24 youngsters vie for McCormick nod

Twenty-four high school athletes will be honored as McCormick Unsung Heroes tonight (Friday) and, from among them, one will be selectid as the Unsung Hero of 1971.

The student athletes will represent each of the twenty-four public, parochial, and private high schools competing in the football program under the auspices of the Maryland Scholastic Association.

Jesse Owens, the greatest track-and-field star in American history, who has devoted much of his time in recent years in helping underprivileged boys, will address the McCormick honorees and the 350 other guests, who will include state and city officials, civic and military leaders, school administrators, coaches and others interested in athletics at the Hunt Valley Inn.

Chuck Thompson, nationally known sports commentator and long-time voice of the Baltimore Colts and Orioles, will be Master of Ceremonies at the dinner.

* * *

Following are the athletes and the schools which nominated them:

Leonard Addison, Mervo; Charles K. Bohn Jr., Mt. St. Joe's; Howard S. Carter, Carver; Emerson L. Coleman, Gilman; Eric Couch, Forest Park; Eugene Davis, Poly; Kevin C. Healy, Gibbons;

Frederick J. Heldrich, Boys' Latin; Frank Johnson, Dunbar; Harry Kogelschatz, McDonogh; Kurt Kuhn, John Carroll;

Edmund McCaffray, Friends; Dennis Mills, Patterson; Robert Mryncza, Curley; Andy Nelson Jr., Calvert Hall;

Walter Owens, City; Goldie Phillips, Douglass; John Michael Recher, St. Paul's; William Sivels, Edmondson;

Steve Smith, Northern; Steve Underwood, Southern; John Urbanski, Loyola; Joseph Wade, Northwestern, and Court Williams, Severn.

'Bye, Bye Birdie' this weekend

Bears open cage season Monday at Delaware

Morgan State College basketers, currently involved in a local collegiate tournament, open their 1971-72 Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference campaign Monday night against Delaware State at Dover.

Under new coach Nat Frazier, the Bears are contemplating one of the best seasons they have experienced since 1958, when they finished fourth in the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association tournament.

In recent years ineffective recruiting of young talent has been a major factor in the relatively poor Morgan basketball records. But Frazier appears confident that things are looking up under athletic director Embra Bowie.

* * *

The freshman coach is particularly high on two of his first-year prospects. They are Marvin Webster and Jeff Briscoe, the former a 6-10 center from Edmondson High and the latter a strong Prince Georges product who stands 6-4, and can play center or forward.

Both had outstanding high school careers and both were recipients of numerous offers from major colleges. Bowie nailed them, however, and had them waiting when Frazier reported for work after resigning his assistant coaching job at Illinois last spring.

* * *

Phil Pugh, who was a member of the last MSA powerhouse at City, is captain of the tam and works with sophomore Bill Brundidge at forward.

Nat Frazier high on freshmen

Brundidge is one of three youngsters from New Jersey who was delivered to Morgan personally by former Bear great Ernie Garrett, now a practicing physician in Newark.

* * *

Chet Davis, at 5-10 the smallest member of the five likely to start, makes up for his lack of height with quickness and ball control. He teams in the backcourt with 6-3 Ronald Moss.

The home court season commences for Frazier and his charges Tuesday night. Lincoln University, her basketball program greatly curtailed, will be at Hurt Gym for the annual meeting between the two teams. — LACY

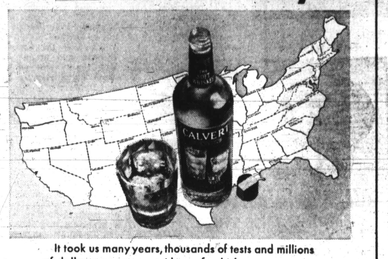
Why doesn't somebody else make a whiskey taste soft? It's a free country.



It took us many years, thousands of tests and millions of dollars to come up with a soft whiskey. If somebody else wants to make a whiskey that tastes as soft as Calvert Extra, they'll have to do it the way we did. The hard way.

Rent those cabins for summer now

Prospective renters of the 39 cabins in Maryland's State Parks system next season are advised to make their plans in December, according to the Department of Forests and Parks.

Applications for reservations will be received between December 1 and December 31. On the first working day of the new year a lot drawing system will be employed for the selection of successful applicants for the limited capacity available.

Reservation applications should be addressed to the Superintendent of State Parks, Department of Forests and Parks, State Office Building, Annapolis, Maryland 21401.

Afro program held at U. of Md. Eastern Shore

PRINCESS ANNE — The University of Maryland, Eastern Shore presented a unique cultural program on Afro-American Culture, Thursday, Dec. 2.

Coordinated by Glenn Curtis, the program featured a four-part extravaganza depicting Afro-American heritage through art, dance, music and drama.

Some of the finest gospel groups on the Eastern Shore appeared such as the "Zionaires," the "Johnsonetts," the "Guiding Lights," and others. The UMES "Young Jazz Society" provided instrumental entertainment.

The UMES Art Department headed by Mr. Jimmie Mosely had on display some of the finest Afro-American works produced by the faculty and students at the institution.

Miss Lois Smith, Instructor of Physical Education at the University choreographed a dance number incorporating the modern, traditional and innovative techniques of interpretive dance. Featured soloist was senior student, Donald Whittington.
