, you'll like fiddling around with the new Ventura II.

New twist-lock lamp sockets let you make changes in seconds.

The engine is uncomplicated, and there is plenty of engine-compartment space, especially with the six.

If you ever need to have somebody else work on your car—well, you'll like Ventura II, too. Both the standard six and available V-8 are tough, time-tested designs. Same goes for transmissions. The standard 3-speed manual and the available 2-speed automatic, Turbo-Hydra-matic or floor-mounted 3-speed are all rugged, dependable units.

Ventura II is built to last. There's nothing lightweight about this car. It's welded—not bolted—at hundreds of strategic points to help keep it tight and quiet.

The body is heavy-gauge steel. And it has double panelling in the deck lid, hood and doors. You could probably sum it up best with three little words. Body by Fisher.

So, come on. If you're a small-car lover, stop by your Pontiac dealer's today. Tell him you want to see the new Ventura II. It's the small car that gives you more of what you want a small car for.

GM

Don't forget to buckle up for safety.

Ventura II—It's Pure Pontiac!
