Over 1,000 mour n Morgan teacher, victim of suicide at her home

Funeral services were held Wednesday on campus at the Morgan Christain Center for suicide victim, Mrs. Valentine L. Davis Dickerson, Morgan State College assistant professor of Physical Education.

More than 500 people attended the last rites for the 24-year-old attractive, 1965 society debutante.

Members of the Morgan student body and faculty, including college president Dr. King V. Cheek and Mrs. Cheek, as well as friends, filed by the hundreds to view the body before members of the family entered the church.

The impressive last rites began at 12 noon and concluded at 1:30 p.m.

On Monday night and Tuesday, as the body lay in state at the 1019 Edmonson Ave. home of her family, an estimated 500 persons viewed the body.

The Rev. Leon H. White of Metropolitan United Methodist Church gave the eulogy at the Christian Center.

The altar was banked with floral designs and momentos, including stuffed animals. A motor cycle flower spray was from her husband's motor cycle club.

For burial the popular teacher, married less than a year, was dressed in pink chiffon.

Her casket was bronze and lined with off-white antique satin.

Music was by Mrs. Laverne Spain and Miss Veda Taggart, soloists.

Also speaking were the Rev. Miss Era S. Ferrell, Emmanuel C.C. Church, Dr. Frank Entz, chairman, Physical Education Department, Morgan and Father Brian Cox, St. Pius V Roman Catholic Church.

Dr. William T. Brennan, who journeyed from Indiana University and the Rev. C.A. Kerns, Trinity Presbyterian Church, were also invited by the family to give additional remarks.

Sorors of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Inc., of which Mrs. Dickerson was a member, lined the recessional way with flowers and sprays.

Pallbearers were officers of the Baltimore City Police Department, Traffic Division (Southwestern District). They were: Robert Harrison, King E. Cooper, Robert Dean, James H. Thomas, Ronnie Grace and Richard Bernhardt.

Mrs. Dickerson is buried in Arbutus Memorial Park.

She was a 1968 graduate of Morgan State College and received a Master's Degree in Physical Education from Indiana University, last year. Mrs. Dickerson was also enrolled in the doctorate program at I.U.

Survivors include her husband, Traffic Officer Melvin E. Dickerson, mother, Mrs. Georgia V. Davis; father, Clarence E. Davis, Jr.; one brother, Clarence E. Davis, III; two grandmothers, Mrs. Jesse N. Valentine and Mrs. Lena Chapman and grandfather, Clarence E. Davis, Sr.

* * *

According to police reports, Mrs. Dickerson committed suicide Friday morning, Aug. 27, when she shot herself with her husband's revolver.

Traffic Officer Melvin E. Dickerson, 2900 block Glen Ave. told police he heard a gunshot from the bedroom.

The Southwestern District Traffic Officer, according to reports, says he opened the door and found his wife had shot herself.

.Oregon Brooks .last rites .held here

Funeral services were held for Oregon A. Brooks, 26, 3205 Fairfield Rd., on Wednesday at Kelson Funeral Home.

Mr. Brooks died Sunday at South Baltimore General Hospital of gunshot wounds.

He was employed at Harrison Walker Factory.

Mrs. Claudette Stewart, Oregon's sister, told the AFRO, "He enjoyed playing football and basketball."

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Awell Brooks Amanda, a teacher; six brothers: Lowry, Timothy, Haywood, Carroll, Christopher and Crannton Brooks; seven sisters: Mesdames Claudette Stewart, Joyce Brown, Etrel Simmons, Starlette Perdue, Misses Bernetta, Cheryle and Bessira Brooks.

He is buried in Auburn Cemetery.

PAGEANT AT JESSUPS

Miss Rosemary Hicks is 'Miss Personality'

Eight residents of the Maryland Correctional Institution for Women in Jessup participated in the first "Miss Personality Pageant" sponsored by the J.C. Jessup-Ettes. The organization of residents of the institution and sponsored by the Glen Burnie Jay Cee Ettes, was designed to help promote community involvement within the female institution.

The participants in the pageant were judged on talent, fashion, and response.

Judges were Delegate Hildegarde Boswell, member of the House of Delegates, Delegate Frank Conway, member of the House of Delegates (4th District) and presently running for City Comptroller against Hyman Pressman, and City Councilman Robert C. Marshall.

Miss Rosemary Hicks won first place for her very talented voice.

Miss Mildred Collins won second place for her version of the "soft shoe" tap dance.

Miss Sandra Griffin won third place for her talented singing.

Other participants included: Miss Roberta Hood, Miss Laura Smith, Miss Sara Abney, Miss Barbara Herbert, and Miss Denise Allen.

* * *

Mrs. Jacqueline Byrd, institution classification counselor, and Lonnie Rice, institution recreation supervisor arranged and directed the program with Miss Sylvia Veasey, associate of Patricia Stevens, acting as fashion consultant and coordinator.

Closing remarks were given by Harry Trautig, Superintendent of the Women's Institution and James Jordan, Acting Commissioner of Corrections.

Sixty-five outside guests attended along with all the institution residents.

The institution chaplin Rev. Monroe Simms in a duet with Miss Rosemary Hicks concluded the program with a beautiful hymn.

Shawe, HRC counsel, has resigned

The resignation of Stephen D. Shawe as general counsel of the Maryland Human Relations Commission has been accepted by Gov. Marvi Mandel, who commended him for his service.

Mr. Shawe resigned to return to private law practice. He will be associated with the law firm of Shawe and Rosenthal.

"Your service as general counsel," Gov. Mandel said in accepting the resignation, "has been of great benefit to the commission, and you have made a real contribution to the state's progress in the area of racial relations."

A native of Washington, Mr. Shawe, 30 is a 1965 graduate of Harvard Law School and was law clerk to Judge Simon E. Sobeloff, U.S. Court of Appeals, 1965-66.

He was on leave of absence as assistant U.S. Attorney 1967-1970

Gov. Mandel is expected to name his replacement soon.

Catonsville is successfully solving racial problems —

On Aug. 28, the fifth meeting of the Catonsville Community Relations Council was held at the Banneker annex at 10 a.m.

This was the most successful meeting to date in terms of greater participation, definition of purpose and the forming of action committees to implement the task of solving problems in the Catonsville community to relieve racial tensions and concerns.

The committees formed are: Police-Community Relations: Education: Employment: Housing Public-Relations: Recreation: Recruitment: Civic Organization: Youth: Church: Legal: Political. All concerned citizens who participate will be asked to be on a committee to the feel the greatest personal concern.

Many community representatives including school administration and students from the junior and senior high school, county parks and recreation, Catonsville recreation council, fair housing, board of education, PTA, police church and political leaders have attended many or all of the meetings thus far.

Larry Brandon was selected as chairman, Ray H. Lambert as secretary, a co-chairman will be selected later.

The next meeting will be held at the Banneker annex on September 11 at 10 a.m. All citizens of Catonsville are urged and invited to attend.

Orlinsky hits absenteeism in schools

Declaring that "the link between the rising truancy rates and the rising rate of juvenile crime is unmistakeable," Delegate Walter Orlinsky, candidate for president of the City Council, has characterized chronic school absenteeism as "a problem of underrated importance, but one which should be given top priority status and immediate attention."

Mr. Orlinsky noted that the tendency has been to regard the consequences of chronic absenteeism as limited to the area of education.

"While I certainly agree that truancy affects the education of the truant, as well as slowing down the educational process of his peers, far too little attention has been focused on the far-reaching results of truancy; namely, soaring juvenile crime rates," he charged.

According to the Baltimore school system's Department of Research, an average of 18 per cent, or 13,600 of the 70,575 junior and senior high school students are absent every day, he stated.

Gerald Curran backs anti-blockbusting bill

Gerald J. Curran, 3rd District House of Delegates member and a candidate for president of the City Council, is again pressing for legislation to halt block-busting and other unethical real estate practices.

He has written to State Senator John C. Byrnes, chairman, Committee on Real Estate Practices, Maryland Legislative Council, asking to appear in support of the senator's bill dealing with this matter.

"Support your Senate Bill 322 now before the Legislative Council," Mr. Curran stated, "because it attempts to balance the realtor's interest in the pursuit of his business, against the public interest in racial harmony and the homeowner's interest in being free of harassment and exploitation."

Mr. Curran was co-sponsor of several Bills at the last session of the General Assembly, which were designed to strengthen areal estate practices.

Free booklet on new court system

The League of Women Voters of Maryland has available free of charge the publication "District Court of Maryland."

On Nov. 3, 1970, the voters of Maryland ratified a Constitutional Amendment to create the District Court System. The District Courts of Maryland became operative Monday, July 5, 1971, in Baltimore and in the 23 counties. This statewide system replaces the hodge-podge lower courts of Maryland.

In announcing the availability of the "District Court of Maryland" publication, Mrs. Alan Y. Cole, president of the League of Women Voters of Maryland said: "Citizens of Maryland need to be made aware of the functions of this new court system, its jurisdiction, locations and other pertinent information."

2 firms warned

DETROIT — The United Auto Workers warned two companies that it will insist on renegotiating their labor contracts if cost-of-living pay increases are not paid.

The UAW called on officers of the Caterpillar Tractor Co., and Eltra Corp. to join the union in an appeal to the federal Cost of Living Council to let UAW members draw the increases despite President Nixon's wagefreeze.

UAW Vice President Pat Greathouse, director of the union's Agricultural Implement Department, said 30,000 UAW members in six plants are due for a four cent cost-of-living adjustment the first pay period after Sept. 1 at Caterpillar.

GOSPEL SINGERS

City singers have moved forward rapidly

By ANGIE THORNTON

The sound of gospel music is echoing all around us and it has become one of the greater traits for Baltimore for many of us are aware of the many wonderful gospel groups we have among us.

If you aren't aware of them, we hope in this column to make you aware of each of Baltimore's "Best" and also of the things these choirs are doing, where they are singing and when you can hear them.

There can never be anything to replace the soul fire of hand clapping and rejoicing that takes place when any kind of gospel music is being sung.

In the very near future in this column we intend to bring you information on such choirs as the Coppin State Gospel Choir, the Mary An Singers, the Beverly Sisters, Majestic Choral Ensemble, the S.S.B.T.U. Choir, the 1st Mt. Olive Freewill Young Adult Recording Choir, the God's Specializers, and many others.

Right now let's get back to the present. On Sunday, Aug. 29, at Mt. Olive Freewill Church, Fremont and Saratoga St., a grand gospel program was held.

The 4th District candidates for mayor, George Russell, city solicitor, Jim Lacy, and also three City Council members, Robert Marshall, Dr. Julian, and Mrs. Victorine Adams, were among the many people attending the program. The candidates each made a very informal speech about their candidacies and they asked the congregation to vote for them on election day.

Among the Gospel talent there was the 1st Mt. Olive Freewill Young Adult Recording Choir, the Chords of Glory, Prof. Mitchell and others. Despite the talk of who to vote for the congregation had a good time in the Lord through the music of each choir represented.

On Wednesday, Sept. 1 at Southern Baptist Church, the combined choirs of Southern Baptist Church presented a beautiful song fest with the Baltimore Crusade Revival Choir. The program began at 8 p.m. and each moment was spent enjoying the beauty of this choir which was conducted by Carter Robinson of Simmons Memorial Baptist Church.

On Sunday, Sept. 5, at Wayland Baptist Church the Fellowship Choir will celebrate their 6th anniversary. This will be a grand celebration and it includes not only Baltimore's best, but also some of the best from out-of-town.

On the program will be the Beverly Glen Singers, the Dandrige Ensemble, the Toney Curtis Singers, and from our own backyard the Majestic Choral Ensemble, Katie Jackson and many others.

All of Baltimore's gospel radio personnel will be there and for the congregation that attends I'm sure they will not forget this anniversary celebration for years to come.

Coming on the gospel scene soon will be the 5 Kings Pre-Anniversary to be held at the Patterson Asbbury AME Zion located at 2211 Division St. The pre-anniversary will be held on Sept. 5 at 7:30 p.m. Some of the grand guests will be the Asbury Intermediate Choir of White Marsh, Maryland, the 5 Stars, the Jordinaires and many others.

* * *

On Sept. 19 at St. Paul Baptist Church, the Inspirational Community Choir will be in concert. The program will also include the Young Harmoneers, the Silonaires, the Gospel Strand, and the Dynanettes.

The tickets for this soul fire program are only $1 and you may get them at the church, St. Paul's, located at 31st and the Alameda, or you may see Raymond Austin at 1543 Abbotson St.

The program will be starting at 3 p.m. and yours truly will be the mistress of ceremonies. For your enjoyment I'd advise you to come to this program if you make it to no other programs. This will certainly be a good time in the Lord.

1st Progressive Baptist Church will be holding a Bull Roast at 3220 Garrison Blvd. on Saturday, Sept. 18, from 12 noon until. The tickets are only $4.00 and you can get them from the church located at 3220 Garrison Blvd. or you may call Mrs. Fields at 542-1866.

We must end another gospel column for another week and wait until we meet again. You are still invited to let me know about any type of Church affair or gospel affair or information about a particular choir you may be interested n.

If you have something you would like featured in this column please don't fail to write to Gospel Column, care of the AFRO-AMERICAN Newspaper, City Desk, Baltimore, Md. 21203, P. O. Box 1857, or write or call Angie Thornton, 1102 Clendenin St., Baltimore, Md., 21217, 728-0587.

Dorseys, these policeman threw him to the ground, kicked him and sprayed mace on him. One officer shoved his night stick in Dorsey's groin, he stated.

According to Mrs. Dorsey, she screamed and when she saw this, she attempted to go to his aid.

When she went to her husband's side, one of the officers struck her in the stomach with his fist knocking her unconscious.

Mrs. Dorsey, who weighs 110 pounds, states she only recently recovered from a stomach operation.

This version of the incident was verified by James Wise, 32, a New Yorker and employee of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company who was in a car stopped ahead of the cab at the traffic light and by his sister, Mrs. Jean Kenny of Baltimore. Mrs. Kenny is Mr. Dorsey's aunt.

Dorsey, 29, was a Baltimore City Police officer for about a year and a half. He graduated as vice president of his class at the Baltimore Police Academy in 1968 and was appointed a railroad officer by Governor Millard Tawes. He attended Coppin State College and Southern High School.

TEACHER: Do you know why the flag of the U.S.A. has stars and that of Japan has the sun?

STUDENT: That's easy. Because it's daytime in Japan when it's night in the U.S.A.

Rushed to South Baltimore General Hospital by ambulance, Brooks was pronounced dead at 1:35 a.m.

William White, treated and released, is a resident of the 1300 block Montford Ave.

Witness Sylvester Middleton, 40, of the 3300 block Fairfield Road, standing at the bar, told Officer Sisson he saw the suspected murderer shot into victim Brooks.

Middleton identified the suspect a dark-skinned male, 30 to 35 years, standing about 6' 2" and weighing about 250 pounds.

The murderer, Middleton told the policeman, "ran out the front door, ran north on Remley St. about one block and got into a 1967 or 1968 tan color Buick or Pontiac bearing what appeared to be temporary plates."

Police have yet to apprehend the suspect.

While told police the suspect grabbed Brooks, threw him to the floor and fired three shots.

The first shot missed the slain Brooks, hitting White in the right leg.

The Police Department crime lab recovered a .32 caliber automatic casing near the victim's left leg.

With further investigation, a .32 caliber casing was dislodged from a wall in the lounge.

Oregon Brooks resides in the 3200 block Fairfield Road in Baltimore.

His brother, Lowry Brooks, of the 5000 block Cadillac Ave. went to South Baltimore General Hospital, but police report Oregon Brooks was dead by then.
