LOCKERMAN RITES — Mrs. Irving W. Lockerman (Louise), is escorted into St. John AME Church for last Wednesday evening funeral of her husband, longtime Baltimore teacher. His sister, Mrs. Alice Lockerman Macbeth, and brother, Ralph, both of Los Angeles are at left. Arling-ton Phillips is mortician at right.

Couple met, married at AFRO, parted by death

Funeral services will be held for Mrs. Bertha Manuel tomorrow, Saturday, at the Mt. Olive Freewill Baptist Church, Saratoga and Fremont Ave.

Mrs. Manuel, 44, died of Wednesday at Johns Hopkins Hospital, after undergoing two operations for cancer.

A native of Fremont, S.C., Mrs. Manuel was a custodian at the AFRO-AMERICAN in the 50's. She was the wife of Charles Manuel, who moved to Baltimore from Snow Hill, Md.

In the August 7, 1956 issue, the AFRO carried a story which said:

"In February, cute, little Mrs. Bertha Evans was hired and Dan Cupid (Mr. Manuel who was looking for a wife) was in business.

"Although they seldom worked together, they took advantage of their days off seeing each other constantly.

"Then on a pretty Sunday in May . . . Mr. Manuel and Mrs. Evans went for a walk and wound up in Druid Hill Park"

Mr. Manuel said, "It was such a nice day. We sat on the bench and started talking. I guess I was leading the conversation. I hadn't planned to ask her, but somehow romance got into the subject and that was it."

Mrs. Manuel was a longtime member at Mt Olive. She served on the Usher Board, was past president of the Flower Circle and belonged to the Men and Women's Beneficial Association of Baltimore.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Manuel is survived by a daughter, Mary F. Manuel, 5, student at Garnett School No. 103; mother, Mrs. Flora Spencer; sisters, Mesdames Mary Toliver, Mable Whitley, Phenia Stevenson, Alene Coley, Willie Bea Pitts and May Korneagy;

Brothers, Samuel, Jr., Frank, Clarence, William, Floyd and Elley Evans; 24 nieces; 26 nephews; three aunts and an uncle.

Mrs. Manuel will lie in state at the church tonight (Friday) from 8-9 p.m. She will be buried in Western Star Cemetery.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES MANUEL

Charles Wing Sr. buried Monday

Funeral services for Charles Wing Sr., 44, 2801 Round Rd. were held Monday at St. Veronica's Catholic Church, of which he was a longtime member. Mr. Wing died May 13. He was a native Baltimorean and attended Baltimore public schools.

At the time of his death he was employed in New York by the Maritime Unions Retraining School where he taught electrical engineering.

Relatives recalled Mr. Wing took delight in making his vocation his avocation by pursuing his field of work after regular working hours by teaching interested parties what he knew about electrical engineering.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Marjory Peggy Wing; his mother, Mrs. Mable Thomas; a son, Charles Wing Jr., and a daughter, Miss Brenda Wing and one brother, Richard Bonds.

Memorial concert for Mrs. Lassiter

By ADAM K. JENKINS

Mrs. Gwendolyn B Lassiter, late music educator and founder of the Piano Teachers Activities Group, was memorialized at a recent Sunday concert program held in the chapel of Metropolitan Methodist Church.

A resume of the history of the group was given by Mrs. Florence Carter, present chairman.

Founded by Mrs. Lassiter twelve years, the organization has conducted annual programs of valuable projects. Each season there are monthly recitals by students of the members which are open to the public without charge.

Annual audition examinations for students, clinics for discussion of composers and their works, moving pictures with lectures and teacher workshops led by outstanding music educators were among the many activities initiated by Mrs. Lassiter.

John Nelson, a former pupil, gave an appreciative account of his college preparation with this indefatigable, dedicated teacher.

Program participants were: Mesdames Gladys Davis and Lantha Clark, organists; Loraine Clark, soprano; Peter Pay, Brenda Pinckney, Mack Simpson 3rd, Karen Jiggetts, David Harris, Deborah Foster, Linda Randolph, Angela Parrott, Daryl and Sherri Waters, Donna Clark, Leslie Parsons, Patricia Nixon, Janice Webb and Rosetta Waters, pianists.

Members of the Piano Teachers Activities Group which sponsored the event are: Mesdames Florence Carter, Mildred Bryant, Gladys Davis, Lantha Clark, Norma Robinson, Katrine White; Miss Bernadine Howard and your reviewer.

'NAACP must hold gains,' group told at mass meeting

"The NAACP must address itself to maintaining the gains that have been made in the area of civil rights," said Dr. Calvin W. Burnett, president, Coppin State College, in his address at the mass meeting commemorating the U.S. Supreme Court's Desegregation Decision, the past Sunday at Calvary Baptist Church.

Dr. Burnett's remarks, which included some of the major incidents in the civil rights movement, always noted the key role played by the NAACP Legal Division in these events.

His remarks were evidence of the organization's guding principle which is orderly change through legislation.

He noted that the NAACP is the oldest of all civil rights organizations, now 62 years old; and that with half million members, it has the largest membership of he civil rights organizations.

For progress to continue, Dr. Burnett stated that every person needs to know how to communicate on the level that is understood in the business world; on which he must depend for his living.

Many times the President asked that young people realize how important the NAACP continues to be in the formulation of policy regarding the black man in America, he said.

Howard Rawlings, mathematics instructor, University of Maryland, Catonsville, made a report about the Legal Defense Fund meeting which he had attended in Atlanta, Ga. where the subject was "Reorganization of Southern States Systems of High Education."

Members of the clergy in the pulpit were the Reverends Lorenzo Gravos, pastor, Calvary Baptist Church; Marion C. Bascom, pastor, Douglas Memorial Community Church, and Walter E. Paige, pastor, Faith Baptist Church.

The program included scripture reading by Mrs. Fannie Howard, co-chairman of Education Committee, NAACP; welcome by Mrs. Pauline Harris, chairman Board of Christian Education; a solo by Mrs. Clementne White. Other music was provided by the Douglass High School Mixed Choir, directed by Miss Jewell Churn.

Leonard Saunders, chairman of NAACP Education Committee, presided. Mrs. Enolia P. McMillan is president of the Baltimore Branch of the NAACP.

Vanessa's family wants more information on how she died

Investigating police officers said Thursday any further action on the case of Miss Vanessa Taliferro's death of an overdose of narcotics has been suspended.

On Thursday, STOP Squad Sgt. William Stanley said the step to halt investigation temporarily was taken after the mother of the pretty 18-year-old former Forest Park student asked for further reports from the Medical Examiner's Office on how she died.

The mother, Mrs. Alma Wallace of the 1500 block Fulton Ave., maintains that her daughter was a victim of foul play.

She told the AFRO shortly after her daughter's body was found behind the locked door of an apartment house on the 4100 block Bonner Rd. last month, "Someone killed her."

Mrs. Wallace told police that the family is offering $1,000 reward for information leading to arrest and conviction of the guilty party whom she feels is an older man.

Police investigators have questioned and released several young women Vanessa's age. The male suspects interrogated and released temporarily include a downtown businessman. No one has been charged, police state.
