The money was given to honor the efforts of these organizations in the community.

From college football to pro wrestling ring

Jimmy Valiant, wrestling's current golden boy from Los Angeles, will meet Beautiful Bobby, another up-and-coming young matman, in support of Wednesday's feature match between Tarzen Tyler and world's heavyweight champion Pedro Morales at Civic Center.

The 28-year-old Valiant, 6-4 and 255, is a registered physical therapist and a graduate of the University of Illinois where he played football as guard and defensive end from 1962-64 and also wrestled with some distinction.

• • •

Jimmy says that he had an opportunity to join the professional football Chicago Bears upon graduation from Illinois in 1965.

"However, I decided on a wrestling career and I've never regretted it," he says.

"A college education, plus extensive travel while earning a good livelihood is about all a fellow can ask for.

"I have had several other opportunities, but intend to devote full time to wrestling at this time. It's paid off well thus far, and seems to be getting better all the time."

Newlyweds can update coverage

New and prospective brides and grooms should check their health care coverage to make sure they are adequately protected, advises Maryland Blue Cross and Blue Shield.

Coverage for newlyweds under their parents' Blue Cross and Blue Shield family contracts stops at the end of the month in which they marry. However, there is a 30-day grace period during which newly weds may enroll for husband-wife or family protection without a lapse in coverage.

According to the non-profit health care organizations, maternity benefits are available only under family memberships.

Those over 19 with individual memberships often are allowed 90 days after the wedding to convert their policies to a husband-wife or family membership to receive benefits.

Students who marry while enrolled in the special Maryland Blue Cross and Blue Shield Student Program also should change to a family policy.

If the bride or groom does not already have coverage, the organizations recommend the couple consider a basic hospitalization contract, such as that offered by Blue Cross, which will pay for most routine hospital costs, and a basic surgical or medical policy like Blue Shield which will help pay doctor's charges.

UGANDA — The Minister of Foreign Affairs Wamuhe Kigedi, and the American Ambassador to Uganda Dr. Clyde Ferguson, have signed a bilateral aid agreement, which sets out the general terms under which the United States Government will continue to give aid and technical assistance to the Government of Uganda.

Beechwood Ageing could be an "advertising gimmick."

But it isn't.

(For instance, last year bought almost 2½ millic pounds of Beechwood strips . . . enough to fi' 67 freight cars.)

FRATERNITY AWARD — Dr. J. Haywood Harrison received a special commendation award at the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity's 23rd Annual Conference in Rochester, N.Y., earlier this month, but because of illness, was not able to be in Rochester. He is a native of Baltimore.

Engineers honor Prof. Schissler

By Dr. SIDNEY KOBRE

Seldom to teachers get an expression of gratitude or recognition from their students who have graduated. Usually, the graduates move out into the world of business, industry or the professions, and, within a few years, forget even the names of the instructors who provided the educational foundations and skills for their competency and even success.

Not so at the Community College of Baltimore.

Graduates of the engineering department have recognized the training provided by Prof. Charles E. Schissler, chairman of the department.

The alumni recenly returned to the college and paid tribute to Prof. Schissler for his genuine interest in them, over the past 20 years.

Alumni of the department from as far back as 1921 gathered at the Liberty Campus gave their instructor oral commendation, and presented him with a plaque, which reads: "Presented to Charles E. Schissler in recognition of his outstanding dedication to the Construction Technology Program and the guidance and friendship shown his students."

Since it was established, 119 students have graduated from the construction engineering program, finding employment as construction foremen, superintendents, estimators, surveyors and building inspectors. Some of the graduates have gone into the construction business for themselves.
