Postal Alliance affirms its stand against intergration of unions

On Aug. 11-12 a Delegation from Local 202 met in Washington, with District President Alonzo Adams and other Local President's from District 11.

The Postal Reorganization and the Tentative Agreement was fully discussed by National Presidential Aides, John W. White, Eric Doyle, and Wyatt Williams.

The hearings at the Continental Hotel were covered by TV.

The main issue was that the Alliance wants all employees to know that the only part of this Teatative Agreement in force today is the pay raises that have been delayed by President Nixon's Executive Order.

The group reported that other Craft Unions are making "false statements" about what the Alliance can not do.

To clarify this matter a meeting was held August 21 at the Alliance Home, 2025 E. North Ave., Baltimore.

District II President Alonzo Adams and a group of local officers made up the panel to answer any questions that members had doubts about.

Many questions were asked such as merger and how we stand as far as reorganization goes.

Raymond Young, a former president of the local and a retired supervisor, answered by stating that the Alliance is needed now just as in 1913 when a few Old Timers met on Look Out Mountain in Tennessee starting a great organization to protect the Black Postal Employee.

Officials assert that the National Alliance of Postal and Federal Employees is the only Union that speaks out for the minorities.

No other Union but the Alliance has ever filed an Equal Opportunity Grievance or a Discrimination charge.

In short, they say the Exclusive Unions ignored the fact these conditions exist in the various Post Offices especially in the South.

"We warn all employees — do not be swayed by the smiling salesmen from the other unions that talk integration in the office, but do not preach it in the community," they state.

The National President Robert L. White, is studying the new controversial Tentative Agreement and he says he intends to use all legal means to fight any part that takes any basic rights of the Alliance to represent our members.

He states, "We must stick together in a common cause to protect our rights as Federal employees.

"Various shrewd methods are being tried by the Craft Unions to put us out of business.

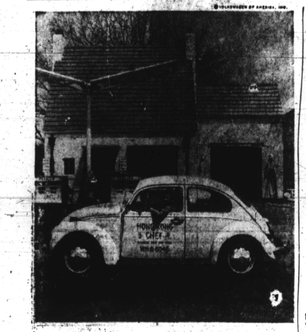
"They tried to stop our dues check-off rights and lost.

"We must remain steadfast and unmovable in this great fight for our Constitutional Rights which gives an employee the opportunity to choose his or her chosen representative, and not one you have to accept whether you like it or not.

"Using a quote from the Famous John Paul Jones, during a great Naval Battle against similar odds, we state the Alliance has just begun to fight."

The Annual Dinner Dance will be held Oct. 15 at Martin's West, Time 10 UNTIL 2 a.m.

In the Baltimore Local's 202 the slogan is "Stick with the Alliance because we will always stick by you!"



One hour later, it won't get hungry again.

If you need a car to make food deliveries with, doesn't it make sense to use one that won't eat up much profit?

It did to Mr. Chuck Lew, Chinese restaurateur, White Plains, New York.

His honorable Volkswagen has been delivering everything from wonton soup to leechee nuts for close to two years.

All the while averaging 25 miles to a gallon of gas, using pints of oil instead of quarts, and no water or antifreeze.

Since it can't boil over or freeze under, the egg too goes wherever it's going while it still yoangs.

Since VW never changes the way the car looks, spare parts are as readily available from his VW dealer as are spare ribs from his restaurant.

And since Mr. Lew charges a 50c delivery fee (and uses a car that costs roughly one-fourth of that for the average trip, he'd be out of his mind to trade it in.

Even for all the tea in China.

Mohammed, mountain meet in Colts-Raiders

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — A life-sized version of Mohammed going to the mountain could occur here tomorrow (Saturday) night when the Colts play the Oakland Raiders in the pre-season game for [illegible]ere's a chance Bob Brown, the Raiders' 290-pound offensive right tackle, might be ready to take a few licks against Bubba Smith, the great 295-pound defensive end of the Colts.

* * *

Brown has been sidelined recently with a sore right knee. He worked out Tuesday and Wednesday and may be ready for some playing time against the 1971 Super Bowl champions.

"I don't know yet if Bob will be able to play," said Oakland coach John Madden. "I don't intend to use him unless he's really ready. It's more important that he be healthy for the season opener against New England a week later."

Meanwhile Bubba says he is pleased with the changes in the Baltimore defensive strategy.

* * *

"John Sandusky (defensive line coach) has put in some new defenses that allow us more freedom," he declares. "I think we'll be a much improved pass-rush team this year. I feel like I can really play my game now. They're turned me loose.

"This year, like last, I feel like I'm going to have a great season. When people say defense in the National Football League, I want them to think Bubba Smith. Right now, they're thinking more Deacon Jones or Carl Eller."
