Cooking greens add to meals' interest

By VIRGINIA McLUCKIE
Food Economist

April showers will not dampen appetites of active families. Food shoppers will find some economy by selecting foods in liberal supply and may find it easy to add a few of the items of spring to give appeal to meals.

Crisp vegetables always make meals more interesting and colorful. The best buys are found in cooking greens, spinach, carrots, yellow onions, cabbage, green onions and radishes. Nearby spinach is being marketed and is available in bulk or film bags. One ten ounce bag is equal to one pound of bulk spinach.

Whether you select one of the other cooking greens like collards, turnip tops, cabbage sprouts or spinach, look for freshness and tender crisp young leaves for top quality. Avoid overcooking greens if you want the best color and flavor.

The California asparagus is moderate in price and average in quality. Look for stalks that are green almost all their length to avoid waste. There has been an increase in Florida sweet corn, green bean, cucumber and green pepper supply but prices are high.

Shoppers who watch for specials in canned and frozen vegetables will be able to purchase at a saving over regular prices. Frequently specials are on items that are in heavy supply or those that must be moved out of storage to make space for the pack of the coming season.

Keep in mind your own storage facilities before stocking up on items that can not be used in a reasonable length of time.

Fresh fruits that are best buys are grapefruit, bananas, strawberries and pineapple. April and May are peak pineapple supply months. For quality look for a pineapple that has a orange-rust to yellow color and one free of mold or soft spots. A fresh pineapple will have an odor typical of the fruit.

Honeydew melons from Chili and Mexico are reasonably priced and in fair supply. It is difficult to determine ripeness of a honeydew. Usually when the rind becomes pale yellow and the flesh yields gently to pressure and there is a faint typical odor the melon is ripe.

Mexican cantaloupes and watermelons are available. Canned peaches are in heavy supply and are being featured in some stores.

There continues to be plentiful supplies of beef and chicken and there are many specials in the markets. Research studies save from six to ten percent on the cost of food using specials. Since meats take such a large percentage of the food money it pays to watch for specials.

You usually get a lot for your money on cuts from the chuck and shoulder and steaks and roasts from the hindquarter when specialed. Ground beef is a convenience and an economy. Fryer chickens are low cost nourishment and so convenient and an economy. Fryer chickens are low cost nourishment and so convenient in parts, halves or whole birds to suit your family needs.

Special recipe for today is Cheese Spinach Casserole.

This casserole requires 2 cups of cooked, chopped spinach, 1 cup sieved cottage cheese, 2 whole eggs, slightly beaten, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 teaspoons grated onion, salt and pepper to taste, and one-half cut buttered bread or cracker crumbs.

Combine all the above ingredients, except the crumbs, and blend well. Arrange in a shallow buttered casserole. Sprinkle the buttered crumbs over all, and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F) for about 30 minutes. (serves 6).

Scramble yourself a meal

So you think you know all there is to know about scrambling an egg!

It may be easy to execute a simple scramble, but are you aware of the incredible number of ways you can change the face of your scrambled egg for use in breakfast, lunch, and dinner?

To prepare basic scrambled eggs for four, place 6 eggs, ½ teaspoon salt, and teaspoon white pepper in a large bowl. Beat with whisk, chop sticks, or egg beater till just blended, and add ¼ cup milk or light cream.

Then, place a 10-inch skillet over low heat. Add 2 tablespoons salad oil. Heat oil, tilting skillet so oil covers bottom and sides. Add egg mixture and cook slowly till eggs are just set. While they're cooking, lift eggs constantly from sides and bottom of pan, allowing uncooked portion to run through. If they begin to cook too fast, lift skillet from heat, stir eggs, and then return pan to burner.

And now, for the mad scramble! You can add a teaspoon of any one of these spices to your scrambled eggs: parsley, chives, tarragon, or dill. Or try ¼ teaspoon dried basil or herb blend.

You can brown half a cup of coarsely chopped walnuts in your oil before adding the egg mixture. For extra flavor and richness, substitute undiluted evaporated milk for fresh milk in the basic recipe.

A calico scramble? Why not? Just add chopped green pepper and pimento bits to eggs just before you serve them.

For scrambled puffs serve the cooked scrambled eggs in cream puff shells with a hot mushroom sauce. This is a great brunch or party idea . . . and tasty, too. And speaking of mushrooms, make a mushroom scramble by sauteeing one cup of sliced mushrooms in skillet, then adding your scrambled egg mixture. Cook until tender.

Here's one with tomato and peanuts: cook in oil for about 5 minutes) 2 tablespoons each chopped green pepper and chopped onion. Omit ½ teaspoon salt and milk in the basic recipe; instead, add an 8 ounce can of tomato sauce and ½ cup salted peanut halves.

Cook as in basic recipe, and serve over buttered toast or toasted English muffin halves.

This version is really delicious served with warm, crusty rolls: add to the basic recipe one cup grated Swiss cheese and a teaspoon of caraway seed.

The Oriental Scramble is exotic: saute chopped onions in butter, add basic recipe, and when partially cooked stir in a little soy sauce. Cook until done and serve with a generous topping of ripe olive slices or wedges.

Here's a recipe for Italian style scrambled eggs, an interesting entree which teams fried green pepper with scrambled eggs. Use three medium-size green peppers, cut lengthwise into ¼ inch strips, three tablespoons salad oil, six eggs, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon basil, and one-eighth teaspoon pepper.

low heat. Add oil. Saute Place heavy skillet over green peppers in oil for about 15 minutes, stirring occasionally, and keep heat low enough to saute but not brown the peppers.

Combine the eggs with seasonings, and beat until foamy, using rotary beater. Pour eggs over green peppers and cook very slowly, lifting mixture frequently to allow uncooked eggs to flow to the bottom of the pan. Continue cooking until eggs are just set.

Serve immediately.

Balto., Md. 21213

Dear Marilyn:
I would like the recipe for New York cheese cake. It's light and high. Could you help?
Mrs. M. Greenway, Phila., Pa.

Dear Mrs. Greenway:
This one is so high that you need a baking dish that's 9x2½!
Prepare a graham cracker shell.
Stir: 1 cup sugar into ¼ cup cream. Blend in: 2 pints creamed cottage cheese; 4 beaten egg yolks; 3 tbl. flour; 1 tsp. vanilla.
Whip until stiff 4 egg whites and ¼ tsp. salt. Fold them into the cheese mixture. Fill the shell and sprinkle additional graham crumbs over the top.
Bake the cake at 350 degrees for about 1 hour.
I hope this is the recipe you meant by "New York Cheese Cake." When your friends see how tall it stands they will say you are getting high on cheese cake!
Marilyn

Dear Marilyn:
Where can I get a good recipe for making beef stew?
Roy Meseke, Catonsville, Md.

Dear Roy:
Here goes my favorite—Chili Beef Stew: Dust 1 pound beef cubes (cut into 1-inch pieces) with 2 tablespoons seasoned flour. Brown well in 2 tablespoons hot shortening. Stir in 1 can condensed tomato soup, 1 soup-can water, 1 bay leaf, 1 to 2 teaspoons chili powder, ½ teaspoon garlic salt and a dash of thyme. Cover and cook over low heat for 1 hour, stirring occasionally. Add 3 quartered carrots, 2 quartered potatoes and ½ cup sliced green pepper. Cover and cook 1 hour longer or until beef and vegetables are tender; stir occasionally. Add one 16-ounce can small white onions and continue cooking for 5 minutes. This recipe makes 4 servings.

Try this one and I know you won't have to stew any longer.
Marilyn

Dear Marilyn:
My husband would like me to make Potato Pancakes like his mother used to make. However, I have been unable to find a recipe for them.
Do you think you can find such a recipe for me?
Helen Godfrey, Phila.

Dear Helen:
I don't know. It depends on what kind of pancakes his mother used to make!
Perhaps this will help. Grate 6 medium potatoes and 1 medium onion. Add: 2 eggs; ½ cup matzo meal, (or flour though matzo meal is better); 1 tsp. salt; tsp. pepper; pinch of baking powder. Fry in vegetable oil.
Let me know if Joe thinks these are like his mother used to make.

Dear Marilyn:
I am a bachelor with a good knowledge of basic cooking and water boiling. Is there a cookbook for my type of person?
Ronald Skobinsky, Phila.

Dear Ronald:
I don't know. That depends on what type of person you are. Seriously, I would suggest any cookbook designed for brides. Generally their knowledge extends to water boiling, also. Lots of luck. Now, isn't that some suggestion to give a bachelor?
Marilyn

Dear Marilyn:
I would like to know the best way to prepare a rib roast so that it won't dry out.
Fran, Phila.

Dear Fran:
Place roast, fat side up, resting on ribs, in shallow roasting pan. Insert meat thermometer in center of roast, not touching bone. Roast uncovered at 325 degree until thermometer registers 140 degree for rare, 160 degree for medium or (at your own risk!) 170 degree for well done. Depending on the size of you roast, this means about 20 to 30 minutes per pound.
Marilyn

Dear Marilyn:
Do you have a recipe to prepare brisket of beef that is different?
Mrs. A. Dempsey, Quakertown, Pa.

Dear Mrs. Dempsey:
Try placing 5 lbs. of brisket fat side up in roaster. Season with 2 tsp. salt and ⅛ tsp. pepper. Place 2 onions sliced. 4 whole celery stalks and 1 cup chili sauce over beef. Add ½ cup water to the bottom of the pan. Roast at 325—1 hour per pound—uncovered—basting often. When meat becomes browned, cover. After 3½ hours, pour 1 can of beer over it, recover and cook for 1½ hours longer.
Your family won't ever beef about your cooking if you prepare brisket this way.
