Singing Cadets' 19th anniversary

By ADAH K. JENKINS

Singing Cadets, with their founder-director, Richard G. Richardson Jr., celebrated their 19th anniversary at a Sunday concert, at Seventh Baptist Church, St. Paul St. and North Ave.

City Solicitor George L. Russell Jr. was the main speaker, who with a number of community leaders, commended the Cadets and their conductor for their untiring efforts, thru music, with the pressing problems of the city.

Soloists for the occasion were: George L. Milburn, tenor; Maurice Baker, boy soprano, and Mrs. Helen Heck Richardson, one of the initial founders of the Cadets.

Mrs. Esther Melcher read an original poem dedicated to the group. The Rev. James Hodges assistant pastor of Payne memorial A.M.E. Church and the Rev. Jason Bull, associate minister of Rising Sun Baptist, offered the invocation and prayer.

A history and accomplishments of the Singing Cadets was given by Mr. Richardson, who has directed the chorus in numerous concert appearances in local and adjacent cities.

Ranging in age from 6 to 20, the group meets regularly at First Baptist Church.

The Maryland State Music Teachers Association held its annual workshop at Peabody Conservatory, with Julio Esteban, president, welcoming members from the District of Columbia, Maryland counties and Baltimore City.

Dr. Konrad Wolff, of the Peabody faculty, gav and illuminating lecture-demonstration on "Arthur Schnabel as Teacher", at the opening session.

Having studied with the eminent pianist, the speaker stressed the important aspects of the Schnabel teaching philosophy — clear articulating of the melody line, coordination of rhythm and meter and the function of harmony in unifying a composition.

The session and question period were highly practical with Dr. Wolff illustrating at the piano and, also, with the Schnabel recordings.

In the afternoon, the vocal session on "The Infuence of the Songs of Franz Schubert" was given in a lecture recitation by Mme. Alice Duschak from the Peabody faculty, with Mrs. Blanche Skloven presiding.

The four split sessions were devoted to problems in piano teaching. Speakers were John Duro, from Towson State College faculty, on "Creative Theory in Piano Lessons", with Mrs. Hilda Perl presiding.

Miss Idee Kordell lectured on "group Piano", with Mrs. Nettie Goss in charge. Dr. Tinka Knopf gave a lecture demonstration on "Teaching the student How to Practice".

presided over by Mrs. Estelle Brenner.

"Style in Performance" was the topic treated by Dr. Arthur Tollefson, from the University of Maryland faculty, with Jack Thames presiding.

Joanne Cohen and Mrs. Mirma Gerber were speakers on "Violin Bowings and Physiological and Psychological Approaches" in the String session, presided over by Anne Flaccavento.

Dr. Knorf, Misses Cohen and Kordell are on Peabody's faculty.

The Workshop concluded with a recital by winners of the annual Maryland State Teachers Association competition, with Mrs. Gertrude Brown in cherge.

Mrs. Charlotte Nachman was workshop chairman and Mrs. Shirley Silver, registrar.

Edmondson features all-age swimming

Classes for swimmers of all ages and stages are being conducted at the Edmondson Recreation Center, the Bureau of Recreation announced this week.

The schedule, running Mondays through Fridays, extends over three hours daily. Five-to-ten-year-olds swim from 6 to 7 p.m. The 7-8 p.m. hour is reserved for 11-15 year-olds, and the 8-9 period is divided between older teenagers and adults.

Adult swimmers have the 8-9 hour on Mondays and Fridays. Swimmers 16-19 years of age are assigned Tuesday, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

Jesse Owens meet July 23

The Atlantic Richfield Company in cooperation with the Baltimore Bureau of Recreation is sponsoring the 1971 Jesse Owens track field program for boys and girls 10 thru 15 years of age.

The city championship meet will be held on Friday, July 23, at 1 p.m. at Northwest High School, 6900 Park Heights Avenue.

The inter-city championship meet will be held on Saturday, August 7 at the State University of Buffalo, New York.

Children can register for the program by mailing or bringing completed and signed entry blanks to: Miss Jean Powell, supervisor, Baltimore Bureau of Recreation, 1129 Calvert Street, Baltimore, Md., 21202, or to the nearest city recreation center or playground.

Deadline for applications is Friday, July 16.
