MUND elections set for June 26

Floyd E. Rogers, chairman of the Model Urban Neighborhood Demonstration (MUND) Neighborhood Development Corporation, announced that the MUND community will hold its third annual congress election on June 26.

The purpose of the election is to elect 20 neighborhood residents to the MUND/NDC board of directors, which now controls the MUND program.

Residents are allowed to vote for five candidates from their voting district. Any resident of the MUND area, Jones Falls to Harford Road and North Avenue to 25th St., who is 18 years or older and can obtain 100 signatures on an official position sheet, is eligible to become a candidate in the election.

Rogers also announced that the election committee had been appointed.

The members, who will supervise the community board election are: Miss Dorothy Hunt, Health Services coordinator at Sinai Hospital; Thomas Hicks, attorney; Harry Smith, MUND project manager.

Bertie Brown, MUND resident and one of the original incorporators of the Neighborhood Development Corporation; Marvin Smothers, member of the CAA commission; Clarence Blount, chairman of the CAA Commission, and Albert Williams, chairman of the Model Cities Policy Steering Board.

The committee is responsible for validating the candidates who appear on the ballot, counting the ballots and announcing the results of the election. They will also deal with any grievances which arise in course of the election procedure.

To date about 30 residents have filed to become candidates. Their names will be released June 19th, the deadline for submitting petitions.

The MUND program is changing, due to forces beyond the community's control. Even though the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) will no longer fund the demonstration program, which began in November of 1967, the incumbent board members who will be returned to office and the newly elected board members will serve with the knowledge that they are to provide ongoing leadership in the community.

OEO granted MUND funds for its fourth year of operation, but attached certain conditions to the grant. According to Harry E. Smith, MUND Project Manager, OEO indicated that the mayor should assist the MUND community in obtaining funds to maintain the community organization and to bring additional services into the MUND area.

Rogers and Smith as well as others responsible for the MUND program have met several times with the mayor and city officials over the past months.

However, Rogers indicated, OEO does not think that these meetings have resulted in sufficient commitment on the part of the city to include the MUND area in the Model Cities or CAA agencies, in any way to make the continuation of the MUND program feasible.

Unless such commitments can be obtained by the middle of June, Smith reported, OEO will begin immediate phase-out of the MUND operation.

Dr. Higgins named to commission

Dr. I. B. Higgins is among seven persons named by Governor Marvin Mandel to a commission to conduct an in-depth study of the operation of nursing homes in Maryland.

The study panel was appointed by the governor after he conferred with the Very Rev. Joseph A. Sellinger, S. J., president of Loyola College, who has agreed to serve as chairman of the commission.

* * *

The creation of an independent commission to study the state's nursing home problems was a major recommendation of a three-member task force named last year to conduct an inqury into the salmonella outbreak at a Baltimore nursing home.

The task force, which recommended that an independent panel of persons with expertise in the nursing home field be established to make a thorough examination of nursing homes across the state, was also headed by Father Sellinger.

Other members of the Commission to study Nursing Homes in Maryland are: Dr. Frank Furstenberg, Virgil A. Halbert, Mrs. Esther Lazarus, Dr. Stephen K. Padussis, Dr. Daniel Thursz.

Announcement

The Department of Labor and Industry will be closed at 12 noon today (Friday) for the issuance of work permits. It will reopen at its new headquarters at 203 E. Baltimore St., 10:30 a.m. Monday, June 28.

Presenting American Airlines Endless Summer.

There are places in this world where winter is just a word. Where any day of the year you can walk outside and cast a warm shadow.

The breeze there is a caress and rain a nice change of pace. These are the lands where summer never ends.

And now American Airlines flies to many of them.

Tropical lands like Acapulco, Samoa and Fiji. Or desert lands like Arizona and Southern California.

Tiny islands like Aruba and Curacao and the Virgins. Bigger islands like Puerto Rico and New Zealand. And bigger still island-continents like Australia.

To Haiti which is part of an island. Or Hawaii which is lots of islands.

But we'll do more than fly to these places. We'll make getting to each a little easier than it was before.

With our new, rather remarkable "Endless Summer Vacations."

These are vacations for every budget, carefully designed to give you more than you expected for the money. And you can prove it without it costing you a cent.

Just send us the coupon and we'll send you our free Endless Summer Vacations book. It's a lavishly-illustrated, full-color 116-page book full of details on each specially-planned vacation. And on the lands where you'll spend your vacation.

Our American Airlines Endless Summer Vacations book is free. Which may be the only thing that keeps it from becoming a best seller.

It's good to know you're on American Airlines.

Baltimore City Fair opens headquarters

The grand opening of Baltimore City Fair headquarters was this (Friday), at 501 N. Charles St.

The 1971 Baltimore City Fair is set for Friday, September 24 through Sunday, September 26.

This year, the fair grounds will be expanded to include Pier II as well as Charles Center.

More than 40 neighborhoods have already signed up for this year's fair, which is expected to be twice as large as last year's event. Neighborhoods interested in participating in the fair should call Fair headquarters, 752-0991, before June 30.

PRIMARY SOCIAL CLUB celebrated its 11th anniversary recently at Shiloh Community Christian church. Shown here are (l to r) Mrs. Ruby O. Pher, Mrs. Gladys White, Mrs. Lessie Hurtt, Mrs. Agnes Rice, Mrs. Mary Clark, Mrs. Lucille Ryce, Mrs. Mae Davis, Mrs. Ella Jackson and Mrs. Daisy Nelson.

NO-HIT PITCHER — James Washington of the Giants pitched no-hit, no-run game against Cardinals in winning 1-0 James Mosher Little League contest. Thus far, James has fanned 39 and walked 10 in four victories, boasts ERA of minus-one.

The world champion Baltimore Orioles, back atop the American League East standings after a desultory showing in April and May, will meet the power-hitting Boston Red Sox in TV's Game-of-the-Week Saturday.

The action is scheduled for Boston's Fenway Park.

The contest will provide the faltering Red Sox with another chance to do something about the flyaway Birds. The Orioles, who spent much of the early season behind the Bosox, are back in their familiar groove because of the booming bats of Frank Robinson and Brooks Robinson, both of whom are over .300 and hitting in the clutch again.

The Red Sox are always tough in Fenway Park, thanks to the all-fields power of Carl Yastrzemski.
