—Blame placed on guards

ond Councilmatic District and Tabashar Wall, worker for the Mitchell for Mayor campaign.

Members contend that Wednesday nights disturbance precipitated from a meeting that was supposed to take place between the community spokesmen for the men in the South Wing and the six delegates appointed by the six "human flies" to represent them at the 9 a.m. meeting Wednesday morning.

The meeting which finally got underway around 10 a.m. was described by one spokesman as "a mass confusion."

Community representatives were disenchanted with the setup of the meeting that morning.

According to Mrs. Kitty Broady, "The terms were that the panel was to meet with the six delegates appointed by the six "human flies" of the south wing.

"Instead they sent two of the original delegates and two from the other population," she added.

Members agree that maybe the panel would not have objected if the two new members were an addition to the six delegates agreed upon.

It is not known whether these two were residents of the west wing that was plagued with the disruption Wednesday evening.

The committee also added that the two guards who originally sat in on the meeting were not present. Instead, two white guards were sent.

According to the committee, the guards felt that the two previous black guards were not representative of them.

The committee also agreed that one of the officers seems to have "walked in with an attitude."

Panel members were also disturbed that the two officers did not wear their name tags to the meeting. When J. Brown Hardy, acting warden of the Penitentiary, was asked about this, he told the community panel that the officers were supposed to have their identification badges on.

Mrs. Broady reported that the men stated trei badges were ripped off. The committee agrees that there was no sign that the badges were removed in any rough manner.

"Throughout the entire meeting, the men were constantly taking notes and names of everyone at the meeting," Mrs. Skates stated.

By the two guards being pesent and the disturbance they caused, the original agenda was not discussed.

Topics to be discussed were: adjustment procedure, recreation, showers, disparative method in issuing tickets, sanitary conditions, lack of communication between Warden and inmates, worship in the south wing, visitation, guard brutality, medical treatment, mail, diet and placement of inmates in the hole.

Members stated that they strongly believed that acting Warden Hardy and other officials "renigged on their promise to the panel".

"Hardy has tricked the people and we were part of that trick," Mr. Olugbala stated.

"Hardy had no intentions of negotiating," Mr. Olugbala added.

The committee also stated that they thought it was unfair for the community panel to be blamed for the disturbance that took place Wednesday night.

They contend that although they are concerned with the treatment of all inmates, their first issue was airing and resolving the grievances of the men in the south wing.

"Last night they used tear gas and when that didn't work, they called us in," Mr. Armstead contended.

"We had a good format and it was working. They were the ones to renig," he added.

"Nobody went in there to be radical . . ." Miss Broady contended.

The AFRO learned from a reliable source that Mr. Hardy did not want the job of acting warden and that he described it as being one big "headache."

It was also learned by a reliable source that Mr. Hardy was to replace Mr. Decker, who was acting warden, for two weeks. Mr. Decker had left for two weeks with back ailments.

So far, Mr. Decker has not returned.

Earlier this week, Major William A. (Box) Harris, director of the City Police Department's community relation division was instrumental in talking with the "human flies" lodged in the windows of the south wing of the Maryland Penitentiary.

The inmates agreed to send five representatives and one of the human flies, Henry Gibson, to meet with a community panel to talk out their grievances.

The meeting which took place around 3:30 p.m. Tuesday consisted of community representatives: Russ Johnson, Black United Front, Olugbala, Soul School, Mrs. Kitty Broady, affiliated with the Mitchell for Mayor Campaign; Paul Coates, Black Panther Party, Arthur Arnstead and Yusef Ahmed, both of the Maryland Human Relations Commission, Mrs. Zerita Skates, Black United Front and Marvin Peay of the Baltimore Chapter of CORE.

When the representatives appeared before the panel and the press, they came in giving the black power sign. The men were anxious to give their account of the conditions in the Penitentiary and cited explicit cases of the alleged brutality.

One inmate spoke of guards administering medication to the inmates — who have no training in mediuine. He further said that on occasions the mediuine for one inmate has been mistakenly given to another.

The guard who administers medication was present at the meeting and he agreed that there has been a mix-up in the medications and that he had no medical background.

He further contended that he did have a little knowledge of the medicine he was administering.

Other grievances were:

The dehumanizing of the inmates by the guards. The inmate representatives stated that some guards were racists.

When one officer came to the door, one of the inmates spoke out and pointed, "he's a racist, that Officer. . . ."

Another spokesman cited from the institution's regulation book some of the things that the inmates were entitled too: books, underclothes, recreation and meals.

According to the inmates, they do not get books or underclothes unless someone outside of the institution brings it to them.

Concerning recreation, the inmates agreed that they are entitled a 10 minute walk on the tier a day. They added that this walk depended on whether or not the guard had domestic troubles that day if they would get their walk.

Mrs. Kitty Broady said, when she heard of their actions, "this is blatant disrespect for the warden."

J. Brown Hardy is the acting warden for the Penitentiary and the first black man to hold such a position at he Penieniary. He was also present at the meeting.

The guards paraded on Forest Street in front of the institution.

At the same time, spectators were standing in front of the windows of the south wing were he human flies were lodged. The inmates were sneaking from the bars telling their audience of the conditions in the institution.

When the guards refused to go on shift, the Baltimore city police were called in. They dispersed the crowd of spectators which was a precipatating factor in the guards not coming on duty.

The police had little trouble dispersing the crowd. At one point, one spectator refused to leave the scene but he soon left, also.

The community panel had visited the south wing of the prison earlier. When they appeared before the news media, the women were wiping their eyes of the tear gas engulfing that wing.

Mrs. Skates said, "if they fail from those windows, they will break their backs and surely die. It is really high. You can hear them but you can't see them.

"The tear gas is terrible. They have a blowing it back into the south wing. One inmate said 'I haven't had any infractions; why should I suffer in here."

The five human flies in the windows were: Calvin Wiggins, James McCullough, Willie Watkins, Robert Fowlkes and Lloyd Bo;kman.

They were talked into coming down from the windows on Wednesday by inmates.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Safy buried; was mother of 9

"My mother had been sick for a long time. She was a patient at the Greater Baltimore Medical Center after suffering a stroke.

"She was then transferred to Granada Nursing Home. She was there for about a month. She was pronounced dead on arrival at Provident Hospital on June 25 after a heart attack."

Mrs. Myrtle Stephens was speaking of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Moaney Safy of 1617 N. Payson St. She was 76.

Mrs. Safy, a native of Mangnolia, N.J., was a daugrter of the Rev. and Mrs. James (Harriet) Waters. At ah early age she and her family moved to the Eastern Shore where she attended the public schools.

Mrs. Elizabeth Moaney, as she is known to many, was the widow of James Moaney. Her second husband, Muhammad Safy, is also deceased.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Morton and Dyett Funeral Home.

In addition to her daughter, Mrs. Stephens, Mrs. Safy is survived by four other daughters, Mrs. Agnes Eaton, Mrs. Edna Hall, Mrs. Ella Alexander, and Mrs. Alfreda Blake;

Also, four sons, Emmanuel, George, Oliver and Staff Sgt. Norman Moaney of Fayetteville, N.C.; a sister, Mrs. Katherine Johns, Atlantic City, N.J.; brother, Dr. Oliver Wilson Winters, Norristown, Pa.; 26 grandchildren, including Sp-4 James C. Armwood, who returned from Vietnam for funeral services.

Mrs. Safy is buried in Arbutus Memorial Park.

Anybody can make a hard liquor. A soft whiskey is something else.

The difference between hard liquor and soft whiskey is more than just a matter of taste.

What makes Calvert Extra soft is the way it is distilled and blended.

So while soft whiskey has a unique taste, it is also as smooth and mellow as the best imported Scotch and Canadian.

It took us many years and thousands of experiments to develop the unique taste of soft whiskey.

It wasn't easy.

But we think you'll agree it was worth it.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues Promptly Relieved

Gives Prompt, Temporary Relief from Such Burning Itch and Pain in Many Cases.

The burning itch and pain caused by infection and inflammation in hemorrhoidal tissues can cause much suffering. But there is an exclusive formulation that in many cases gives prompt relief for hours from this itch and pain so that the sufferer is more comfortable again. It also actually helps shrink swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues caused by inflammation and infection.

Tests by doctors on hundreds of patients in New York City, Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center reported similar successful results in many cases. This is the same medication you can buy at any drug counter under the name Preparation H®.

Preparation H also lubricates to protect the inflamed surface area and it doesn't sting or smart. In fact, it has very soothing qualities which make it especially helpful during the night when itching becomes more intense.

There's no other formula like Preparation H. In ointment or suppository form.

Bar, located in the 600 Block of E. Baltimore St., was sworn out Tuesday in Harford County.

"The formal charge according to Assistant State's Attorney Harlan, "is perjury."

Mr. Harlan states "The state contends Nash was lying in Harford County when he failed to implicate Bruno as the murderer in the Bel Air hearing."

Mr. Harlan explained that it was for this reason that the State issued the warrant in Harford County where Nash is believed to have perjured himself and not in Baltimore City where the McCray youth was slain.

Nash, in a bail hearing held prior to the murder trial of Bruno, admitted before Judge Anslem Sodaro, that Bruno had confessed to him that he had shot the McCray youth.

However, Nash disappeared from the protective police custody he requested on May 20.

He did not reappear until the day the two-week trial began and he then indicated he would no longer testify against Bruno.

On June 24, Nash indicated to Defense Attorney Russel J. White, that he would no longer make statements implicating Bruno in the death of the youth.

Nash had previously been considered a material witness for the State against the defendant Bruno.

Nash appeared before Harford County Judge Albert P. Close, was questioned by the court and cross-examined by both the state and the defense.

It was noted that at the time of Nash's appearance at the Courthouse, he seemed to have lost 10-15 pounds and had a hand injury with 15 stitches.

Nash gave conflicting stories of how his hand was injured.

The State asserted it could no longer vouch for Nash's integrity or veracity and suggested "tampering with the witnesses" had occurred.

The murder trial of Thomas J. Bruno, 37, manager of Harry's Corral Bar, in the 600 block of E. Baltimore St., an area known as "The Block", ended when an all-white Harford County jury found the defendant Bruno innocent.

Bruno was charged with killing the Douglass High School senior Micheal McCray, 17.

McCray was fatalv shot in the back of the head on Feb. 27 as he and some friends fled from a group of running whites on the Block.

He died three days later from the gun shot wound.

State's Attorney Milton B. Allen stated that he was satisfied that the State had done everything possible under the circumstances to bring a conviction.

However, when asked if the state would seek another suspect in the killing, Allen stated:

"We tried Mr. Bruno for it. Because Bruno was acquitted, does not mean that there is another murderer."

According to Assistant State's Attorney Harlan, the McCray youth did not die in vain.

Harlan stated: "The McCray case finally focused public attention on the Block activities. The people are finally aware that the Block is not a nice place."

Mr. Harlan further stated that the State's office will continue all investigations of activities on the block.

"For too long attention of the community has been focused to crime on Pennsylvania Avenue, not enough time is spent in looking at the white Block in Baltimore."

Mrs. Price was married for 47 years

Funeral services for Mrs. Johnnie Mae Price, 2221 Barclay St., were held today (Friday) from the Second Baptist Church.

Mrs. Price, 61, died Monday at Johns Hopkins Hospital. She suffered a stroke three years ago.

Born and reared in Greenwood, S.C., she was a daugiter of Mr. and Mrs. John Graham.

She attended the public schools there and married Gus Price in 1924.
