1,860 Clean Blockers Give Baltimore A Beauty Bath

HOW BEAUTIFUL—Brenda Dudley, captain of the 1700 block N. Washington St. arranges a window box. The block where she and her assistants spend many hours working (right) is now one of the loviest in East Baltimore. The white marble steps are typical of this age old city of ours. They are the famed landmarks heard about around the world. In the hands of such proud Baltimoreans as the residents of the 1700 block N. Washington St., the steps sparkle and gleam. Passers-by from other states would like to know their secret. How do they keep them so clean on a busy street? For nearly 40 years AFRO Clean Blockers have upheld this white-marble-steps tradition which has made the campaign a Baltimore institution.

JUST AN EXAMPLE of what some of the Clean Blockers have to do to beautify Baltimore is shown in the above photo. Hard-working and devoted young people of the 1100 block Argyle Ave. include Michael McCoy, Allan Randolph, Kim Washington and Dorothy Taylor. Don't you think youngsters like them need a real treat when the AFRO Clean Block Campaign is over? Think about. Have you made sure they receive a reward through your own contribution to the Treat Fund?

Two AFRO Clean Blocks maintain age-old Baltimore traditions

By MARIE P. COOKE

Especially beautiful are the 1100 block Argyle Ave. and 1700 block Washington St.

Both locations are centered in the heart of heavily-populated areas in this city and are enrolled in the AFRO's Clean Block Campaign.

Lovely Argyle Ave. is in West Baltimore and beauteous Washington St. is in East Baltimore.

Over 30 tots, teens, mothers, fathers and grandparents are up and cleaning by 9:30 a.m.

They work under direction of Miss Darlene Dora, 16, an 11th grade student at Northwestern High School.

Little Kim Washington, 12, the co-captain of the block, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bryan and was recently promoted to the 7th grade at St. Puis Catholic School.

Anxious workers, who range from 6-81-years of age, meet every other week to discuss future improvements for the block.

The residents were recently given used tires by a prominent businessman. They painted all of them pale green and are using them as flower containers. The paint was donated by a neighbor, Mr. Thomas.

Miss Brenda Dudley, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley, is the captain of the 1700 block Washington St. in East Baltimore.

She directs 15 workers and makes sure all report to her no later than 8 a.m. each day of the week. She says they are usually finished by 10 a.m. except on the days they clean the alleys.

There are 39 houses in the block and each resident is responsible for keeping his front and back yard clean. The oldest occupant is 80.

Here's how some of our citizens are helping the Clean Blockers

The AFRO Clean Block Campaign is at the halfway mark in its effort to maintain a clean, beautiful Baltimore.

The Clean Block staff would like to take this time to thank those organizations which have given their services toward making the 27th annual campaign meaningful as well as pleasurable.

Leonard B. Folio, Assistant General Superintendent of Sanitation, has been most helpful in dispatching trash containers to all of the Clean blocks.

Roger Nissly, Director of Consumer Services, has been helpful in sending telephone directory cards. The cards facilitate Clean Blockers in getting help in all types of areas from rat eradication to voter registration.

The Clean Block staff would also like to thank Mrs. Barbara Dungee, Housing Manager of the McCulloh Homes for allowing Clean Blockers to hold weekly Friday meetings in the air-conditioned comfort of the McCulloh Homes Auditorium.

William Johnson, Manager, has given his support by making the Regent Theatre available to Clean Blockers for Movie Jamborees.

Thanks goes to Miss Hubbard of Enoch Pratt Library's public relations office for sending book marks and library literature for distribution among Clean Blockers.

There is no substitute for reading and learning.

Frederick Ruof, Director of Learning Foundations, has been a tremendous help by giving two scholarships to two outstanding youngsters involved in the AFRO Clean Block Campaign.

The scholarships will be awarded at the Awards Ceremony Aug. 29. Remedial or enriched work can be studied under the Learning Foundations program.

What would youth be without music?

Henry Sampson, Roving Disc Jockey, gives his support by passing out the latest 45 recordings to the youngsters after Clean Block meetings and provides music at Clean Block parties.

Through Coach Earl Banks of Morgan State College, Clean Blockers are able to watch the Orioles in action.

Your assistance and goodwill have been and are greatly appreciated. We look forward to your help and cooperation in the future. — Sincerely, The Clean Block Staff.

You can still get in on the AFRO campaign

Today, July 30 (Friday) marks the close of registration for the AFRO Clean Block Campaign. Applications post marked July 30 will be accepted.

How you too can win an Honor Flag

Each week Clean Blockers ask how they can win an honor flag?

Flags are awarded to those blocks which the Clean Block staff has visited during the week and which have shown great progress toward a very attractive neighborhood.

Before any painting can be done on many of the houses, first, the old paint has to be scrapped away, loose boards have to be tightened and fingerprints have to be washed away.

Flowers are beautiful but they are not to be used to camouflage dirt.

* * *

Windows, porches, steps, backyards and alleys are areas which Clean Blockers must concentrate on cleaning up.

Community effort, sharing cleaning equipment, and determination to see that an effective job is done are extra ingredients needed to help your block receive an honor flag.

Work together, come to the Clean Block Friday meetings in the McCulloh Homes Auditorium at 10 a.m. Turn in your victory reports and be alert to activities going on in Clean Block. This is how honor flags are won.

WHERE'S YOUR CONTRIBUTION?
