Warning issued on 'blue-sky' vending sales

The Better Business Bureau warns investors taking flyers in the vending machine business to be on the alert for 'blue-sky'' propositions.

Executive Director Edwin M. Lockard urges inexperienced investors, ti investigate questionable promoters promising good profits when even reputable food-vending service firms are suffering economic decline.

• • •

Success in the vending field is determined by lo cating, soliciting and sel ling profitable spots for vending equipment. Prom ises are made by bluesky salesman and promoters to do all this.

• • •

However, BBB and National Automatic Merchandising Assiciation add, "If that were true, the bluesky salesmen of 'machine locators' would be in the business of serving machines for their own accounts."
