Flower Mart leaders tell Freedom House the next fair will include all citizens

Freedom House Neighborhood Council unanimously voted Tuesday night to deplore publicly the rowdyism that disrupted the Flower Mart last week.

"We cannot tolerate such disgraceful conduct by anyone black or white, Dr. Lillie M. Jackson, advisor and John J. Peters chairman, stated at the regular weekly meeting held at Freedom House, 1234 Druid Hill Ave.

The Neighborhood Council further pledged to Mayor D'Alesandro the Women's Civic League and police officials their cooperation and assistance in preparing to prevent such a recurrence at the 1972 Flower Mart.

However, the Neighborhood Council leaders warned, "The Flower Mart must be more representative and more inclusive of the potent community. The disruptions are the language of alienation.

"Too many of our young people feel excluded, unloved and unwanted by the continuing entrenched patterns of racial segregation and discrimination in jobs, schools, housing and recreational facilities," the resolution continued.

Mrs. Juanita Jackson Mitchell, counsel of Freedom House, called on leadership in municipal and state government, private industry and the school system to accelerate the removal of racial restriction which continues in spite of all the civil rights laws that have been enacted by the city, state and federal governments.

Mrs. Robert Farrar, president of the Women's Civic Leagre and Mrs. Louise G. Inmes, executive director of the League, who were invited guests of the Freedom House Neighborhood Council pledged to include more black neighborhood club leaders in the planning and booth activity of the 1972 Mart.

They said they welcomed the assistance of Freedom House.

Lt. James A. Watkins of the STOP Squad, who was involved in police activity at the Flower Mart, declared that of the thousands of children who attended the event, most were in the main peaceful and orderly.

"A small minority went to create trouble and succeeded.

ceeded in spite of all the precautions that had been taken," he said.

Police representatives, Freedom House Neighborhood leaders and Women's Civic League representatives united in declaring that the Mart should be continued.

By unanimous vote on the motion of the Stockton Street Neighborhood leader, Alexander Johnson, a resolution was sent to the Baltimore City School Board (and a copy to the mayor) calling for the reinstatement of truant officers in the public schools and in schools. Truant officers crease of them in inner city were taken out some time ago.

the knife she had been threatened with.

"Mrs. Dorothy Spearman, wife of the deceased was at the scene and was taken to the hospital. She said she would claim the body."

Relatives told the AFRO that Mr. Spearman was born Nov. 23, 1922, son of Mrs. Susie J. and Samuel Spearman of Delway, N.C.

They state that he was a veteran service man and had worked on his job over 20 years. He and his wife had been married 25 years. The family is receiving friends tonight from 7 to 8 o'clock at the funeral home and is in mourning at the residence at 2950 Edmondson Ave.

less. All it does is cause trouble, and if they do have one, they should have more police placed on duty at that time."

Miss Ruth Harris, 2020 Bolton St., draftswoman: "I think something should be done to avoid this in the future (the disturbance). If the school officials would not allow the children to leave without the consent of the parents, then there would not be so many school children getting into trouble.

"Another thing, if the police would hire better drivers, then it would be safe to walk during any kind of event.

"I understand the flower mart was blamed for the injuring of the 72-year-old lady. Actually, it was the police who were driving the vehicle.

"If it was me and I hit someone, they wouldn't blame it on the time when I'm rushing to get to work. It would be my fault and no one else's."

James Davis, 2946 Carver Road, saleswoman: "I thought the mart was pretty nice except for the incident in which a 72-year-old lady was struck by a police car and the mart was said to be the blame. If they had some police already there, they wouldn't have to call none and that dear old lady would be alive now."

Thomas Wiley, 2950 Carver Road, saleswoman: "It was a drag to me. I don't think they should have a flower mart if all it does is cause trouble. Why don't they have something that everyone likes instead of mainly to please the whites."

Miss Rosalee Lindsay, 1409 Myrtle Ave., secretary: "The flower mart was sorry to me. I don't see why they were trying to blame the injuring of the lady struck by the police vehicle on the mart, when actually the accident was seven blocks away.

In my opinion I think it was the police and the police should n't have been notified to be at Charles St. at a certain time because of the disturbance in the mart last year.

"The school officials should have never permitted the students to leave school without the written consent of their parents."

Anthony Walker, 912 Bunche Road, student: "I don't think that we should have another mart, because the majority of the people who attended it did not like it, because if they did, so many of them wouldn't be locked up or on probation now."

get money for dope, for example, are so rampant that it is reasonable to say that sooner or later every citizen will be caught in the net."

That "you may be next" on the dope addict-robber's list isn't quite clear to the general public which is still blind to the fact that The Plague is here.

"And getting worse each day that passes." Police Department authorities add.

State's Attorney Allen and Narcotics Squad officials state there isn't enough money to hire sufficient law enforcement agents to fight it all.
