SUMMER SCHOOL FUN DAY was the closing activity this week at Oliver Cromwell School No. 74, 2000 Homewood Ave. as the young people prepared for an outing at Druid Hill Park. This was the last in a series of activities in the summer school program. One of these was "Oriole Day" last week. Among the baseball stars who greeted students were Elrod Hendricks, Curt Motton and Chico Salmon. Preparing for the picnic were (left panel, L to R) Mark and his mother, Mrs. Peggy Pashall and Ellsworth Bowyer. Second panel, Rickey Ford, Glenn Ford and Reginald Johnson. Third panel, Mrs. Bernice Douglass and Zina T. Scott. Fourth panel, John H. Edwards. Mrs. Gloria A. Mack is coordinator for the community school.

Morgan grad promoted to rank of lieutenant colonel

FORT DETRICK, Frederick, Md. — Clifton Reed Johnson was promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel in the United States Army in a ceremony held last week here at Ft. Detrick.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Reed C. Johnson of Perry Hall, Md., Lt. Col. Johnson is married to the former Miss Janis E. M. McCaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. McCaw of Silver Spring, Md.

Colonel and Mrs. Johnson have three children, Anthony L., 11, Mark C. 8 and Valaria R., 5.

The 35-year-old Regular Army officer is a graduate of Morgan State College with a bachelor of science degree in biology.

He was graduated from the University of Wisconsin with a master of science degree in bacteriology.

Lt. Col. Johnson entered the service in 1957 as a distinguished military graduate in the Reserve Officer Training Corps at Morgan. During his 14-year career he has served at Ft. Sill, Okla.; Korea; Ft. McClellan, Ala.; Vietnam; Ft. Bragg, N.C. and three tours at Ft. Detrick.

During his first tour from June, 1962 to Sept., 1963, he was Ft. Detrick training and operations officer and then headquarters commandant.

From August, 1965 to August, 1966, at Ft. Detrick for the second time, Lt. Col. Johnson was assigned chief of the Army Chemical Corps Intelligence Field Office as a bacteriologist and then commanding officer of Headquarters Company.

On a third tour of duty at Ft. Detrick June, 1970, he was assigned as post inspector, acting inspector general and survivor assistance officer.

Lt. Col. Johnson relinquished assignments Aug. 2 to become deputy commanding officer of Ft. Detrick, replacing Lt. Col. Julien T. Winegar, who retired July 31.

Major Ansell Jefferies becomes new post inspector.

As deputy commander, Lt. Col. Johnson will be president of the Ft. Detrick Officer's Open Mess and president of the Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Council.

Lt. Col. Johnson has completed nine military schools.

While Army Combat Development Command Institute of Strategic and Stability Operation, Ft. Bragg, N.C. he received the Meritorious Service Medal.

Herbert DuBerry in Civil Service post

The appointment of Herbert James Duberry of 812 Beaumont Ave. to the newly created position of Apprenticeship Program coordinator of the Civil Service Commission has been announced by Thomas J. Murphy, personnel director.

The Apprenticeship Program is sponsored by Local 44 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees and is believed to be one of the first in the country.

It is designed to train apprentices in a wide variety of skilled trades for employment in various city departments.

The Civil Service Commission is currently recruiting for apprentice applicants for nine different trades.

Mr. Duberry, age 40, retired in 1968 as a master sergeant with the U.S. Army.

He then joined the Training Corporation of America as regional director of the Baltimore office responsible for marketing and the over-all operation of the regional office.

He was then selected as a member of that company's Task Force to set up an office in Washington where he was currently employed as center director.

A graduate of the George Washington Carver High School in Miami, Florida, Mr. Duberry has recently enrolled in courses at Morgan State College and the Baltimore College of Commerce.

HERBERT J. DUBERRY
Apprenticeship Coordinator

In his position of Apprenticeship Program coordinator, Mr. Duberry will act as liaison man between the Civil Service Commission, the Department of Education and other city departments, Local 44 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees and the Joint Apprenticeship Committee.

The Joint Apprenticeship Committee is comprised of representatives of the Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training of the U.S. Department of Labor, the State of Maryland Department of Labor and Industry, the Apprenticeship and Training Council, the AFL-CIO Appalachian Council and various city agencies.

Mr. Duberry has been married for 10 years to the former Miss Catherine Glover of Miami.

Their four children are Herbert Jr. 16, a Northern High 11th grader; Michael, 15, a Woodbourne Junior High pupil; Saundra, 11, a Winston Elementary pupil and Cindy, 3.

Mr. Duberry is PTA vice president of Public Relations at Northern High; 1970 PTA Woodbourne president and president of the Morgan Cross-Keys Fraternity.

FOUL PLAY?

GI drowns; wife has suspicions

"I really do think it's foul play. My husband was a good swimmer before he went in service. He was a smart fellow, and he said he was going after some stripes and would do anything to get them.

"That could give somebody reason to be jealous of him."

A tearful young wife and mother, Mrs. Sylvia Reddy, 18, 1400 block N. Luzerne Ave., was speaking Thursday evening, telling the AFRO about her suspicions surrounding the death of her husband, Pfc. Louis Reddy, 21.

She had just been notified earlier in the day by an Army officer of the death of her husband on Tuesday at Fort Bragg, N.C., were he was stationed.

Death she was told was

TJD orders $5,000 grant for CEBO

The Board of Estimates, acting at the request of Mayor Thomas J. D'Alesandro 3rd, has appropriated from the city's contingency fund $5,000 for the continued operation of the Baltimore Council for Equal Business Opportunity Inc. (CEBO).

The mayor said the funds were necessary because local aid is low this year, and money has not been received from the Ford Foundation.

He had high praise for the organization of which Samuel T. Daniels is director. The mayor's statement said —

"For the past four years, CEBO has been doing a fine job in attempting to assist minority businesses in our city to get started in productive enterprises.

"During this period, the group has compiled an outstanding record in having worked with more than 200 businesses, the bulk of which can be classified as new businesses.

"It's my understanding," the mayor continued, "that CEBO's efforts in this field have helped to create millions of dollars in sales and production.

"During the period mentioned, the brunt of financing program has been carried by the Ford Foundation, with local matching funds coming from the local business and industrial community.

"However, this year the local contributions have not reached past levels, and CEBO has not yet received its Ford Foundation Grant."

Bumper Crops This Year

Everything's coming up real big this summer

By EDITH M. HOUSE

Mrs. Clara Bond has yard mushrooms as big as dinner plates. The five and six-foot green beans in Roosevelt Simpkins' garden are the talk of the neighborhood. The Green plot in the center of town has squash weighing five pounds.

When you have a natural green thumb for making things grow, you expect plants and vegetables to come up big, but not huge.

Mrs. Chaney E. Green, 1930 block Penrose Ave., did not expect to wake up one morning and "find a giant squash growing in her backyard.

Now her squash are two feet long and weigh five pounds.

"This is the first time I've gotten hold of some squash seeds," she states.

The 74-year-old widow, a veteran gardener, has been digging in the earth many years. Besides squash given her by a neighbor she has collards, tomatoes, stringbeans, cabbage and sweetpeas.

Mrs. Green was not successful with her sweetpeas. Her puppy, "Bobo" dug them up. Now, Bobo is gone.

"Someone stole him but I'd know him if I saw him. He is six or seven months old," she commented.

Mrs. Green says there is a special time to plant seeds.

It's "on Good Friday."

She couldn' give a reason but "that's the best day," she says.

With no special technique for growing plants, she explains:

"When I first plant seeds, I use a little fertilizer and they just started growing. I have a rich backyard.

"I love to grow vegetables. I plant any seed I can get my hands on," she chuckled.

After growing giant squash, she isn't quite sure what she is going to do.

"I guess I will eat it but it's so big someone will have to help me," she stated.

Mrs. Green will not cook her squash in a secret recipe. She doesn't believe in recipes.

"I don't go big any recipes, some of them fall down on you," she said. Besides tending to her garden, Mrs. Green does a little sewing.

I used to sew for people, but now I just sew for myself. If someone wants me to mend something for them, I'll do it," she stated.

Mrs. Green has been active at Mt. Hebron Baptist Church for 60 years. She sings on the Matthews Gospel Chorus. Her pastor is the Rev. Paris S. Thompson.

Her two sons are Phillip Murphy of Baltimore and Ernest Mrupby of Newark. Mrs. Green is a native of Lewisburg, but resided in Nash County, N.C.

MADAM, MADAM, HOW DOES YOUR GARDEN GROW? — "Squash so big they scare me," says Mrs. Chaney E. Green (left) while Mrs. Clara Bond declares her mushrooms as big as a dinner plate "are the largest I have ever seen."

Wife says mate admitted he was unfaithful

Mrs. Curtis L. Scott was granted a divorce from her husband on July 30 on grounds of adultery.

The Scotts were married in a religious ceremony in Honolulu, Hawaii on Sept. 1, 1968 and were separated in October, 1970 when Mr. Scott left their home and returned to reside with his grandmother, the court was told.

Mrs. Scott then testified that the husband later left his grandmother's home and took up residence on Freedom Way.

She stated that it was then she discovered that her husband was living with another woman. She testified when she saw him in a bar with the woman, he admitted what he was doing.

Tau Gamma Delta sorors set for 26th convention

with Lula Mackay

Tau Gamma Delta Sorority, a community service oriented organization which places emphasis upon it's youth program, will open its 26th annual Boule in the Holiday Inn, Downtown, with a press hr eakfast, Monday morning, followed by a meeting of the national officers, mid-mor ning, and a "Hello" party in the evening.

The sorority, which was established in Detroit, Mich. in 1942, has chapters throughout the United States, and is headed by Mrs. Mabel Abrams, who was elected supreme basileus at the Silver Anniversary Boule in Miami Beach, Fla., and Nassau in August, 1970.

The Boule, here, will be hosted by Pi Chapter, whose basileus is Soror Juanita Mills. Of the about 50 members of the chapter, Sorors Lois Rosedom is first anti-basileus Flossie Johnson, second anti-basileus; Anna Goston, grammateus; Delores Alexander, anti-grammateus; Ruth Salisbury, tamiochus; Charlene Coleman, corresponding secretary; Mary DeSheids, sergeant-at-arms; Martha J. Thompson, historian; Blanche Strong, keeper of files; Mary J. Jenkins, chaplain.

Registration proper is scheduled by Tuesday morning, and the first business session is set for 9 a.m. The public meeting, on Wednesday evening, will have as speaker Del. Lena King Lee. It is at this session that the national scholarship awards will be made.

On Thursday, the group will visit Columbia City, Md. where theatre and dinner are on the program. Visitors will meet Baltimorean at a formal dance on Friday night. The sorority banquet will be held on Saturday night, at which time the community awards will be made; and the Boule will end with religious services at First Mount Calvary Church on Sunday morning.

As a prelate, we all know that the Rev. Reginald Daniels is A-1. But how about a host, and a poet, no less! He's top drawer, there, too. And as to what brings this all about, well . . .

The Rev. Mr. Daniels had a birthday, Monday. Prior to that date he decided that instead of a natal party he would have a family reunion. Hence the gathering on Saturday at the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church. This, said the Rev. Mr. Daniels, was the very first time an effort had been made to gather together the descendants of his great-grandparents, James and Christine Fleming Daniels.

And the invitation went out in the form of a 40-line poem, bidding them to gather "while we can breathe and eat and take some nips; and laugh and joke about family flips." Said other lines: "My birthday on August 2nd is due; let's celebrate that on the same day, too; your presence — not presents — is what I crave; to see at my house before filling a grave.

The poem told them "To come dressed so that you can really relax wear shorts and hot pants and middis and slacks.

And the re'atives came . . . from as far away as South Carolina, from as nearby as a few blocks away.

The out-of-towners were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Moore and daughter, Sharon of Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Livingston, John Easley, Mr. and Mrs. Michie Edwards and children, Daryl, Celeste, Patrice and Kimberly; Frank Rose, Mrs. Bernice Woodie and daughter, Adrienne, of Philadelphia;

Mr. and Mrs. Penrose B. Parks and daughter, Shauna; Mrs. Cecelia D. Felming of Orangeburg, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Thompson and children, Gloria, Dianne and Robert 2nd of Pendleton, S. C.;

Mr. and Mrs. James Jones and children, Michele, Crystal, Kim and Guy of Edison, N.J.; Mr. and Mrs. George Jones and children, Lisa and George 2nd of Linden, N. J.; Mrs. Vivenne D. Bowles of New York City;

Miss Freda Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald J. Daniels 2nd and daughter, Piper; Mr. and Mrs. Lowman Davids and daughters, Adrienne and Donna; Mr. and Mrs. Allison Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Johnson; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Johnson and son, Anthony Miss Doris Johnson, Miss Zelda Johnson, Wesley Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pye and son, Kelvin; Mrs. Estelle Coleman, Moses Coleman Jr., Mrs. Bettye C. Wilson,

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Rucker, Miss Clarice Thomas, Allen J. Wattles, John W. Williams, and of course, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Daniels, all of Baltimore.

Members of the Modern Modiste Club have just returned from what all declare was "a perfectly delightful" sojourn in Hawaii.

From the moment they landed in Honolulu to receive the tradition le's greeting the cruise to Pearl Harbor and Hickam Field and the solemn moments at the memorial; the unique beauty of Moui Island; bathing in the blue waters of the Pacific; the sight of the magnificent orchids and sounds of Hawaiian music all made the trip memorable.

On the trip were:

Mesdames Dotsie Booker, Mamie Caster, Gladys Palmer, Virginia Tabb, Lois Brown, Florence Kelly, Sarah White, Bernice Michell; Miss Arlette Lisdeay, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Chase, and Mrs. Sally Hite, who was joined by her daughter, Miss Ernestine White, government worker who is now stationed in the Philippine Islands.

Pot-Pourri: Dr. and Mrs. Simon Carter cruised off to the Caribbean last week. Jean Turpin is another who is vacationing in the islands . . . as are the Powell Sisters.

Mrs. Annie K. Thomas is in Granada Nursing Home, Liberty Heights and Granada Ave., Room 413. Mrs. Thomas is a past matron of Rebecca Chapter No. 35, Order of Eastern Star. She is also a steward emeritus of Ames United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Susie B. J. Reid and Charles G. Bennett were hosts to Miss Anna G Bennett on her birthday, Sunday. The Bennetts, who were one of the original families on Druid Hill Ave. until their relocation to Liberty Heights Ave. four years ago, had the party in Curtis Bay on Hawkins Point Road, where on the velvety green lawn, picnic tables were laden with the home cooked "soul food," to say nothing of a 63-pound birthday cake decorated with pink candles and yellow icing. Sister Susie made and decorated the cake.

Guests at the party were:

Messrs. and Mesdames Milton Allen, E. Bass, Herbert Bass, Bill Burrell, Frank Burt, Levi Conweil, Ernest Dennis, Albert R. Griffin, Henry C. Johnson, Nelson Randolph, William Ranson, Norman Smith, E. V. Stokes, John Strother, S. Leroy Taylor, M. Mansfield.

The Rev. Messrs. and Mesdames Edward Carroll, Richard Clifford, Kelly L. Jackson;

Mesdames Estelle Ali, Mary C. Allen, Grace Anderson, Rebecca Brown, Pattie Burton, Dorothy Chambers, Emily B. Childs, Pearl J. Hall, Esther Jackson, Evelyn Johnson, Theodosia Johnson,

Mesdames Sallie Larkins, Lena K. Lee, Mytle N. Lee, Ida Milbourne, Eleanor Moore, Edna Newton, Helen Roy, Nellie Sampson, Inez Smith, Rose Snow, Mytle Wake, Coreena Wilson;

Misses Dorothy Alston, Gladys Barbour, Tamah Bowman, Mary M. Johnson, Florence Kelly, Barbara LaBoo, Kate Layton, Florence Miles, Sylvia Plunk, Barbara Turner;

Milton J. Carr, John T. Jackson, Waune Hendricks, Buster Gladly, Joseph J. Perkins, Oscar M. Rawlings, Warren Stanley, Bartlett Winston.

COMPLETING PLANS for the 26th Annual Boule of Tau Gamma Delta Sorority which will be held in Baltimore, this weekend, August 8th through 12th are, from left: Sorors Christine Webster, Mary Jenkins, Edith Harris and Lois Rosedom.

Watkins-Tindal wedding in Union Memorial Church

Miss Eugie Tindal, daughter of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Tindal, was married to S/Sgt. Albert Carroll Watkins in Union Memorial Methodist Church, Saturday.

The double-ring Ceremony, took place at one in the afternoon, with the Rev. Frank A. Fraser officiating. The program of music was arranged by Billy Cummins, minister of music at the church. Elihu Johnson was soloist.

The Rev. Mr. Tindal gave his daughter in marriage. She was lovely in a gown of lace, which featured a square cut neckline and a full cathedral train. She carried white chrysanthemums and baby's breath.

The bride's twin sister, Miss Precious Tindal, was honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Misses Carolyn L. Tindal, Margaret Ann Tindal, Andrea Byrd, Lenora Byrd, Freda A. Watts, Dorothy Meyers and Ursula A. Fowlkes.

The honor attendant wore a pale pink dress, the skirt bordered in white; a wide pink picture hat, and carried white chrysanthemums tied with pink ribbons. The bridesmaids' ensembles were identical, but in rose petal pink, and their bouquets of chrysanhemums were tied with hot pink ribbons.

Tina La Shawn Surratt of Landover, Md., and Pauline Marie Washington of Carmody Hills, Md., flower girls were gowned in white and carried baskets of white flowers.

Ronald Watkins of Las Vegas, Nev. was best man for Sgt. Watkins. David Westmoreland was ring bearer.

The ushers were Willie Keyes, Henry A. Tindal, George A. Tindal David Watkins, Calvin Byrd, Ekells N. Harrid and Jonathan Brock.

A reception was held in the Church Hall.

Among out-of-town guests were the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hilton, Mr. and Mrs. T. Blocker, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hilton, Jr., from Long Island, N.Y.; Mr. and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hilton of South Carolina.

The bride is a graduate of Western High School and Coppin State College. She was on the faculty of Woodbourne Junior High School. She is a member of the Little New Jerusalem Church.

Sgt. Watkins, who is the son of Mrs. Dorothy BYRD OF Douglaston, N.Y., graduated from Mergenthaler Senior High School, this city, and has been in the service for the past two years. His tours of duty have taken him to both the Souheast and Far East Asia. He is currently stationed at Lockbourne Air force Base, Columbus, Ohio, where he and his bride will live.

MISS EUGIE TINDALL was married to S./Sgt. Albert C. Watkins in Union Memorial Methodist Church, Baltimore, Saturday.

New courses scheduled for CCB in fall

On September 13, 1971, the Community College of Baltimore will inaugurate a new Department of Public Safety, incorporating the ongoing curriculum in fire technology with a new curriculum in criminal justice and security.

The latter will replace the present law esforcement curriculum and will include options in police administration, security administration, corrections and criminalistics.

Hayes C. Larkin, newly elected chairman of the department, told the AFRO an ever-growing demand indicates a community need for well-trained and broadly-educated personnel in investigative and law enforcement agencies.

In addition, the course will train personnel for customs and immigration bureaus, banks, retail security organizations, insurance investigation units and in the field of industrial protection.

For further information, call or write the Community College of Baltimore, 2901 Liberty Heights Ave., Baltimore 21215 — Telephone 402-5800.

Food stamp regulations revised

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Department of Agriculture today announced revised regulations for the Food Stamp Program which:

Establish uniform national income and resource eligibility standards.

Set new definition of households.

Increase allotment of food stamps for recipients.

Provide free food stamps for the very poor.

"SEEING" IS FEELING — Doneen Hawkins of Newark, one of 65 young campers at Camp Marcella, N. J. Commission for the Blind facility in Morris County, feels the difference between an elongated tortoise and a northern diamond back terrapin, during a visit by the West Orange Turtle Back Zoo's Zoomobile.

Figures Show More On

WASHINGTON — The Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) Department has issued figures showing a sharp one-year increase in the number of locally-supported welfare clients in 18 big cities. The department ties the gain to unemployment.

The report last Sunday said single adults or families temporarily buffeted by economic conditions were getting local welfare aid because they were not eligible for federal welfare programs.

"These are the people who fall through the welfare cracks because they can't qualify for federal aid," a government welfare statistician said. "In times of unemployment, the locally financed general assistance rolls are likely to pick up people not generally on welfare."

The report said the rise in general ass stance welfare, which gets no federal support, was even greater than dramatic increases in federal aid to large, needy families in big cties.

Ga. Man Sues Airline

ATLANTA — An Atlanta man has filed suit in U.S. District Court charging that Delta Airlines, Inc., discriminates against minority persons in hrng and employet.

Thomas L. Holt claim in his petition that he was denied employment on the basis of his race. The class action was filed on "behalf of all present and potential minority employees and applicants for employment at the facilities operated by the defendant."

Holt's petition charges that Delta recruits "potential employees from sources which result in a predominantly white flow of applicants. It refuses, he says, "to recruit at comparable sources by which a preponderantly minority group of applicants can be contacted."
