Mr. and Mrs. Little wed half century

Mr. and Mrs. James Little Sr., celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary Saturday, at the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Little.

Miss Ada Doris Johnson and James L. Little Sr., were married on July 27, 1921 in Rockingham, N.C. Seven children were born out of this union. They are James Little Jr., a merchant seaman; Mrs. Mary Middleton, a seamstress, Mrs. Ruth Dover, Licensed Practical Nurse, Mr. Julius Little, Anne Arundel County school teacher, Mrs. Pecolia Powell, Jasper Little and Jesse Little, owner of Jesse's Auto Clean-Up Shop.

There are 18 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

* * *

Mr. Little Sr. was a grocer in Pittsburgh, Pa. prior to moving to Baltimore in 1934. He worked as a stevedore from 1936 to 1943 at which time he terminated his tenure due to a heart condition. Later, he was employed as a fireman in the school system of Anne Arundel County, until his retirement in 1954.

His hobbies are reading the bible, TV shows, and enjoying various sports.

Mrs. Little loves to do a little of everything, especially sewing. She is a mother with a lot of qualifications, jack of all trades,

Miss Gwaltney wed to Michael Gaines

Holy Trinity Church was the setting for the beautiful and elegant wedding of lovely Carolyn Ann Gwaltney and Michael A. Gaines, Saturday.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Sara H. Gwaltney and the late Theodore W. Gwaltney. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward William Gaines.

The Rev. Robert Powell officiated at the double ring ceremony in a candle-lighted setting of pink and white gladiolas and carnations.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. Richard H. Hunt, the bride was radiant in a floor length gown of white peau de soie was fashioned "A" line silhouette with a sabrina neckline and short sleeves. Garlands of re-embroidered alencon lace encrusted with crystals and seed pearls were appliqued on the bodice, sleeves and skirt.

Her chapel length train of peau de soi was fashioned with alencon lace encrusted with crystals and seed pearls at the bottom and fell from a lace flange at the shoulders. A Juliet cap trimmed in seed pearls and crystals held her illusion veil.

She carried a cascade of gardenias.

Mrs. Cheryll Edwards, who was matron of honor, wore a floor-length dress of hot pink dotted swiss. Her high neckline, scooped back and bottom were trimmed in narrow ruffles matching the dress. A folded panel at the back fell from an empire waist and was tipped with a bow. Her head dress was a matching bow. She carried a cascade of pink daisies.

Bride attendants were Mrs. Monica Russell, Mrs. Irvina Mallory and Miss Cathy Gaines, sister of the bridegroom. They were dressed identically to the honor attendant, only in pastel pink with head dress of pastel pink bows. They carried cascades of carnations of graduating shades of pink.

The brides' mother wore a pink chiffon creation, with a finely pleated bodice, long pleated wrist length sleeves and skirt with a wide border of matching lace. A high neckline with narrow lace matched the trimming on the long sleeves. The bridegroom's mother was charming in a long sleeved crepe dress of heavenly blue with matching accessorsors.

Monica Hunt, who was the flower girl, wore a dress similar to that of the bride's attendants and carried a basket of pink daisies. Her twin brother, Mark, the ring-bearer, was dressed in a white Eton suit.

The best man was Benny H. Frazier. The ushers were James Watkins and David and Robert Gaines, brothers of the bridegroom.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Gloria Stokes who also accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Naomi Booker.

A reception was later held on the lawn of her godfather, Norman E. Smith in Catonsville, where the color scheme of pink and white was carried out.

The bride is a graduate of Western High School, was a debutante at the MR-De-So Cotillion. She received her B.S. degree in education from the University of Maryland in College Park. She is a member of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Polytechnic High School and is currently matriculating at the University of Maryland.

Following a wedding trip to Miami and the Bahamas, the couple will make their home at Adelphi, Maryland.

The wedding was directed by Mrs. Beatrice Pitts.

Corn plentiful for Labor Day cook-out

By VIRGINIA McLUCKIE, food economist

The last long holiday weekend of the summer is upon us.

It is also the last weekend before the starting almost schools. As you are planning for this gala time remember that food and fun go hand in hand.

In planning your meals — be it an at home meal, cook-out on the grill in the back yard, or a picnic — seasonal fresh items will be the best buys at the produce counter. Make sure you have an ample supply of fruits and vegetables on hand as everyone needs four servings daily from the basic four fruit and vegetable group.

* * *

Sweet corn from Maryland and nearby states is abundant in supply, low in price and both yellow and white corn is available. If you plan to cook corn in the husk on the grill coals allow the unhusked corn to soak 40-45 minutes so the husks are really wet.

This helps the corn to steam done and without burning up the husks. This roasted corn will have a different but delightful flavor when served with plenty of butter and other seasonings to taste.

* * *

Eggplant is a good vegetable to add to your menus. It is often overlooked in the market but as it receives more attention from the homemaker, it becomes a family favorite. Eggplant Parmesan is one of the more popular recipes. When buying egg plant look for one that is heavy for its size and firm.

It should have a glossy, uniform deep purple color and be free of blemishes. This member of the potato family can be stewed, baked, broiled, barbecued, or tried. Look for recipes that will appeal to your fammily.

Best buys in vegetables you will want to include on your market memo are sweet corn, tomatoes, new white potatoes, green peppers, cabbage, lettuce, cucumbers, snappeans and eggplant.

* * *

Peaches are now at their peak. It is the time for buying in quantity for canning, freezing, and making preserves. In storing fresh peaches at home be sure they are only one layer deep on a flat surface until eating ripe. Once ready to eat they should be kept in the refrigerator. Plan to use, fresh peaches everyday at meal time or for snacks.

Other local fruits in the market are cantaloupes and watermelons and some plums. You will also find a good supply of Bartlett pears, Rambo and greening apples for sauce, bananas, nectarines, and honeydew melons.

Church, family note Mrs. Thomas' century

"I can't make your birthday party this year, Grandmother," wired John W. Rose Jr. of Berkeley, Calif., "but when you make your 100th birthday, next year, I'll be there!"

And he was. He and 15 other grandchildren, 55 great-grandchildren and 29 great-great-grandchildren, to say nothing of six of the children of the celebrant, Mrs. Emma Thomas.

Not only was the 100th birthday of Mrs. Thomas celebrated by her family, but St. John's United Methodist Church, Patapsco Park, where she has worshipped since she was 18 years old, gave a reception in her honor. Mrs. Thomas is the oldest living member of the church, which she attends regularly. In fact, says Mrs. Thomas, Sunday is the high day of the week. At church she can visit with many friends she has known through the years.

The reception, Sunday, followed the morning worship, which was dedicated to Mrs. Thomas. Participants on the program included the Rev. George A. Stansbury, Mrs. Rosetta B. Lindsay, Mrs. Thelma Carter, Eugene Carter, the Rev. Mrs. Edith Williamson, Mrs. Addie Carter and Mrs. Thelma Carter, who was mistress of ceremony.

The service and reception were followed by a dinner given by her family at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hankins Sr. Other of her children hosting were Mrs. Florence A. Ross, James W. Hankins Sr., Mrs. Edith P. Jackson, Mrs. Harriet E. Hines, Frank Hankins and Alfred F. Hankins Sr.

* * *

Miss Marion Hankins, granddaughter, came from New York City for the celebration. Also present was a long time friend, 87-year-old Mrs. Ann Henson.

Mrs. Thomas is the widow of the late Steven Thomas. She is a native of Magothy, Md., Anne Arundel County, where she has spent most of her life.

Visitors' booth downtown

On Thursday, Sept 2, the Baltimore Area Convention and Visitors Council opened an information kiosk at Baltimore Street and Hopkins Place (between the Civic Center and the Mercantile Building).

The hexagonal structure will be open 9 am to 6 pm Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays.

The facility will be in operation through October and reopened next spring.

Among the beauty titles won by Gail Fisher, featured on "Mannix" on CBS, were Miss Transit, Miss Press Photographer and Miss Elkdom.

HEAD — Dr. Rebecca E. Carroll, director of Area "A" for Elementary Education, was named by the Board of School Commissioners last week to serve as Acting Assistant Superintendent for Elementary Education while Clarence J. Gittngs takes a year's leave for study at Yale University.

Group urges suburban home remodeling

The members of the Justice and Equality Association of Baltimore have announced they are in favor of having houses remodeled and rehabilitated in suburbs, as well as in the city.

Mrs. Viola Holland Washington, 1200 block N. Eden St., who heads the association, told the AFRO the group is urging all citizens to write to President Nixon about remodeling for suburban residents.

"President Nixon does not want these remodeled houses in the suburbs," she said. "Over 7,000 applications for house remodeling have been submitted, many of these by suburban residents."

Mrs. Winborne sends AFRO congratulations

Among many citizens writing on the AFRO's recent Awards Day is Mrs. Marian L. Winborne, who states:

"The AFRO Newspaper is to be commended for presenting their three part First Annual Awards Day program on Sunday, August 29, 1971.

"It truly showed that the strength is still in the city by publicly presenting the Honor Roll winners who have contributed of their talents and services so richly to the good of the city community.

"The honored outstanding AFRO employees know that they are appreciated while they are on the job doing their job well.

"The young clean block winners who successfully attempt to present a clean image of city property.

"May it be said that the Clean Block winners are to be complimented for their patience after waiting through the hour adult part of the program for their acknowledgement lastly and briefly.

"The many who were standing became fidgety, but those who were sitting were politely quiet."

Blueberries are a summer fruit staple. Look for berries with dark color and a silvery bloom. This bloom is a natural, protective waxy coating. Select berries that are plump, firm, uniform in size.
