Harris-Day exchanged nuptial vows recently

By ELOISE RICHARDSON

The modern painted daisy motif enhanced by palms was carried out in the decorations of the Trinity Baptist Church altar recently when Miss Gloria Jean Day of Arnold, Md. and Whit Anthony Harris II of Baltimore took their wedding vows.

The daisies had been flown in from California and had been tinted in varied pastel colors.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Carl Washington, minister of the church, and the rites were culminated in prayer when the couple kneeled on a white satin pillow.

Nuptial music was sung by George Milburn, tenor, and James Williams was organist.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodell Day, was given in marriage by her father.

The bride, granddaughter of an empire gown of white silk organza and Chantilly lace with a Sabrina neckline and mutton sleeves.

Trimmed with seeded pearls and irridescent sequins, an added attraction was the attached full chapel train.

Her bouffant shoulder-length veil of illusion was gathered to a pill box bandeau with grape clustered pearls and irridescent sequins.

The bride wore a single strand of pearls and carried a cascade of white daisies and a white Bible.

Miss Rosalind Day, sister of the bride and maid of honor, was attired in pastel pink.

Mrs. Angela McCrocy, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Georgia Lyles, both of Baltimore, bridesmaids, were attired in sweetheart red and new blue.

Their ankle-length gowns of silk satin, gathered at the waistline with matching velvet sashes, were accented by low square necklines and long sleeves gathered at the wrist.

They carried cascades of daisies tinted in the colors of blue, red and green.

Miss Sherise Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jones of Baltimore, was the flower girl. Her long dress of pastel green silk satin and headpiece were designed to match the outfits of the attendants.

The ring bearer, Michael McCrocy, wore a white suit, tuxedo style.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Whit Harris Sr. of Severna Park, Md., had as his best man, Bertram Bailey of Baltimore.

Ushers were Messrs. Harold Lyles of Baltimore and Blanton Scott of Washington, D.C. The party was dressed in mod style.

The bridegroom was attired in a white and silver cape over a white suit with all silver accessories. The best man and ushers wore red, blue and yellow cape ensembles.

Mrs. Mattie Harris, mother of the bridegroom, prominent in business circles in Baltimore and Anne Arundel County, chose a sky blue crepe back satin dress fashioned along empire lines with a mid-length skirt and bouble flare sleeves.

It was accented by imported matching blue and silver trimming.

Her hat, designed in a Flying Nun style of sky blue crepe black satin, was trimmed in tulle and flowers. She wore blue sapphire earrings and a corsage of tinted pink daisies.

The bride's mother wore a pink crepe black satin dress made along the princess line. Her hat was made of matching tulle and flowers. Her corsage was made up of tinted blue daisies.

An informal garden reception was held in the grove of the bridegroom's parents.

The wedding cake was made up in four tiers, centered at the top with a miniature bride and bridegroom, trimmed in yellow and white rosebuds and silver leaves.

Those who assisted at the reception were: Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hill, Mesdames Elmer Bailey, Henry McGee, Eugene Jones and Miss Barbara Allen, all of Baltimore; Mrs. Carrie Miles of Washington, D.C. and Mrs. Mary Scott of Paterson, N.J.

Coordinator for the wedding was Mrs. Justine Blackston of Philadelphia.

of Sam Galloway of Arnold, Md., who was, for many years, prominent in public school affairs of Anne Arundel County, is a graduate of Severna Park High School. She will enter Anne Arundel Community College this fall.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Edmondson High School in Baltimore, attended Anne Arundel Community College and is a graduate of Lincoln Technical Institute.

After June 27 the couple will be at home to friends at 267 Laurel Road, Severna Park.

Among the guest were: Mr. and Mrs. William Bell, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Hill, Miss Mary Quin, Miss Alice Dandin and sister, Mrs. Robbie Lloyd, the Rev. Mrs. Carl Washington, Mrs. Johnny Mae Branch, Miss Frida and Jimmy Sanders, Miss Leslie Carron Dorsey, Mr. James Flippen, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith, Mrs. Ola Mae Johnson, Mrs. Rosemary Willson, Mrs. Rosmay Addison, Mrs. Laura William, Mrs. Vivian Wiggins, Mr. Alvin Wiggins I, Mr. Alvin Wiggins II, Miss Marcia Dersey, Mrs. Annie Dorsey, Miss Maddie Tomlin, Mr. Steven Milburn, Mr. and Mrs. Antic Cooney, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thrower, Mrs. Annie Burgess.

Also, Mrs. Georgie Jackson, Rusty and Mary Bristow, the Rev. Mrs. Willie Williamson, Mrs. Menny Davis, Mrs. Jessie Baden, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Legett, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wilson, Mrs. Eloise Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. William Night and daughter, Miss Jeanette Night, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jones and daughter, Mr. Norris Jones, Mr. Gargade Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Kernell Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Algune Bailey.

Mrs. Elenora Hill, Miss Helen Paterson, Mr. and Mrs. Arria Davis and daughter, the Rev. Mrs. Powell Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Quinton Orem, Mr. William Hayes Cock, Mrs. Mary Specks, Miss Carolyn Booker.

And, Miss Lydia Wagner, Miss Pat Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. John Dardin, Mrs. Isabell Moody, Mr. and Mrs. James Fitts, Maro S. Carrington, Mrs. Maddie Harrison, Jerry and Shirley Benage, Mr. and Mrs. Peggie Blackwell, Mrs. McCrimmon, Mrs. Annie Burgess, Serena Haynesworth, Augusta Shaw.

Students working in mental hospitals

On July 6, 19 high school seniors from the metropolitan Baltimore area will begin work in local mental hospitals as participants in a summer careers program sponsored by the Mental Health Association of Metropolitan Baltimore.

The Elaine Michelson Mental Health Careers program, named in honor of the Association's first director, is now in its tenth year of operation. It was developed to encourage students who are considering careers in the mental health field, and to give them an opportunity to learn about the field through working in it.

Students will be assigned to Henryton, Rosewood, Spring Grove and Sheppard-Pratt hospitals. Under supervision, they will serve as aides in recreation, music, arts and crafts and as assistants to ward personnel.

In many cases, the young people will live on the hospital grounds during the seven-week period. The program ends on August 20. Each participant who completes it successfully will be awarded a scholarship for $175.

Participants, their schools and their assignments are as follows:

Henryton State Hospital: Karen Fox, Randallstown; Patricia Maier, Milford and Priscilla Monty, Sparrows Point.

Rosewood State Hospital: Janet R. Crosland and Valerie R. Freeman, Eastern; Patricia Chase, Northwestern; Amy S. Berman, Park School; Barbara A. Dietz, Patapsco and Joan B. Gillece, Notre Dame.

Sheppard-Pratt Hospital: Cindy L. Krause and Mercie L. Sweren, Park School; Sherryl L. Meier, Milford Mill; Jane M. Sachs, Pikesville and Mary M. Berkey, Notre Dame.

Spring Grove State Hospital: Ruth L. Good and Margie H. Newman, Park School; Carol M. Hanlon, Franklin; Melanie L. English, Milford Mill and Precious F. Taylor, Northern.

Nothing is drudgery to one who is interested and happy in the work at hand.

The millennium will approach when principles outweigh profits and politics.

Polaroid funds to aid S. Africa

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa — The Polaroid Corp. has given $100,000 to the Association for Educational and Cultural Advancement of African People of South Africa to establish an African education trust fund, say senior officials of the association.

Polaroid has a branch in South Africa.

National Secretary L. B. Mehlomakulu, said Polaroid's gesture was a positive step by one of America's top corporations to improve the lot of the African people.

The money is needed to extend schools, to eliminate double sessions, to pay private teachers and help promising but destitute pupils, he said.

My dad owns a piece of the Rock

It means money.

Daddy says if anything happens to him, Mommy will still have money from our Prudential life insurance, for clothes, and food, and we won't have to move in with grandma. And my brother and I will be able to go to college because we own a piece of the Rock.

Mommy says I shouldn't worry about anything happening to Dad, because our piece of the Rock is going to help take care of them in their old age.

Dad says our Rock is Prudential, but it sure sounds like gold to me.

Johnson III, Mark Graves, Miss Sherry Graves, Tyrone Graves, John Murray, Everett Murray, Gary Murray, John Murray Jr.

Recent visitors to the "monumental city" were Dr. and Mrs. Mitilesh Mehra of Lucknow, India.

Dr. Mehra, an opthamologist, is on the staff of he King George Medical College in Lucknow.

Mrs. Mehra (Prabha), a physician too, who specializes in obstetrics is also a member of the college staff.

While here, they were guests at the Egerton Road home of Grace Bennett.

Both of the doctors visited Hopkins Hospital where Dr. Mitlesh Mehra lectured.

Happy Birthday to one-year-old Shawan Therese White.

Shawan was given her first birthday party last month by her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. John R. White (Sevalyn) at the home of her great-grandfather, Thomas Sterrett, 1200 block of W. Lanvale St.

The rooms were decorated with balloons and multi-colored paper by Miss Wanda Robertson.

Shawan's birthday cake carried out the "Raggedy Ann" motif.

There to celebrate with Shawan were: Gregory Sterrette, Corey Brown, Michelle Sterrete, Kimberly McLeod, Velicia McLeod, Elaine Hall, and Denise Davis.

The Beausant Circle gave a reception honoring Lady Regent Eva Ayre at the Elegante Room last month.

Mrs. Ayre was paid tribute by the Prince Hall Masons, her employers, Mr. and Mrs. Gunis, her minister, Rev. Dyson, and her son, Thomas J. Ross, assistant manager of WBAL.

Mr. Ross recited two poems that described his mother's unselfish devotion to her family.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Tripp, chairman and her committee were responsible for the peach and green decorations, and all the other delights of the day.

Mrs. Ayre received numerous gifts from her many relatives, friends, and members of the Beausant Circle.

Mrs. Pell (June W.) Kangas, has just been elected a member of the executive committee of the American Ethical with headquarters in NYC. She has been re-elected, also, a member of the board of directors of the Baltimore Ethical Society.

Baltimoreans, Mrs. Kangas and her husband were two of the original charter members of the BES which was begun in 1950.

This spring the Society celebrated its 21st year of continuous operation.

Happy Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gilliam of Winston Ave. are celebrating their 35th wedding anniversary July 4th at the home of realtives in Boston.

Usually, the couple gives a barbecue and invite friends to their home to celebrate, but this year, they decided to do something different.

Mrs. Gilliam is the former Miss Inez Partee of Salisbury, N.C. She is a member of the Gillis Memorial Community Church. The Rev. Theodore C. Jackson Jr. is her pastor.

Miss Michelle Shannon, 22, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis (Marie) Shannon of 2010 Cliftwood Ave. was graduated from Morgan State College recently.

Miss Shannon, a 1966 grad of Eastern High, is enrolled in the executive training programs at Sears in Cornswells Heights, Pa.

Her brother, Gregory, was also graduated from Morgan this year.

The Northwest Club met at the home of Mrs. Vyna Skinner recently. Mrs. Skinner has a beautiful garden at her Wheeler Ave. home.

She entertained along with her co-hostess, Mrs. Clarice Parrish, the mothers and grandmothers who originally started out as a mother's club.

It was a beautiful day for everyone. The decorations were lovely, the women were stylish and the food was delicious.

Present were: Mesdames Lucille Cephas, Fionella Clark, Cleo Diggs, Vera Slint, Jimmy LaForest, Anita Myers, Clarice Parrish, Alice Payne, Gloria Phillips, Elsie Scott, Margarie Sheffey, Mary Sprow and Ruth Ruperta Waters.

Mrs. Anethia Williams was unable to be with her club members because of the illness of her husband.

Congratulations to Miss Candice Scott and Kenneth Phillips.

Miss Scott is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Scott. She graduated from Otterbein College in Ohio and has received a fellowship to do further study at the University of Massachusetts.

Candice's mother is a member of the Northwest Club. Kenneth Phillips, whose mother is also a member of Northwest Club, graduated from North Carolina State College in June.

MRS. BRENDA THOMPSON HENDERSON—Former AFRO Magazine Editor, was recently in town for Dunbar High School class of 1961 reunion. Mrs. Henderson, wife of Robert W. Henderson of Louisville, Kentucky, is a graduate of Morgan State College and Columbia University.

Model Cities Council "A" has announced that beginning July 7 at 7:30 p.m., Model Cities will begin a series of seminars to explain what each Model Cities Project has to offer the residents in the Model Neighborhood.

The Council "A" will be bringing in the directors of the programs, so that residents will be able to question them about the kinds of services they will be providing.

If Model Cities has a program you are interested in participating in, call 752-7078 and the director will be scheduled for a public discussion during the seminars for your benefit.

All of these seminars will be at 7:30 P.M. Monday through Fridays in Council "A"'s auditorium at 1045 N. Hillen St.

The first speaker will be Mark Friedman, director, Model Cities Housing Corporation, Wednesday, July 7, at 7:30 P.M.

Thomas Hundley, Coordinator, Model Cities Sanitation Program will speak on Thursday, July 8, at 7:30 p.m.

The public is invited. Won't you come?

Area A's Block Day Care Center for children 1 through 15 years of age will be opening in the 1100 block of Forrest St. around July 18.

If you're employed or in a training program you can register your child now at 1045 N. Hillen Street.

The centers are free. You must have four children or more to be eligible.

CONSUMER PROTECTION: A branch office of the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's office is now open in East Baltimore at the Pratt Library, Broadway and Orleans St. branch.

An investigator will be there from Monday through Thursday between 12:00 and 5:00 or by appointment to answer questions or discuss problems concerning home solicitation sales, installment contracts, defective merchandise, guarantees not lived up to by the seller and any other consumer related problems.

The Model Cities Community Learning Center is sponsoring a Summer School for the kids in the Model Neighborhood Area and it will include a variety of interesting activities.

These classes will be held Monday through Friday (9:00 1:00 P.M.) at School No. 46, Preston and Eden Sts. They are open to children between the ages of 9 to 12.

Council A will provide transportation from the Council to the school if we have enough participants.

Some of the courses being offered are: reading, mathematics, arts and crafts, theatre and drama, biology, foreign language and creative writing.

A number of residents from Perkins Homes are excited about their visit to the Social Security Administration building on June 25. Mrs. Lauretta Driggers, Mrs. Margaret Shuman, Mrs. Emma Howell, Mrs. Julia Jones, Mrs. Maggie Armstrong and Mrs. Flora Walters all attended the conference on Aged, sponsored by Project S.A.GA.

These ladies feel it was a great experience for them. The program consisted of a conference, weaving exhibit and lunch. Some of these ladies were fortunate to sell some of their woven hand bags.

They came back to Perkins with money and full of delicious foods.

The Health, Education and Welfare wants to know the effectiveness and the impact of the Medicad program on the health status of the poor. These two counselors represented the people living in public housing.

YWCA grooming course taught by fashion model

MISS MICHELLE SHANNON

A thorough, well organized grooming and deportment course aimed at giving girls the tools needed for the real world will be offered by the YWCA in the summer program at Govans Presbyterian Church, 5824 York Rd.

Taught by Miss Diana Kane, model, and Miss Suzette Stansell, artist, from July 6 to July 22 on Tuesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m., the course is designed for girls age 12 and older.

As a result of the program's thrust, girls should be able to know themselves as important individuals through good grooming and to be aware of the kind of personality they project; execute socially acceptable manners for their peer groups, opposite sex and adults; know that one essential to success is a physically fit body and be able to demonstrate numerous exercises which lead to physical fitness.

They will also realize their role in family planning and how their decisions determine the direction of their life and know the combined factors needed for obtaining and maintaining a career.

The course will use resource persons, film strips, tape recorders, breakfast meetings and "shop-ins" as istructional methods. One of the instructors, Miss Kane, is a former high fashion model who attended the Powers School of Modeling in New York, and is owner of the Diana Kane Modeling School, Baltimore.

No fee is being charged for the summer course; however, a $2 YWCA membership is required. For information call the North Area YWCA, 323-6911.
