wood McCullough, sister, all of Trenton.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brooks of Pottstown, Pa., Mrs. Benjamin Foreman, Mrs. David Driver, Mrs. Rudolph Wheeler, Mrs. Charles W. Thomas, Mrs. William Brown, Mrs. Brigy Neal, Mrs. Alvera Lee, Mrs. Clara Woods, cousin; Miss Shelley Brown, daughter; Mrs. Rae Etta Brown and Miss Alpha McCullough, nieces.

Mrs. Wheeler entertained the Trenton guests and Mrs. Brown the following day at brunch . . . and Mr. Wheeler presented to her silver champagne goblets as a memento from the Wheelers.

Someone was talking about Berniece (Mrs. C.L.E.) Monroe and how striking she was at the Alpha Wives' Ball on Friday evening. But I'd like to say how utterly charming she was on Sunday, in her own ballwick.

On Sunday she wore a deep rosy red, floor length house ensemble, underpinned with green pants, as she shared hostessing duties with a committee from Saint James' Episcopal Church which was entertaining Dr. Prezell Robinson, president of St. Augustine's College. Dr. Robinson was speaker at Saint James' Sunday morning. Incidentally, another committee member, Mrs. Medford (Vernicee) Reynolds, wore a white wool hand-knitted pants suit.

To have a sip and a snack with the visitor were Nancy Wilkey, Dr. and Mrs. Donald O. Wilson, Mrs. H. Jewel Moseley, and Mrs. James E. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Elvira Leak, Hank Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Case, Mr. and Mrs. George Jude, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Dedmond, Lula Mackay, also a committee member, and Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Howard.

Someone was also talking about the Rich (Mrs. John), who was hostess to the Couples' Club on Sunday evening. She took the group to Maceo's for some of his fine food, and then to her apartment for some of her fine entertainment. I hear it took them all of 10 minutes to take care of the business meeting . . . the remainder was pure fun.

They missed Edna (Mrs. William) Stanford . . . who had been tucked in the hospital after injuries in a fall, but who is home now.

But about were Jim and Yvette Murphy, Dell and Bill Warrington, Dell and Ben Foreman, Medford and Vernicee Reynolds, Lonnie and Seretha Green, Hiram and Bea Butler, ary Elizabeth Law, and Bill Stanford.

Ethel also had guests, including Donald and Barbara Pattelson, Henry Parks and Willie Adams. Victorine was pooped at the end of a successful campaign that was destined to put her back in the City Council.

The Just Twelve Club is planning a "Christmas in November" trip to New York. They will stay at the Park-Sheraton Hotel and see the Christmas show at Radio City. Their trip is scheduled for the day after Thanksgiving.

Members of the club are Margaret Gassaway, president; Elizabeth Demby, Emma Dudley, Willa Mae DeShields, Carrie O. Johnson, Mary Jenkins, Jane Harrison, Bessie Womack, and Marion Jackson.

The Original Martiniques opened fall sessions with a meeting in the home of Mrs. Alma Perry.

Their important project at this time is a benefit for Provident Hospital on the 19th. They will hold forth at the Famous Ballroom on Charles Street.

Mrs. Myrtle Thompson is president of the club, this year. Other officers are Mesdames Helen Tucker, vice president; Susie Moore, treasurer; Dorothy Wickers, secretary; Pearl Bonner, business manager; Hester Greenaway, financial secretary; Irene Harris, chaplain; and Alma Perry, publicity director.

Other members are Mesdames Edna Weldon, Ruth Paysour, Victorine Adams and Charlotte Johnson. Mrs. Johnson is just out of the hospital and back at her home on Pulaski St.

Pot Pourri: Preston Duncan, who headed the International Band to which Baltimoreans danced for a decade or more, is back at his home (1623 N. Caroline St.) after a stint in Johns Hopkins Hospital. Mr. Duncan had a freak accident, falling as he was getting into bed, and breaking a leg.

Mrs. Vivian Carter Mason will be the speaker for the Saint James' Episcopal Church Women's annual breakfast, Sunday morning. The women and girls of the church will have corporate Communion at the church at 7 a.m. and then go to the Emerald Gardens for the breakfast session.

This year the hostesses are the members of the Saint Mary's Guild of which Mrs. Ida Swanson is warden.

The Middle Atlantic District of the National Association of Business and Professional Women held an all-day planning session at the Holiday Inn, Pimlico, Saturday. The district governor, Mrs. Gracye M. Roberts of Malvern, N.J., and the vice governor, Mrs. Janet Harris of Yorktown, Va. presided at the sessions. From the local chapter were Mrs. Edna D. Johnson, who heads the Baltimore chapter; Mrs. Shirley Smith recording secretary of the local group; and Mrs. Marion Jackson. Business included the setting of the 1972 conference in Frederick, Md.

The Baltimore club has scheduled its Christmas dinner at Forest Manor, for December 7; and its dinner dance on the evening before (the sixth) at Martin's West.

The National Council of Negro Women's luncheon on December 4, will have Miss Dorothy Heights of New York as speaker. The affair will be in the Sheraton Baltimore Inn.

Mrs. Sarah Rayne and Mrs. Marion Jackson have been named to the board of the new integrated Civic League.

ILLUSTRIOUS WOMEN:

Mrs. Chamberlain has enrolled 25,000 students

by PAULA BROOKS

"Sometimes I spend 12 hours a day working, because I feel that someone else is gaining," said the fashionable Mrs. Helen F. Chamberlain, coordinator of the NYC (Neighborhood Youth Corps) program.

Since the beginning of the program in 1965, NYC located in Dunbar High School, has enrolled 25,000 school-aged students in summer employment. Mrs. Chamberlain, a former instructor in the Baltimore city public schools, became coordinator of the program in 1966.

"I love what I'm doing," she said, "but its reached the point where we can't do any more now, most of our answers are 'no', because of our limited budget."

Continuing, she said, "We have 3,000 applications from students seeking jobs, but we can't place them, this frustrating."

Mrs. Chamberlain explained that the program is set up specifically to give employment to students in certain income brackets. "About 45 per cent of the students enrolled in the program receive some sort of public assistance," she said.

"Sometimes the income that these children bring into their families from NYC is the only salary coming into the home. It keeps youth occupied in the summer with constructive and meaningful work, in addition to instilling in them a sense of pride in their earning power," she stated.

The child enrolled in the program must be going to school each day, this is a must.

Some of the work which NYC enrollees are employed in are USO, the United Methodist Church, Community Schools, Enoch Pratt Library, Family and Child Societies, Baltimore Campfire Girls, Coppin State College and Morgan State College.

NYC is a national program. When asked how it was faring in comparison to other NYC programs in the country? Mrs. Chamberlain replied, "operational-wise, it is a model program, slot-wise (jobs available), we don't have a sufficient number."

MRS. HELEN F. CHAMBERLIN

She said that the experience NYC enrollees receive at various work stations provide excellent training in later jobs.

Many NYC enrollees, upon leaving the payroll, find full-time jobs immediately in areas where they were once working as students.

The program which was funded $2 million this summer, is set up for two sessions, the summer session employ school children for eight to ten weeks. This summer 7,000 students were able to work at $1.60 an hour.

The winter session (in school) is considerably cut, only employing 425 students, Mrs. Chamberlain said, "at least 10-25 children a day walk through that door with tears in their eyes, seeking work, but they cannot be employed because of the budget."

Married to Malclom Chamberlain, head of the department of Social Studies at Carver High School, she belongs to Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Bridge Guest Club, treasurer, and is past president of the Continentals and QX.

The Chamberlains are members of the Epworth United Methodist Chapel.
