Continentals hold 16th annual confab

"Continentals Travel Through the Zodiac With Musical Moments," was the theme of the 16th annual conclave of the Continental Societies Inc. held in Goldsboro, N. C. the last weekend in June.

Prior to the convening of the general assembly, the Central Advisory Committee, made up of representatives of all 13 chapters, began the business meeting on Thursday, Sue Miles and Priscilla Marshall, Baltimore delegates, enplaned ahead of the Baltimore contingent for the business meeting.

Coming in by private plane were New York's Terri Bush and Maryann McCalla, the plane owned by the latter's husband . . . Maryann looking ultra smart in a brown and white checked pants outfit.

Activities got underway on Thursday night when the hostess chapter held forth at an elegant supper-sip for the delegates at a local supper club. Delegates were reluctant to leave the festivities but knew the importance of the next day's early business meeting.

Friday's meeting consisted of the general assembly, when members from all chapters went into session. The Honorable Charles T. Gibson, Mayor of Goldsboro, brought greetings from the city. He commended the group for the contributions being made in their local cities and highly praised the Goldsboro chapter for their impact on their locale.

All work and no play makes Jill a dull girl — right? So after the Continentals had heard reports from various chapters, had received the first issue of the national journal, "Content," had worked hard in a workshop led by dynamic Jean A. Harris, local Goldsboro guidance counselor on the topic "Community Involvement With The Disadvantaged," it was time to play a while.

Activities ranged from a picnic by a picturesque lake and waterfall — with live music, no less, to luncheon-fashion shows with models showing the newest in hotpants and wigs.

The highlight of the conclave was the formal dance and banquet held on Saturday night at the Goldsboro Hotel, the site of the conclave. Main speaker was the black mayor of Chapel Hill, N.C., who was introduced by Mayor Gibson of Goldsboro. Words alone do not convey the impact this handsome, black, dynamic mayor had on the audience. His forthright and courageous message held the group spellbound.

Fashions played a big part at the formal on Saturday, too. There was Terri Bush in a muted floral printed chiffon number which featured a high neckline and long sleeves. And our own Lil Branch in a svelt white dinner dress. Priscilla Marshall and Sue Miles, both in hotpants gowns — Priscilla's sequinned print and Sue's summery white. Goldsboro's Eloise Larkin, who did her entire conclave wardrobe in lavender, chose a lovely long gown n this hue.

Each year the hostess chapter is privileged to select a national charity and to make a monetary presentation from all chapters. Each chapter contributes $125 towards this sum. Goldsboro selected two local groups which operate under the Boys Club of America. The groups receiving the contribution were E. A. House Boys Club of Goldsboro and the Wayne County Boys Club.

Elected to national office for the next two years were chairman, Lillian Thomas, Twin Cities; co-chairman, Mabs Kemp, Washington; treasurer, Gertrude Coz, Goldsboro; recording financial secretary, Florence Prunty, Roanoke, Va.; corresponding secretary, Francine Perry, Newport News; public relations, Maryann McCalla, New York and historian, Sue Miles, Baltimore.

Attending from the Baltimore chapter, in addition to the delegates, were Mae Chamberlain, local president, Lillie Branch and Sevilla Carroll.

Continental chapters are located in Baltimore, Bermuda, Columbus, Ga., Columbus, Ohio, Goldsboro, N. C., Newport News, Va., New York City, North Jersey Shore, Philadelphia, Roanoke, Va., South Jersey, Twin Cities, and Washington, D. C.

Jackson 5 set for U. of Md.

By SUSAN WOOD

The Jackson 5, a talented young group from Motown, which has sold over 9 million records, is coming to Cole Field House at the University of Maryland on July 17.

The group, from Gary, Indiana, composed of Michael Jackson, lead singer, Marlon Jackson, Jermaine Jackson, Toraino Jackson, and Sigmund "Jackie" Jackson, are the sound of young America.

The Jackson 5 began by winning a local talent show in Gary, Indiana for singing the Temptation hit "My Girl", in 1965. They won a city-wide talent contest in 1966, and the following year they won first prize in an Amateur talent show held at Gary's Memorial Auditorium.

They first appeared with professionals at Chicago's Regal Theater with Smokey Robinson. The Jackson 5 have fans from the Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific and all over Europe.

Mrs. Bernice White named to FEW office

Mrs. Bernice S. White was elected to the office of National Secretary of Federally Employed Women, Inc. (FEW) at the national conference meeting in Washington, D.C. on June 26th. The conference, which was held at the George Washington University Center, had as its theme "The Federal-Women's Program — Fact or Fiction."

FEW was founded in 1968 by a group of government women employees to promote opportunity and equality for women in government, and now has 16 chapters throughout the country. The Federal Women's Program, established by the Civil Service Commission to implement the President's Executive Order prohibiting sex discrimination in government employment, has been frequently criticized by FEW for lacking substance and effectiveness in many Federal agencies.

Highlight of the conference was the dinner address, given by the Honorable Edith Green, Congresswoman from Oregon and chairman of the Special Subcommittee on Education of the Commitee on Education and Labor of the House of Representatives. Mrs. Green is well known for her staunch support of equality for women in education and in other walks of life.

The Distinguished Service Award was presented to Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan Koontz, director of the Women's Bureau, U.S. Department of Labor, for her unselfish efforts to further the cause of equality for women in the past year. Mrs. Koontz and Mrs. Green became Honorary Members of FEW and were presented life memberships.

Other National Officers elected were Mesdames Esther Lawton, assistant director of personnel, U.S. Treasury Dept., president; Florence Perman, Education and Training Assist of the Atomic Energy Commission, [illegible]; and Myrtle Sydenstricker, Public Health Analyst of Health Services and Mental Health Administration, treasurer.

Mrs. White was one of the founders of the Greater Baltimore Chapter, FEW, and served as its first president. Since March, she has been assigned on special detail to the Women's Action Program at HEW in Washington, D.C. This program was established by Secretary Elliot Richardson in mid-February and has two objectives: (1) improving the status of women who work in the Department, and (2) evaluating the impact of HEW on women in the society. Mrs. White, who is the Director of the Federal Women's Program of the Social Security Administration, is that agency's special representative to HEW.

Mechanic inventor of new tool

The widow of Charlie Jones, Mechanic, DIO Maintenance Division, recently received one of the largest suggestion awards ever given by the Army of $875.00 from Colonel Arthur Brinson, Deputy Post Commander Fort George G. Meade, Md.

The award was given for Mr. Jones' development of a tool used in removing and replacing transmission assemblies, differential carrier assemblies and similar items in the process of repairing tracks and armoren vehicles.

This tool is a big improvement for field troops, especially in theaters of war.

Mr. Jones died of a heart attack on October 1 1970. He is survived by his wife, Dorothy, three daughters and a son, all living in the Fort Meade area.

Prudential

Prudential. The Rock. Gibraltar.

It's not just the company I work for. It's a company I believe in. I want everyone to own a piece of the Rock because I know it's one sure way to have real peace of mind.

It means when your kids are ready for college, Prudential life insurance is there. Owning a piece of the Rock means Prudential makes investments with your premiums.

Investments that are helping build new businesses, new jobs, right in our own community, that can help pay dividends that keep the cost of your policy down.

You want all the protection for your family you can afford. I can show you how to get it . . . with the Rock.

I'm building my life around The Rock...maybe you should, too.
