Museum to offer art classes

The Baltimore Museum of Art will offer studio classes for children, teenagers and adults in a six-week course from June 22 to July 29.

For the youngest group, 5 to 7, the emphasis will be on seeing and building. Concern with shape, space and color will occupy the 8-11 group.

Both of these groups will meet on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday for hour sessions and will have a choice of 9:30 a.m., 11:00 a.m., or 1:30 p.m. Tuition is $30 for members, $36 for non-members.

For the 12-16 group, instruction will center on the development of sensitivity and awareness. Classes will meet on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 10:00 to 11:30 a.m. Tuition is the same as for the younger groups.

A class of weaving and macrame, geared to young adults 12 and over, will be held on Tuesday mornings from 9:30-12:30. For members, the fee is $35, non-members $40.

A class on painting with oils and acrylic will be offered to persons 17 and over on Thursday morning from 9:30-12:30. The fee is $25, non-member $30.

Registration should be made by telelphone — 889-1735, Extension 65 — between May 24 and 28. Class fees are due by June 11, and acceptance will be on a first come, first served BASIS.
