TROY BRAILEY SHOCKED

When informed that Howard Lyles, tre assistnat warden at the Maryland Correctional Institute in Hagerstown is attending the series of last rites for guards (all white) yesterday (Thursday) and today (Friday) Delegate Troy Brailey said, "I'm shocked."

Accordisg to a release Edward H. Johns, executive director sent from the Maryland Classified Employees Association Thursday, the delegation is composed of Lyles, Donald Keadle, a Hagerstown correctional officer; Al Korpiz, a Maryland Penitentiary officer; James Lehenky, from the House of Correction and Joseph Cook, director of MCEA Field Operations.

Mr. Johns told the AFRO that MCEA is picking up the tab for the two-day event when the Maryland delegation serves as honorary pallbearers and the amount spent for the excursion cannot be determined

Attica convids unarmed

ATTICA, N.Y. (UPI) — Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller, admitting rebel convicts had no guns, said yesterday nine hostages were shot to destr in the crossfire of assault forces retaking Attica State Prison.

The governor spoke at an early afternoon news conference in Albany after two widely known pathologists confirmed nine hostages killed in the revolt died of gunshot wounds.

A 10th died of wounds suffered in a beating when the riot broke out a week ago today.

"I don't think there was indiscriminate shooting by state police," Rockefeller said.

"I think the hostages were caught in a crossfire. The police converged from four different directions with instructions to shoot the prisoners who stood behind each hostage . . ."

Twenty-nine hostages were liberated as state troopers, National Guardsmen and sheriff's deputies stormed the correctional facility last Monday to end the five-day uprisng. Thirty convicts were slain in the assault.

Yesterday's autopsies were performed by Dr. Henry Siegel of Westchester County and Dr. Michael Baden, assistant New York City medical examiner, after an undertaker said he found no visible bullet wounds on one of the hostages, Richard Lewis.

A 10th hostlige died of a beating two days after the rebellion started.

Dr. John Edland, Monroe County Medical Examiner, who had performed the original autopsies, disclosed tre findings of the re-autopsies.

Edland said Lewis was shot in the back by a single bullet which lodged in his chest.

The latest findings came as a state investigation opened into the five-day rebellion.

One of the questions to be answered is who fired the shots that killed the nine hostages.

third with approximately 7,296 votes.

Mr. Valle, who elected not to appeal to the black voters, got little support in their areas.

William Donald Schaefer, in polling his winning 94,809 votes, gathered a vast majority of 80,126 in his community in what has now been termed a "white backlash vote."

He was able to gather just about 6,683 in black areas, though he and his supporters campaigned in those sectors.

Actually, his total in tre black areas was far higher than that of Mr. Mitchell's. His total in many, many precinct's even of the senator's own 4th District was higher.

AFRO tabulations of a projected black registration of 138,730, of the total city 375,000 plus, estimates that 49 per cent of these, or 68,700, voted in Tuesday's primary.

The vote in 120 sampling AFRO precincts, those which are wholly or a big majority black, showed these percentages:

Mitchell — 9 per cent; Russell — 80 per cent; Schaefer — 11 per cent; Lacy — 34 per cent.

Mr. Russell issued the following statement through the AFRO Thursday to his supporters and well-wishers:

"I wish to thank all those who supported me in my effort to become mayor of Baltimore and reunite the city.

"I am especially appreciative of the endorsement of the AFRO-AMERICAN Newspaper.

"I will continue in my efforts to build a brighter Baltimore, and to make it the kind of city and place for all people — black and white together.

"This has been my theme and will continue to be my theme — black and white together.

"I also extend my congratulations to Mr. Schaefer, for the kind of campaign he waged and the victory he earned."

In carrying the AFRO tabulations further in the race for president of the City Council, Paul Chester came in third with 31,570, of which 4,614 came from the white community.

Walter S. Orlinsky, a 2nd District House of Delegates member, won the presidency nomination with approximately 42,061 votes.

The bulk of them, 35,390, came from his white community.

In the aforementioned 120 sampling of AFRO precincts, Mr. Chester polled 53 per cent of the vote, and Mr. Orlinsky 13 per cent.

Hyman A. Pressman, incumbent, staged a convincing sweep against 4th District Delegate Frank Conaway in the comptroller race, with 100,903 to about 31,200.

Mr. Conaway polled just 5,996 of his total in the white community, while the black community gave Mr. Pressman a low 8,111 votes.

On the Republican side of the mayoral race, Dr. Ross Z. Pierpont, a wealthy surgeon and Democrat turned Renublican, won easily, and will face Mr. Schaefer in the November general election.

There were no Republican contests elsewhere other than in the 5th District City Council race, where Carl M. Adair and Thomas B. Mickle won with a white candidate, John S. Thomsen.

They will go into the general against the Democrats' Allen B. Spector and Councilmen Alexander Stark and Reuben Caplan.

The Council race Democratic-wise was marked by the nomination of a second black candidate in the 2nd District, Clarence "Du" Burns, an assistant recreation director at Dunbar High School.

Mr. Burns won on a team with Councilman Robert L. Douglass, and Robert J. Fitzpatrick, a white candidate.

In Northwest Baltimore's 4th District, Mrs. Mary B. Adams, a member of the school system and Sen. Verda F. Welcome's 4th District Democratic Organization, nosed out Councilman Robert C. Marshall for the third place nomination slot.

Mr. Marshall had been appointed to the seat about three years ago when Henry G. Parks Jr. resigned. He is a member of the Parks' Metro Democrats Inc.

Councilman Emerson R. Julian led the ticket with Councilwoman Victorine Q. Adams second. Both are Metro members.

Over in the adjoining 5th District, it appeared near the close of the ballot tallying at War Memorial Building Tuesday evening that Norman V. A. Reeves would win the third slot, nosing out incumbent Reuben Caplan, and thus integrate the district's Council contingent for the first time.

At close, however, Councilman Caplan had grabbed the 3rd place with 11,603 over 8,377 for Mr. Reeves, a well known activist.

Top winners were Allen B. Spector, a former House of Delegate member who pressed for abortion reform, and Councilman Alexander Stark, both of whom are considered liberals.

Elsewhere Democratic-wise, black candidates were also unsuccessful in the 3rd and 6th Districts.

However, the Burns nomination will raise to five the black seats in the 15 Council members from the city's six districts.

(2). Liberal — Miss Barbara A. Mikulski (1).

2nd District — Conservative (0); Liberal — Clarence Burns, Councilman Robert L. Douglass, Robert J. Fitzpatrick (3).

3rd District — Conservative — Councilmen J. Joseph Curran, Frank X. Gallagher, and newcomer Carroll Fitzgerald (3). Liberal — (0), though Mr. Curran has voted liberal on occasions.

4th District — Conservative (0); Liberal — Mrs. Mary B. Adams, Councilwoman Victorine Q. Adams, Councilman Emerson R. Julian (3).

5th District — Conservative — Councilman Reuben Caplan (1). Liberal — Councilman Alexander Stark, and Allen B. Spector (3).

6th District — Conservative — Charles H. Wheatley, Councilmen Dominic M. Leone and William J. Myers (3). Liberal (0).

2nd District Delegate Walter S. Orlinsky, who won the Democratic City Council presidency nomination, is considered a liberal, thus the tie-breaking vote on close issues.

Mr. Orlinsky campaigned on that point, that his vote would be the vote of the people.

The Republican Council primary in the 5th District, the only one in a district, produced two black nominations that could be developed into a threat for the Caplan conservative seat in the November general election.

They are Carl M. Adair and Thomas B. Mickle. Councilman Caplan was new man in Tuesday's primary in that district, and could be vulnerable, according to some observers.

$1,862 U.S. currency was also found in the Gatewood bedroom, reported Sabol.

If you believe a great bourbon has to taste heavy, you believe a myth.

Because I. W. Harper doesn't taste heavy.

There's a very simple, but secret, reason in the recipe. And it gives Harper a great bourbon flavor, without the heaviness bourbons had in the old days.
