Young musician to tour Mexico

GARY — Patricia Williams, ninth grader at Beckman School, has been selected as a participant in the 1971 Mexican Musical Friendship Tour.

The musical group, organized five years ago, will spend three weeks in Mexico this summer. The 40-piece group will present concerts in major Mexican cities.

Members of the tour are chosen on the basis of musical ability and character.

Miss Williams won fourth seat in Gary's all-city band. Last year, as an eighth grader, she was a clarinetist on the all city orchestra. She also plays oboe, saxophone and piano.

Chi Eta Phi's host at tea

Gamma Chapter of Chi Eta Phi Sorority, Inc., a sisterhood of professional nurses culminated its nurse week activities with a Get Acquainted Tea held at the beautiful new Provident Hospital.

The primary purpose of the tea was to invite selected nurses, who have demonstrated a committment to quality in nursing education and nursing service, to join the organization.

Mrs. Mabel Hawkins, national first vice-president, gave a brief history of the organization and described some of its activities on the national level. She placed emphasis on the sorority's current project to restore the grave of Mary Mahoney, the first black graduate nurse.

Mrs. Lucy Edwards, local president, gave a profile of the members comprising the chapter located in Baltimore. Guests were informed that the sorority had members functioning as college and university educators, hospital nursing service administrators, directors of community health agencies, and at various levels within these organizations.

While partaking of the delicious assortment of hors d'oeuvres and lovely decorated petit fours, the sorors of Gamma Chapter chatted with their guests informing them of the purposes of the sorority, some of the local activities and the criteria for membership.

Another important activity sponsored by Gamma Chapter during nurse week was a specially planned program for six grade students in a local black elementary school. The program was presented in order to inform the students of high school subjects needed in order to pursue a career in professional nursing. The program, designed to encourage more black students to choose nursing as a profession, is only one of many efforts the local chapter engages in to foster the profession as a career for men and women.

The Get Acquainted Tea was planned and coordinated by Mrs. Rosetta Sands, and the school program was planned by Mrs. Cecelia Hughes.

ON DARC STAFF — Former Baltimore City policeman James R. Avery is now a member of the Delaware Agency for the Reduction of Crime.

Free band concerts scheduled

Variety is keynote at Pavilion

A wide array of talent in the classical, musical and legitimate theatre will bow this summer at the Merriweather Post Pavillion when the season at this outdoor entertainment center begins on Monday, June 7.

Topping the list of stars and attractions is Red Skelton. A master of buffoonery, he has performed in every media of the entertainment field.

The Sunday Evening Classical Subscription series is headed by Burt Bacharach, who will make his appearance at the Merriweather Post Pavilion on Friday evening, June 25 thru Sunday, June 27.

Other artists who have been contracted to appear at the Pavillion are Jose Greco and his Spanish Dancers.

Four concerts are scheduled for the National Symphony and they will be seen and heard on July 11, Aug. 1, Aug. 22, and Sept. 5.

The theatre will be represented by America's award-winning musical "1776." That engagement begins at the Pavillion on July 5.

Other attractions will be Harry Belafonte; Bill Cosby, and Ray Charles and his Orchestra; Jack Benny with Henry Mancini and his orchestra; Englebert Humperdinck and others.

All-American dress returns

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — There is something called the all-American dress. It is the dress most women hope to find when they go shopping for new clothes. It is a silhouette that's almost plain Jane.

But the big thing about it is this: It can be dressed up or down by the addition of pins, necklaces, pendants — you name it.

Jerry Silverman, in a new collection designed for fall and winter by Shannon Rodgers, two weeks ago took a gamble on the great American dress. He showed 14 versions of it in all colors of satin.

It was showed to buyers in long sleeved, sleeveless, short sleeved versions. It was shown with jewelry necklines, portrait necklines. It was shown in shirtwaist styles and ball-gown styles.

"This is the kind of dress," he told the buyer, "that you tell us the customer wants the minute she comes through the door. We're making it available."

"The American look is the dress look," Silverman said. He was ecstatic over the way things are going. If they coitinue, so, the 12-year-old firm will have its best season yet. Last year sales at wholesale were $16 million.

Silverman said the firm never has operated in the red, "I think it's because we're a dress house and women want dresses," he said. "They buy them."

The firm never plunged deeply into the midi or pants suits, fashion areas that brought some firms endorsing same to the brink of financial disaster or at least the brink of bankruptcy.

Ex-teammate sees Rowe better pro than at UCLA

By RICHARD L. SHOOK

DETROIT (UPI) — Curtis Rowe, according to his best friend and publicity man, Sidney Wicks, will be a "tough" National Basketball Association player.

"Curtis is tough," said Wicks, who accompanied his UCLA teammate to Detroit when Rowe signed a five-year contract with the Pistons for something less than $500,000. "You'll really like him."

"He's not a spectacular player but he'll get you 15 points — or more. And he'll do it every game. Every game," said Wicks, who talks more like a coach than the recently signed No. 1 pick of the Portland Trail Blazers.

"He'll get 12, 13, 14 or 15 rebounds, too. And he'll do it every game.

"When we were at UCLA, he'd always guard the other team's best forward. And I'd play the weak side. Curtis still got his 10 rebounds a game.

"He'll do better in the pros," Wicks said, "because at UCLA you played the way they wanted you to play. They'd say, 'Now, you do this — and don't do this,' but with all the running back and forth, Curtis will do better.

"Elvin Hayes would have squawked a lot if he went to UCLA. You play the game their way or you don't play," he said.

"I'm looking forward to playing in the NBA," said Rowe, who is as affable as his teammate and equally as humorous. "You just look forward to playing.

"You want to see what they can do and see what you can do. Nobody knows what you can do better than you," said the 6-foot-6 Rowe, who averaged 15.2 points plus nine rebounds while he and Wicks were pacing UCLA to an 86-4 record during their three years.

"If I play my game as I know it, then everything definitely will be all right," Rowe said. "I'll set certain goals for myself at the beginning of the season but overall my goal will be to help the team."

Rowe was accompanied by his more publicized friend so Wicks could help him drive a new car back to Los Angeles. Wicks has graduated but Rowe gets his sociology degree this month.

Rowe, at 225 pounds, is expected to provide the Pistons with the consistent forward the club has lacked since it traded Dave Debusschere to the New York Knicks.

'Leading league in June isn't October'—Weaver

To a lot of managers, leading the league at any point is cause for satisfaction, but not to Baltimore Oriole skipper Earl Weaver.

"It doesn't mean anything to be in first place in June," declared Weaver as the Birds left Chicago Thursday morning to bus to Milwaukee.

There was some cheer in the Oriole camp following Wednesday night's 3-2 twelve-inning victory over the White Sox, an achievement which, combined with a Boston loss to New York vaulted the Birds into the familiar niche of first place.

"It's okay," said Earl, "but it will mean a lot more in October."

The two-time American League champions, in second place since April 29, moved into first with the kind of victory the Orioles were noted for in 1969 and 1970.

Trailing Tom Bradley 2-0 in the ninth, the Orioles tied it on Brooks Robinson's two-run single and then beat the White Sox 3-2 in 12 innings on a wild pitch.

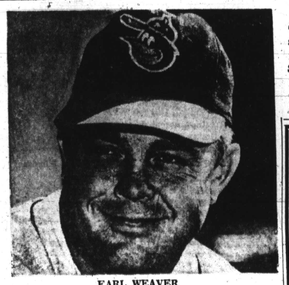
Brooks Robinson, whose single in the ninth kept the Orioles alive, said "It means something to win in a tough game like this. That kid (Bradley) pitched real well."



EARL WEAVER
late will be better

Bradley was going for his fourth shutout of the season when the Orioles loaded the bases on two hits and a walk before Brooks tied it up. Paul Blair then scored the winning run in the 12th on Terry Forster's wild pitch after he walked, was sacrificed to second and evaded Bill Melton's tag on Dave Johnson's grounder to third.

If you believe a great bourbon has to taste heavy, you believe a myth.
Because I. W. Harper doesn't taste heavy.
There's a very simple, but secret, reason in the recipe. And it gives Harper a great bourbon flavor, without the heaviness bourbons had in the old days.

Lady Carling lures local 3

Three members of the Pitch 'n Putt Club of this city, joined the field of the Lady Carling Golf Open when play began Thursday at the Pine Ridge Course.

The trio, competing in the Pri-Am portion of the annual event, were Audrey Hopkins, Frances Penn and Mary Parker. It marked the initial effort for each in the most prestigious tourney on the local calendar.

The Lady Carling annually draws most of the finest players on the LPGA circuit. Among those in the city for the event are leading money winner Sandra Palmer, and the second biggest earner, Sandra Haynie.

Also on hand for the affair are Marlene Hagge, Peggy Wilson, Kathy Whitworth, Carol Mann, Althea Gibson, Darben and Renee Powell.

The tournament is a benefit for Children's Hospital, Inc.

Olympics set for retarded

Maryland viewers will become acqianted with the Special Olympics for retarded children, in a special halfhour color program called "The Maryland Special Olympics" to be broadcast Sunday, at 5 p.m. on Channel 2.

There are thousands of mentally retarded children throughout the nation who, until now, have not had the opportunity to participate in athletic events.

Through the work of the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation in Washington, D.C., these mentally retarded children can now compete in sporting events during a series of "Special Olympics" giving them not only supervised physical exercise, but also giving them confidence and the chance to win an award.
