Clean Block prize fund needs a boost from you

The AFRO Clean Block Fund is calling on all interested citizens, businessmen, politicians, and AFRO Clean Block workers to strengthen our prize fund.

The Prize Fund is used to honor all clean blockers at the end of the campaign, with token awards for their participation throughout the campaign.

The summer is young yet; time is fleeting when we look at our tiny prize fund.

We need as much financial support from our concerned citizens as is possible.

Please send all checks and money orders to the AFRO Clean Block Charities Fund, 628 N. Eutaw St., 21202.

All contributions are tax deductible and will be acknowledged in the Tuesday and Friday editions of the AFRO-AMERICAN Newspapers.

Juvenile Court has new system

Judge Robert L. H. Hammerman has instituted a new policy of appointment of lawyers to defend indigent juveniles in Juvenile Court.

The old system was to make appointment from a list of lawyers who have indicated a desire to have such cases.

The new system requires that the list include all attorneys in Baltimore.

Appointments will be made on rotating basis proceeding alphabetically and Judge Hammerman says he will stick to the rotation and only appoint specific lawyers if the case warrants it.

FASHIONABLE FOOTWEAR — As in hemlines and hot pants, this is the year of the individual's taste in footwear, too, says the American Footwear Institute, NYC., with boots of all types more plentiful than ever before: strapped, harnessed, and wrapped around to the knees. But just about the "most" in boots comes from designer David Evins (L) panel, who is featuring boots in supple suede with gold studded cuffs at the tops, as shown here. The gimmick, remove the cuffs if you like, hitch them together and then you've got a swinging belt. Making it big on the shoe scene this year are ghillies, with platform or regular soles. Two examples here (R) panel: done in supple suede, are strapped at the ankle and laced up to the knees. The ties/laces are elasticized so they will stay put and stay comfortable. (UPI Telephoto)

Childrens' theater, tennis, nature study for summer

The environment and ecology will be a ... the city Bureau of Recreation nature program this summer. There will be 34 centers and playgrounds having weekly programs with a special leader using some form of nature as a theme.

Young children will have fun playing games and doing craft projects around things in nature.

Flower gardens at other centers cared for by the children will add color and interest to this varied program, and keeping Baltimore beautiful will be stressed by those small gardens. At most centers the young people will also become more conscious of their important role by helping to keep the building and grounds clear of paper and trash.

Visits of the Nature Wagon to 59 centers and playgrounds throughout the city will be an added attraction scheduled by Miss Elizabeth Clarke, Supervisor of Gardens and Nature Activities of the city Bureau of Recreation.

By the way...

by Joe Black

Quite often, people develop their personal pride and character based upon quotations they hear or read. To encourage and inspire the young students of Hubbard Jr. High, where I taught, I presented to the school a copy of a prayer that had been given to me by my friend, Baseball Hall of Fame member Roy Campanella. I'd like to share this moving prayer, by an unknown author, with you.

A GAME GUY'S PRAYER

Help me to be a little sport in this game of life. I don't ask for any place in the line-up; play me where You need me. I only ask for the stuff to give You one hundred per cent of what I've got. If all the hard drives come my way, I thank You for the compliment. Help me to remember that You won't let anything come that You and I together can't handle. And help me to take the bad breaks as part of the game. Help make me thankful for them.

And God, help me to always play on the square, no matter what the other players do.

Help me to come clean. Help me to see that often the best part of the game is helping other guys. Help me to be a "regular fellow" with the other players.

Finally, God, if fate seems to upper cut me with both hands and I'm laid on the shelf in sickness or old age, help me to take that as a part of the game also. Help me not to whimper or squeal that the game was a frame-up or that I had a raw deal. When in the dusk I get the final bell, I ask for no lying complimentary stones. I'd only like to know that You feel I've been a good guy.

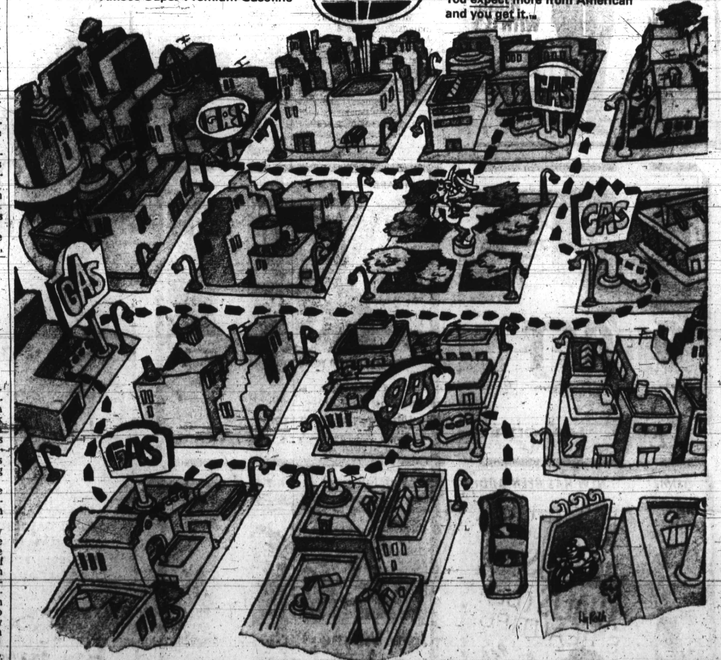
Warning offered to grads

State school superintendent James A. Sensenbaugh cautioned high school graduates last week against going into business with questionable organizations which, for a price, promise to publish the student's picture in an "outstanding student" book.

Some organizations, he added, also offer new graduates special consideration in terms of scholarships.

The sales pitch usually comes in a letter to the graduate signed by the "scholarship chairman" of the company, Sensenbaugh said, and plays on the student's pride in his academic accomplishment and on the value of belonging to this or that honor society as a "priceless asset" in the future.

But there is no payoff, Sensenbaugh said, no publication and no scholarship. "Investigate before you invest," is Sensenbaugh's advice to June graduates.


Look all over Baltimore. If you can find another premium lead-free gasoline, we'll buy you a tankful.
AMOCO Super-Premium is the only premium gasoline you can buy that's made without lead. The only one that helps put pollution down and keep premium power up. Tell you what. If you can find another, get a tankful and bring the receipt to any American Oil Dealer. And we'll buy it for you. Fair enough? And for the new 1971 anti-pollution cars, there's new Lead-Free AMOCO. Only AMOCO has two lead-free grades—one for all cars, new or old.
