Earlier in the day, Georgiana (Mrs. Paul) Chester had gathered Baltimore Girl Friends at her newly decorated and perfectly beautiful Whitney Avenue home for cocktails, luncheon and club reports.

It was a change of pace for the girls, whose heavy schedules have caused them to do their lunching in smart clubs and restaurants about town for the past couple of years. 'Twas not only a home setting but home cooking that provided that warm and close atmosphere.

Attending this session were Theda Wilson, who presided, Irma Roy (who wore the best lo king heavy cream-colored wool pants suit, the coat lining and blouse of the same exotic print), Laura Jones, who is looking positively radiant these days; Ruth Jennifer, Catherine Wilson, Margaret Driver Mae Parrott, Gwendolyn Lynch, Eliza Robinson, Anne Davis, Agnes Patterson, Gaynell Spaulding, Bernice Chatman, Elizabeth Stewart, Gwendolyn Roper and Lula Mackay.

The Firesiders met with Lillian Bell Saturday. She's done her club room over in a soft peach to accent her furniture.

Guests and club members had a gay time playing "In Between" and enjoying a luscious sea-food dinner.

Guests about were Dot Wood, Iona Collins, Thelma Bell, Pinchie Dinkins. Club members about were Ada Weaver, Irma Dancy, Eula Watkins, Frances Ashby, Ida Peters, Milburn Brown, Bea Nixon, Helen Cothorn, Bea Nixon, Dot Brown, Iris Mapp, Florence Ringgold.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Owings celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage, recently.

Mrs. Owings is the former Miss Gladys Day, and the Owings family is one of the best known of the "old Baltimore" group. Mr. Owing, now retired, was one of the best known of the Department of Education staff.

Mr. and Mrs. Owings are parents of five children. The family now includes Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Owings Jr., of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Edwarl Owings of Harbor City, California, Melvin Owings of Philadelphia and Robert Owings of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Owings also have 14 grand children.

The newlywed Howard H. Murphys are at home in Morgan Park.

They announced their engagement at a Sunday club meeting, then hustled dinner with their attendants down to the courthouse on Friday afternoon where Paul L. Chester, clerk of the Court of Common Pleas performed the brief civil ceremony.

The new Mrs. Murphy, a divorcee, is the former Louise Gee Robinson, a Baltimore city school principal. Mr. Murphy is the AFRO comptroller, who is active in a number of civic groups. He is a widower.

After the ceremony, the newlyweds went on to their favorite meeting place for the A. Paul Mosses (Bettye); at whose home they first met a year ago. Later, they went to the Northeast Symphony openings.

Afterwards, a number of symphony guests dropped in their Morgan Park home to congratulate them.

For her wedding, the bride wore a two piece beige knit suit with matching boots. She wore his gifts to her, an orchid corsage and a jade engagement ring to which he added the matching wedding band during the ceremony.

His cousin, Mrs. Moss, and his brother, Judge William H. Murphy Sr. were attendants. Judge Murphy stood in for Mr. Moss who was delayed at a meeting.

Other in attendance at the ceremony were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ossarew Gee Sr., her brother, Ossarew Gee Jr., his sister-in-law, Mrs. William H. Murphy Sr. and his cousins, Mrs. George Lottier Sr. and John H. Murphy 3rd.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sorrell, Morgan Park neighbors.

Surprise guests at the wedding were former faculty members at Tench Tilghman Elementary School No. 13 where the new Mrs. Murphy was principal until this year when she was promoted to principal of Franklin Square Elementary No. 95.

They included Mrs. Peggy Fiorella, Mrs Aileen Boone, Mrs. Janet Keithe, Mrs. Bettye Loewer, Mrs. Carolyn Crawford and Richard Barzyk.

Mrs. Campbell to talk on Africa

Mrs. Abdella Campbell, treasurer of the National Board of the YWCA, will address an association-wide meeting of the Baltimore Area YWCA on December 3 at 1912 Madison Avenue.

The subject of Mrs. Campbell's talk will be on her two-week stay at the University of Ghana, Legon, Africa, where she attended the World YWCA Council quadrennial meeting.

Mrs. Campbell was an accredited visitor among 400 women from some 60 countries attending the Council.

Mrs. Campbell is a member of the board of visitors of Morgan State College, a member of the board of the Health and Welfare Council, and is chairman of the Stewardship Drive for the Provident Baptist Church, Baltimore.

Housed for the two week period is the dormitories of the University with native Ghanian women, the representatives had an opportunity to learn African life style at first hand. Though African culture goes back centuries, most African countries have gained independence in the last 10 to 15 years. Many things are still made by hand. Building the University has a ghigh priority for Ghana.

• • •

Representative of varied life and age groups, participants studied the role of women asd girls in the world today, problems of human environment, the issue of disarmament and peace, and the YWCA's local, national and international role in social and economic development.

The Council is the World YWCA's main legislative body. In the last 20 years, it has met in Austrialia, Denmark, Mexico, England and Lebanon but this was the first time on the continent of Africa. The Council elected officers and an executive committee for 1971-1974 and adopted policy and program for this four-year period.

The World YWCA is headquartered in Geneva, Switzerland. Program is conducted in 80 countries. Classes, day nurseries, home industries and residences are maintained to help people help themselves.

The public is invited to attend the talk which will follow a dinner held to raise money to support the world-wide efforts of the YWCA. Chili will be served from four to seven p.m. at a cost of $1.50 for adults.

Freedom House discusses Upton housing

Freedom House members, Nov. 23, discussed the Upton housing situation.

George Ball, new acting Chief of Field Operations for the Department of Development for the western area, explained what is being done to upgrade housing in the Upton area.

Ball replaces George Parish at the Mt. Royal-Fremont office of HCD.

Sgt. Stanley of the S.T.O.P. Squad was present to receive new complaints and to report on previous ones that the Squad has dealt with.

Dr. Lillie M. Jacken, advisor to Freedom House attended the session as well as Mrs. Juanity J. Mitchell, counsel, and the Rev. T. C. Freman, chairmen.
