WORKING FOR BALTIMORE, trying to make it beautiful and clean are hundreds of AFRO Clean Blockers like the three sincere youngsters above, Jimmy Smith, Leroy Smith and Trenie Brice of the 1600 block Durham St. All Clean Blockers look forward to Summer's end when they will receive prizes and tokens. You can help reward them. Send your contributions as "Thank You for a Clean, Beautiful Baltimore."

AFRO Clean Blockers at work from dawn's early light

AFRO Clean Block youngsters are serious about the condition of Baltimore City.

They want to make and maintain a healthy and clean environment.

Each morning before the sun gets too hot and each evening after the sun goes down, they are busy with their brooms and hoses sweeping away debris that has accumulated during the day.

Throughout the summer, these civic-minded children get no monitary reward for their hard work and devotion to cleaning up.

For this reason, the AFRO Clean Block Campaign must appeal to all of its concerned citizens for donations to a most worthy cause.

A small cash token of appreciation can mean so much to a person when he has shown his interest in his community and city's welfare.

The staff of the AFRO Clean Block Campaign is appealing to you to send checks or money orders, in the amount you wish, to the AFRO Charities Fund, 628 N. Eutaw St.

All contributions are acknowledged in the Tuesday and Friday editions of the AFRO.

Remember, these children need to know that you care. They care about you. Show your thanks by giving! May we count on you?

What better way to wind up a hard day of cleaning up your block than by going to an Oriole Baseball Game?

Thanks to Coach Earl Banks of Morgan State College, the AFRO Clean Blockers have been able to watch the Birds in action at Memorial Stadium, free of charge.

What excitement and what fun to watch their sparkling eyes light up when their favorite Oriole players enter the field and take their positions.

In between the action on the field, the hot dogs, caramel pop corn and cokes, the children never experienced a dull moment.

Throughout the summer, Clean Blockers will be invited to Memorial Stadium to cheer the Birds on to victory. Three cheers for the Orioles and three cheers for the Clean Blockers for their work and determination to Keep Baltimore Clean.

teration," he said.

Mr. Harris added, "The 70 supplemental registration places opened by the Supervisors of Elections are not enough. If a proper job is to be done.

"Additional decentralized registration areas with volunteer registrars are needed urgently. If registration of all unregistered population is to be successful," he stated.

Mr. Harris was referring to the proposal submitted by the Citizens Committee for Voter Education which asked the Elections Board to deputize volunteers so that 30 centers of the CAA and 30 churches could be open daily for the remaining 30 days until the books close August 16.

The Citizen's Committee urges all unregistered youth and adults to contact Mr. Harris and the nearest CAA centers for information and transportation to the nearest supplemental registration places listed below.

In addition, prospective voters may register from 9 a.m. daily, except Thursday, Thursday 9-7 at the Supervisor of Elections, People's Court Building, Fayette and Gay Sts.

YWCA sets teen trips to Shore

An overnight trip to Atlantic City on July 29 and 30 is planned for teenage boys and girls by the Madison Avenue YWCA Center. Scheduled for the last two days of a teen week, the trip is open to all teen agers, whether or not they are members of the YWCA.

Buses will leave 1912 Madison Ave. at 8 p.m., Thursday, July 29, and arrive in Atlantic City about 10:30 a.m.

The group will check in at the Jefferson Hotel upon arrival.

Walking tours of Atlantic City will be conducted Thursday morning by the three chaperones, Miss Virginia Williams, Mrs. Gertrud Finney, and Miss Deborah Butler. Lunch will be followed by swimming.

After supper the group will go dancing on the Steel Pier or walk the boardwalk with companions and get together for small parties at the hotel. Friday morning the group will shop or swim with chaperones.

Buses will leave Atlantic City at 4 p.m. and arrive at 1912 Madison Ave. about 6:30 p.m., July 30.

Cost of the trip is $19.50 and includes bus fare and hotel rooms.

Meals and dancing on the Pier are extra. Reservations must be received at the YWCA, 1912 Madison Ave., by July 15. For information, phone 669-1881.

The trip is planned as part of a teen week program, July 26 to July 30 focused on Afro-American culture, especially poetry and drama.

Workshops will run for three days, from July 26 to July 28.

On the third day, July 28 a talent show drawn from the week's experiences will be held. Consisting of rock music, dancing, and poetry skits, the show will exemplify Afro-American contributions to art. Cost of participation in a workshop

What's Happening On Primary Election Front

HALE AND HEARTY—AFRO cameraman took this picture of James Lacy, candidate for the president of the City Council and George L. Russell, candidate for Mayor as the two made a walking tour in the 1400 Block N. Caroline St., East Baltimore, yesterday morning, Thursday, spiking all rumors that Mr. Russell was ill. (AFRO Staff Photos by Frank W. Phillips 3rd)

Reports of Russell in hospital prove unfounded

Widespread reports of City Solicitor George L. Russell's confinement to the hospital proved unfounded on Thursday.

This announcement had been made at the Community Action Voter Education meeting on Tuesday when Mr. Russell failed to show up to answer questions.

However, Mrs. Marian Russell, his wife, stated at press time "Judge Russell did not go to the hospital, but he is under the doctor's care because of exhaustion."

The mayoralty candidate's physician, Dr. Ultman Ray Jr., told the AFRO: "The stresses and related factors of Judge Russell's general health make it imperative that he get a short interval of rest.

"Along with the strain of normal duties as city solicitor his home duties as husband and father, the demands of the campaign in addition, have caused Judge Russell to cover-extend and expose himself unwisely. He just needs rest."

Nevertheless, Judge Russell was at his desk at press time, and yesterday (Thursday), the AFRO photographed him campaigning in East Baltimore with James J. Lacy, his running mate for President of the City Council.

SECOND TIME AROUND

Filing mix-up irks 5th District candidate

Ann rate candidate, Mrs. Maggie B. Davis, Stormed into the AFRO office, Wednesday, charging that her name was not included in the listing of candidates for the 5th District councilmanic race.

Mrs. Davis showed a receipt No. 169534, dated June 9, 1971, from the elections board, signed by F. J. McQuade, the purpose stating "City Council 5th."

At this reporting, she is not sure where her name will be on the ballot, since the elections board claims the district for which Mrs. Davs was filing was not on her notarized applicaton.

This not the first time Mrs. Davs has had problems with the board.

She reports that on Sept. 15, 1970, when she ran for the House of Delegates in the 5th, she was listed on some ballots running for both the House of Delegates and the State Central Committee, for which she had not filed, and her name was deleted on other ballots.

Mrs. Davis charges there is a conspiracy against her.

The elections board could have sent her a card inquiring about the district n which she would run.

Although she has been assured that her name will be on the ballot, she has no idea in what district it will be listed.

"I'm not going to be intimidated. I'm going to run as hard as I can. I intend to keep the 5th District clean and keep the political bosses out with the help of the people. I will fight to the end for what I think is right" Mrs. Davis declared.

MRS. MAGGIE B. DAVIS

Mr. McQuade, chief clerk of the elections board, told the AFRO, "I was unaware of her previous problems last year, since I was not here, but I assure you Mrs. Davis will be listed on the ballot as 5th District candidate pealed on September 14, Primary Election."

Nevertheless, Mrs. Davis wondered, "With this bad beginning will the same election day mix-ups be repeated on September 14, 1971?"

Schaefer against busing; Mitchell would have city take over numbers

The Neighborhood Planning Committee, a community corporation, headed by Mrs. Bernice Douglas, held its first Voter Education Program Tuesday, July 6 at the Community Action Center, 1517 N. Gay Street.

The only one of the black candidates for mayor present was State Sen. Clarence Mitchell, III. (D-4th)

City Solicitor George L. Russell was reportedly in the hospital, having suffered an attack of exhaustion.

William Donald Schaefer City Council president also is candidate, arrived early and was the first speaker.

When questioned as to his attitude on school busing, Mr. Schaefer stated: "There is no need for busing in my neighborhood, since our residents are happy with quality of the schools, though predominantly black."

As to the need for busing to achieve integration and quality education, he replied: "We don't have racial balance anyway in the schools with over fifty percent of the school population black."

When pressed for a yes or no, Mr. Schaefer replied: "You my friend, are trying to make me answer the way you want the questions answered."

Finally, Mr. Schaefer said, "No, I don't believe in busing to achieve racial balance. I do not believe that in any section of the city there are poor teachers."

Sen. Mitchell in his statement gave an historical background of his activism during and high school days in the areas of civil rights, voter registration and opening job opportunities in the Gas and Electric Co. and the C and P Telephone Co.

He said, "I believe as mayor Baltimore city residency should be required of all city workers and policemen, so that city tax money will remain in the city. Policemen will be more responsive to the needs of the community, if they live where they work.

"I believe in decentralized city halls where the mayor does business in the community, as well as decentralized school administration which care about people."

In discussing the split in the black community with apparently two strong black candidates for mayor, Sen. Mitchell said, "You've heard it said with two black candidates, nobody can win, don't you believe it! Look at Gary. Look at Newark. The winners were the people's candidates. So am I."

"The economic woes of the city can be helped by legalizing the numbers racket," said Sen. Mitchell. "I also want city ownership of off-street parking."

Sen. Mitchell's final remarks: "The man who pays the piper dances to his tune—the little people support my campaign."

In response to questions about his being a slumlord, Mitchell states, "You don't be a slumlord when nobody lives in the property. I have tried to keep the property in good repair, investing $7,000 of my own money, yet I am plagued by vandalism."

Other candidates who spoke were, Eugene Blum, Zorian Lee Armstrong and the Rev. Mr. R. Jerome Scruggs, 2nd District councilmanic candidates, from the New Era and Mount Royal Democratic Clubs, and Clarence "Du" Burns a member of the East Baltimore Democratic Organization.

Among other statements: Mr. Burns stated "I don't have to make promises about what I am going to do, just look around at what I have done for East Baltimore without any help from 'outsiders.' "

Punch and cookies were served to the audience and candidates by the members of the organization.

Mrs. Bettye Brinkley is center adviser. Mrs. Josephine Smith presided.

JULY 11

Memorial services will be held for Louis Armstrong at Emmanuel Presbyterian Church, Sunday, July 11, at 11 A.M., at 7017 Queen Anne Road, Villanova. The public is invited.

Murphy and St. Thomas set Council race from 6th D.

Arthur W. Murphy, 21, of Round Road, Cherry Hill, and LeRoy St. Thomas, 41, of N. Bentalou St., filed late Tuesday night, and formed a team as Democratic candidates for City Council in the 6th District.

Mr. Murphy was born and reared in Cherry Hill. He is an alumnus of Dickinson College, where he was chairman of the Afro-American Student Recruitment Program of Central Pennsylvania.

This organization was responsible for the admission of over 200 black students to Pa. colleges who may have never had the opportunity to attend college.

Murphy is single.

He was-interim managing editor of the N.J. AFRO, co-author and researcher for the Citizens Committee for Voter Education proposal to the Board of Supervisors of Elections.

He is founder of a research firm, Research Associates, specializing in political research.

In political life, he has been active for seven years in voter registration drives, precinct work, in the campaigns of his mother, Madeline W. Murphy, his father's first bid for Judge of the Orphan's Court.

In addition, he worked in the campaigns of Judge Joseph C. Howard and Allen Murphy, Chester, where he designed, distributed literature and managed his father's successful campaign.

Mr. St. Thomas was born in East Orange, N.J., is 41, and a Morgan alumnus.

He was a track and football star and-former record holder of the 80 yd. high hurdles.

He is the owner of Saint's Tavern, 300 block S. Bentalou St., the first black-owned tavern in a mixed residential neighborhood.

"After the first month of touch and go, the natives quieted down and we get along quite well," St. Thomas recalled.

He is married to the former Ruth Baker, a school principal. They have two children.

He is a card member of Operation Champ, a member of the NAACP, the Urban League and Firemen's Benevolent Association.

When elected the Murphy/St. Thomas team say: "We'd like to organize neighborhoods into local improvement associations to foster more meaningful contact between the man in the street and his elected representative."

"We are intent upon unseating the backward troica of Hines Leone and Myers, to establish progressive death of leadership in South Baltimore to provide a voice for the wishes and desires of the black and poor people in the area of sanitation housing, public facilities, recreation and business development."

cord.

Another instance Mr. Turco cited was that of a state's witness who could neither read nor write but who pretended to do so when the prosecutor asked him to "refresh his memory" by reading a document which had been placed before the court.

The witness, Donald Vaughn, he said, finally admitted under cross-examination that he could not "read too well."

Mr. Turco said that several motions will be placed before the court next week to have all charges dismissed. Stating that there are many legal stems that could be taken, he did not reveal what the process will be.

However, Mr. Turco indicated that legal steps many be taken to see that the state's witnesses who were proven to be lying under oath will be indicated for perjury.

Mr. Turco said, "It's not for my rights but for all persons who are awaiting trial.

"We all have an obligation not just to judicial bodies and the bar. We can no longer sit back without speaking out.

"We hope individuals and groups will do something about it.

"We cannot allow the states attorney's office and the police department to continue to get away with murder. The last word is for the people to see and expose the hypocrisy of the police and its efforts to prosecute."

He termed the case of the state placed before the jury as "somewhat like a more [illegible] case of James Bond vs. Fu Manchu."

Throughout the trial the defense attorneys [illegible] the Anderson [illegible] ture case, the Committee to Defend Political Prisoners has served to inform the public of the court proceedings.
