Bail dropped, Rosewood aide freed

Miss Edelcenia Ellen Jordan, arrested at her 1800 block E. North Ave. home last Saturday morning on 8 counts of simple assault upon 8 patients at the Rosewood State Hospital, was released from jail, Monday, on personal recognizance.

Bail was originally set at $1,000 per alleged victim of beatings with braided plastic by the 30-year-old aide, but Judge James Cardash of Towson Magistrate's Court dropped the bail because Miss Jordan had no police record and is living with her parents.

Her trial is set for Nov. 23 in Pikesville District Court.

Adair charges Caplan has been 'consistent civil rights foe'

Carl Adair, candidate for City Council in the Fifth District, has opened fire on incumbent Fifth District Councilman, Reuben Caplan, calling him a "consistant for of Civil Rigats causes."

In a prepared statement, Adair, a 37-year-old Assistant professor at Coppin State College and well-known black civic leader, said: "Reuben Caplan has an unparalleled record for obstructionism in the area of civil rights. He has been a consistent for of all civil rights causes.

"As far back as 1964 he attacked the City's moderate Community Relations Commission for supporting Civil Rights legislation. In 1965, he went on record in opposition of open housing and in 1966, he was censurid by the Baltimore Sun for attempting to cripple the city's fledgling Community Action program."

"In 1968, he assailed city school chief, Thomas Sheldon, as being more concerned with integration than education and then went on to imply that integration was irrelevant to quality education."

Mr. Adair also quoted in 1967, a daily newspaper which charged: "Reuben Caplan has a record of determined opposition to forward-looking legislation which has made him a primary obstacle to social betterment." That was four years ago and Caplan's record for unjust, unimaginative, unconstructive inaction still stands.

Adair further charged, Caplan had not only failed

A 17-year-old girl was returned to jail Wednesday morning after Criminal Court Judge Paul A. Dorf found her guilty of robbery with a deadly weapon.

Sentencing has been postponed until Nov. 10 pending a motion for a new trial for Miss Vernethea V. Morant, 1000 block Argyle Ave., for her alleged connection in the robbery of a 21-year-old mother who claims three girls robbed her of a $161 welfare allotment.

The girls, who are 15 and 16 years of age, are still awaiting trial in juvenile court.

Continentals off again on 'aid the kids' charity trail

with Lula Mackay

The Baltimore Continentals, by way of green and white bids invitations, cleverly put in verse by Continental Margaret Beamon, invites guests to their Annual Charity Ball. This year's affair, to be held at the Hunt Valley Inn on Friday, November 12th, promises to be one of elegance. Out-of towners from sister Continental chapters are expectid from Washington, New YORK, Philadelphia, New Jersey and Newport News.

Proceeds go toward the group's aid to disadvantaged children. Last year, contributions were made to the YMCA and Camp Glyndon for Diabetic Children for campership, and to Discover Scholastic Talent. Members sponsored a movie party, a holiday dinner, a halloween party, and an outing to the Mechanic Theatre for the children at the Children's Institute at Rosewood. A Valentint party was held at Crownsville for the children at the Winterrode School there.
